SEA BRIGHT WRECKED BY FIERCE HURRICANE

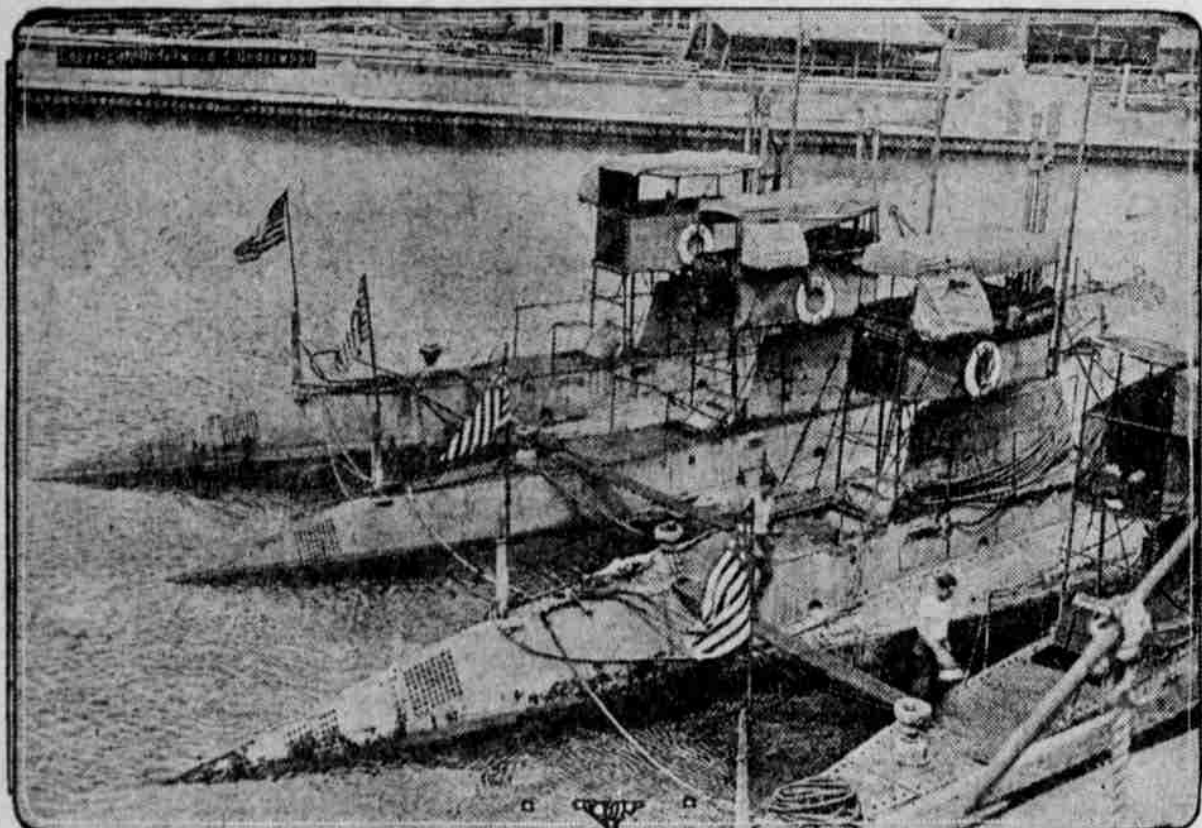

A view of the ocean front at Sea Bright, N. J., showing the wreckage left in the wake of the angry sea, which was lashed into a fury by a 95-mile hurricane that almost destroyed this summer resort on the Jersey coast. Enormous damage was caused by the undermining of the foundations of residences, which resulted in the almost complete destruction of the homes, sending hundreds fleeing into the streets, poorly clad to withstand the biting winds.

COLORADO STRIKERS MARCH TO MEET GOVERNOR

Procession of labor leaders and striking miners on the march to the state capitol at Denver, Colo., to present to Governor Ammons their protest against the sending of militia to the southern Colorado coal fields. "Mother" Jones is seen at the head of the column.

SUBMARINES AT COLON FOR DEFENSE OF CANAL

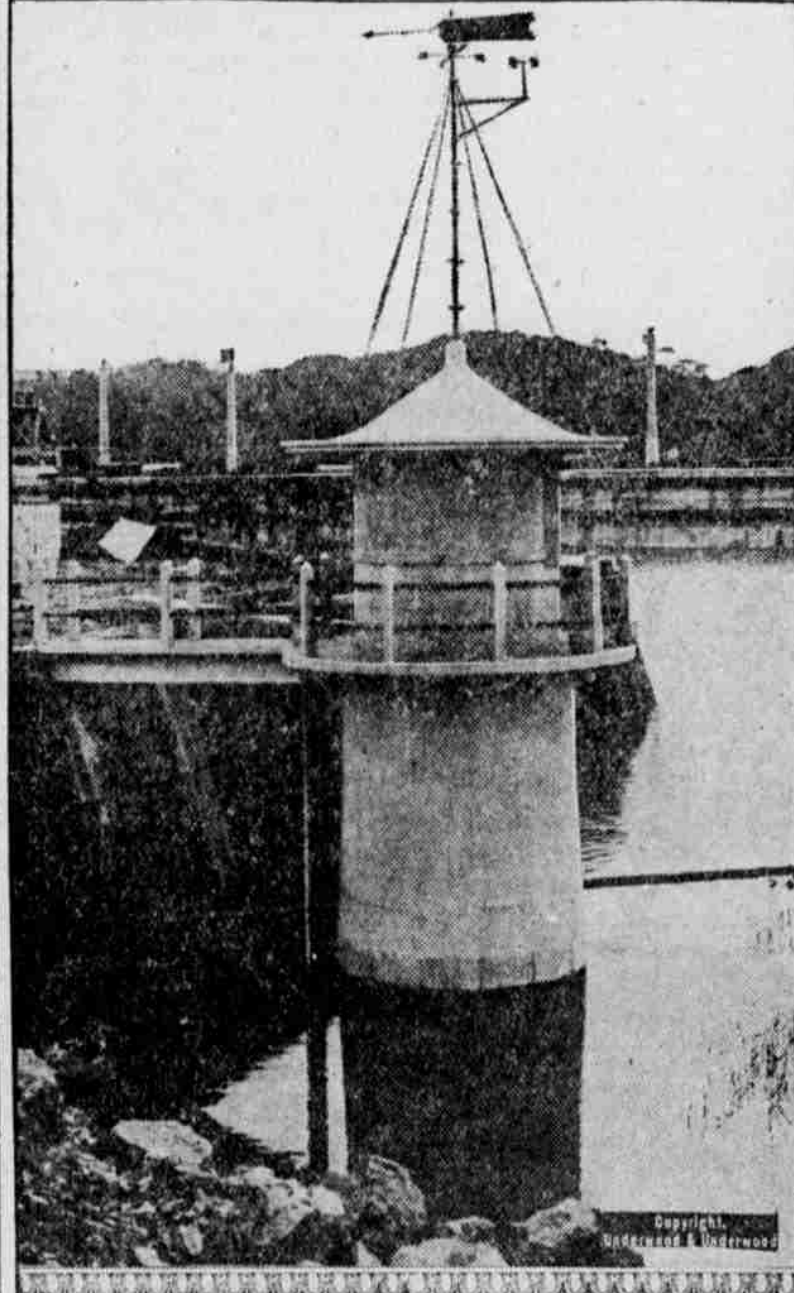

Four of the five submarines which, accompanied by a collier and the monitor Montauk, made the record-breaking voyage from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Colon, Panama, where they are now anchored at the new concrete docks, waiting to pass through the canal. They will be used in the defense of the Pacific entrance to the canal. This is the first time that submarines have made such a long sea voyage.

MISS MARGARET DRAPER

When Mrs. William F. Draper gave her costume ball, the most elaborate social affair held in Washington, her daughter Margaret, who assisted in receiving the guests, was dressed, as here photographed, as Marie d'Anjou, the wife of Charles VII. of France.

WEATHER STATION ON PANAMA CANAL

One of the stations along the Panama canal where an automatic record is made of the wind velocity, wind direction and rainfall. The height of the water in the canal is also recorded automatically by a register installed in the concrete tower. The rainfall and water supply are important factors in the success of the canal.

COLD STORAGE TRAIL WARM

Officials Believe Developments Will Lead to Prosecutions.

VIGOROUS PROBE KEPT UP

Combination Alleged To Be Among Commission Merchants and Producers, Not Plant Owners.

Washington.—Investigation of the cold-storage "trust" by the Department of Justice has progressed so far that officials are confident they have found trails which eventually will lead to prosecutions in the courts.

Although the operations of the dealers, believed to be leaders in the combination, have been confined to several large cities, the department has redoubled its vigor in the last few weeks. Officials expect to uncover evidence which will connect these dealers and make them amenable to the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

Within the last few days requests have reached Washington from several United States District Attorneys for help in carrying on the investigation. Several special agents have been detailed for this work. Their reports probably will be made to Washington in the next few weeks and the Attorney General and his assistants will determine the advisability of beginning anti-trust proceedings.

Although department officials are unwilling to discuss the cold-storage investigation, it is known that the general impression that the owners of cold-storage plants are involved in the alleged combination is incorrect. In only a few instances do the owners make use of their plants for storing their own products. In practically every case commission merchants and producers themselves rent cold-storage space. The combination which the department will prosecute if sufficient evidence is forthcoming will be among the commission merchants.

TO MARRY AT EMBASSY.

Miss Belle Willard and Kermit Roosevelt Engaged.

Washington.—Kermit Roosevelt, second son of former President Theodore Roosevelt, will marry Miss Belle Willard, the eldest daughter of Col. Joseph E. Willard, of Virginia, the American Ambassador to Spain, next spring, according to an announcement made by cable to friends of the Ambassador in Washington and Richmond. It is understood that the wedding will take place at the American Embassy in Madrid, but the exact date and place were not stated in the cablegram. The news of the engagement came as a complete surprise to Miss Willard's friends in Washington. While it was known that she and young Roosevelt were friends, not the least idea was entertained that his attentions were of tenderer nature.

COUNTY DRY AFTER 41 YEARS.

90 Saloons in Delaware County, Pa., Close At Midnight.

Media, Pa.—For the first time in 41 years no intoxicating liquors will be legally on sale this week in Delaware county. The 96 saloons and bottling establishments and one brewery in the county closed indefinitely at midnight Saturday and the county will be "dry" Monday for the first time since 1872, when, following a bitter fight between the liquor and anti-liquor forces, the Legislature passed a special law stopping the sale of liquor.

FIVE POSTMASTERS RENAMED.

Offices in Allegany, Howard and Baltimore Counties Filled.

Washington.—Five Maryland postmasters of Howard, Baltimore and Allegany counties were reappointed to their former posts, after having passed the civil service requirements. In Allegany county Jesse M. Dicken was reappointed at Gilpen; Richard A. Norris, at Piney Grove, and Austin D. Twigg, at Twiggtown. Connolly O. TARIFF YIELD KEEPS UP.

Loss in Revenue Not As Great As Had Been Estimated By Experts.

Washington.—Treasury officials are inclined to believe that the Underwood-Simmons Tariff act will produce several millions more revenue annually than had been estimated by tariff experts. The Treasury expected to see revenues fall off about $45,000,000 a year, but reports for the first two months under the new law have led to the belief that this estimate is excessive.

TO REVISE CUSTOMS RULES.

Work Expected To Be Completed Within 12 Months.

Washington.—A thorough revision of customs regulations will be undertaken immediately by a committee appointed by Assistant Secretary Hamilton of the Treasury. The last revision took four years, but Secretary Hamilton says the work can be done this time in 12 months. Many regulations, made unnecessary by the new Tariff law, will be eliminated and others will have to be rewritten.

DOING THE TANGO ON THE ICE AT ST. MORITZ

When it comes to the tango, the ballroom is not the only place where this dance, imported from Argentina, is performed. Here we see, during the height of the season at St. Moritz, the fashionable resort at Switzerland, the tango as it is done on ice skates. The photograph portrays Miss Melca, the well-known English skater (front); Baron de Meyer, royalty's photographer (center), and Lord Carburg enjoying the dance.

New York Wiping Out Evils.

Into the homes of the people light and air have penetrated, and they have acquired legal claims. The first census taken under the new tenement house law found 361,000 dark and airless rooms in houses unfit to live in, half of them without any windows at all. There are still more than sixty thousand windowless rooms left in Greater New York; but they are going. When the last of them is gone we shall be able to fight tuberculosis, and win. The dark halls have been lighted. Life in the tenements has been made measurably endurable and safe. Not in the ten years since the new law was passed has a human life been lost by fire in any of the hundred and odd thousand houses, for lack of means of escape or other faults of construction. In the ten years preceding 1894, 256 persons perished in tenement house fires, not counting the firemen who died in efforts to save them.—Jacob A. Rills, in Century.

Vogue of Postage Stamps.

Stamps of various kinds have been used and for various purposes, but assuming that you mean postage stamps, they were first used in England with the introduction of cheap postage in 1840. They were introduced in Russia in 1845, in Switzerland in 1846 and in the United States by act of congress March 3, 1847, the first issued being 5-cent stamp bearing the head of Franklin and a 10-cent one with a portrait of Washington. These stamps are now rare and valuable. The reduction of postage rates in 1851 gave us a new set of stamps of 1, 3 and 12-cent denominations and other changes were made later as rates of postage changed.

SCOTTISH RITE TEMPLE IN WASHINGTON

On the Avenue of the Presidents in Washington stands this imposing new Scottish Rite Temple which, when completed and furnished, will have cost approximately $2,000,000. On the exterior there are 33 columns representing the 32 degrees of the Scottish Rite Masonry. The first floor of the building contains a room for each state delegation, and on the second floor is a large auditorium.

Women's Two Ages.

Joax—Shakespeare told us all about the seven ages of man, but he didn't say anything about the two ages of women.
Hoax—And what are the two ages of woman?
Joax—The age she says she is and the age she really is.

Where Money Talks.

"Pop?"
"Well, Ignatz?"
"Does money talk?"
"So the saying goes, my son."
"Did you ever hear it?"
"Oh, yes, Ignatz; I've often heard it jabbering away in the boxes at the opera."—Youngstown Telegram.

Quite So.
"Repair work has cost me more than the original machine," stormed the physician.
"Repair work does pay better," said the automobile man. "You find it so in your business, don't you, doc?"
And the doctor finally admitted that he did.

Impossible.
"Lend me another $10, will you, old man?"
"Say, why don't you go to work and earn money?"
"Can't. People would think the governor had disinherited me, and that would ruin my credit."—Topeka Capital.

His View.
She—Our minister will exchange pulpits next Sunday with Rev. Mr. Talkington.
He—Yes? An exchange of pulpits is like a horse trade. It is hard to tell which congregation is going to get the worst of it.—Puck.
