CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

See Reisers' new advertisement this week.

Mrs. Susan Rummel has a bad attack of grippe.

Mrs. Margaret Gress is quite ill with a severe attack of grippe.

In another column you will find a new Racket Store advertisement.

Mrs. James W. Rummel had a light stroke of paralysis last Saturday night.

Postmaster S. B. Woollet has been "under the weather" for several days.

Mr. Geo. S. Mellott, of Pleasant Ridge, spent a few hours in town on business last Monday.

Read Shapiro Brothers' Clearance Sale advertisement found on the fourth page of this paper.

Mrs. Jane Kerlin, of Alexandria, Pa., is visiting her cousin S. B. Woollet at the Washington House.

J. S. Hill, near Needmore, called for a little chat with the editor last Monday, and gave us some news.

The little daughter of Sheriff James J. Harris, who has a severe attack of pneumonia, is improving rapidly.

The thunder and lightning we had last Tuesday night indicates either a warm or a cold spell of weather—take your choice.

Mrs. Anna Fulton, and Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Webster Mills, were shopping in town yesterday, and paid this office a business call.

Feeding quail when the ground is covered with snow is becoming popular. This is as it should be. Deeds of mercy never fail to bring a reward.

Arthur Shimer, of this place, was elected by the Tod township school board last Saturday to fill out the unexpired term of the Knobsville school made vacant by the resignation of Miss Grace Lodge.

Twins—a boy and girl—were born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Cromwell on Tuesday of last week. The boy lived but a few hours, and on Wednesday, was interred in the cemetery at the Cromwell church in this county.

After having ministered successfully to scores of grippe patients during the past few weeks, Dr. Mosser is just now "trying out" some of his pills on himself. Doctors look just like other people when Grippe is looking for a victim.

Among the many buildings crushed to the ground under the weight of the heavy snow that fell at the beginning of this month was the stable belonging to Mrs. Harriet Ashwell, of Knobsville. Mrs. Ashwell was in the building when the crash came, and made her escape in the nick of time to avoid being caught by the falling timbers.

While hauling wood on a sled on Wednesday of last week, one of George H. Unger's horses fell and broke one of its legs. Of course, the animal had to be killed, and now George is in the market for one to fill out his four horse team. He has a couple of nice colts coming on, but he cannot wait for them to take the place of the one lost.

The anti-liquor license people in Franklin county are putting up a vigorous fight this week. A batch of 20,000 pamphlets containing the names of the bondsmen and signers for applications for license for the several licensees in Franklin county, together with the names of the attorneys who are lending their aid to secure the licenses, was sent all over the county Monday.

David West, a bachelor 41 years of age, living in the family of Rolla Overcash at Guilford Springs, Franklin county, committed suicide last Saturday night by shooting himself through the brain and dying almost instantly. Mr. West was a man of some means, and owned the house in which the Overcashes lived. Recently he has showed signs of weakening mind, and got the idea into his head that there was some body about the house hiding and trying to find him to "get him."

Veteran W. H. Walters, of Crystal Springs, came to town Tuesday evening to be present at the meeting of the Pension Board on Wednesday.

Jacob Kauffman, of Johnstown is visiting among his Fulton county friends. Mr. Kauffman called at the NEWS office while in town yesterday.

Bert Souders and Tobie Glazier butchered three hogs for W. H. Duffy at Webster Mills last week, that dressed twelve hundred pounds. Not so bad for "runts."

A man with a white leghorn hen, in a basket, on a Yonkers trolley car, discovered he had no carfare. The hen laid an egg which the conductor accepted in place of a nickel.

Sheriff J. J. Harris's little daughter Ted who was very ill with pneumonia for several days is now out of danger, and the Sheriff is grateful to his many kind friends and neighbors who rendered such valuable and much appreciated assistance during the illness of the little girl.

Mr. Jacob S. Mellott, of Belfast township, was in town Tuesday making arrangements for the advertising of his sale which takes place on the last day of February. Mr. Mellott expects soon after his sale, to take his family and remove to Texas, in the locality where his brother George has been during the last four years.

Herb Duffy and sister Ted, of Webster Mills, started out last Sunday morning for a little spin in Herb's automobile, and finding the roads so good, they just kept a-going. When they returned in the evening they told of having been in Chambersburg, Williamson, and Mercersburg during the day. There was just enough snow on the road to make motoring fine.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

A BLANKET PROCESSION.

In 1817 the dissatisfied weavers of Lancashire, England, got together and resolved to march up to London and lay their grievances before the prince regent. As it was quite a way to London, each took a blanket along to wrap about him at night. About 5,000 made the start, and a curious looking parade it must have been. One eyewitness described the marchers as "a most deplorable lot, without food and without organization." Scarcely had they begun to move when they were attacked by the military and partially dispersed. Some kept on, but the desertions became more and more frequent. By the time the marching column reached the outskirts of London it had dwindled to six persons, and not one reached the presence of the prince regent.

How To Set a Hen.

This "story" is not only intended for farmer boys, but for their sisters, as well. We want to tell you how to set a hen, so that she will hatch big, fluffy, strong peeps. You know that the larger and stronger the peeps when they first come out, the more easily they are raised.

Get clean soil from a field, dry it until it will not stick together when you try hard to press it into a ball. Break up all lumps, same as if you intended to sow tomato seed. Put three or four inches of this clean earth into the box intended for the nest. Level off and press down solid, with the least bit of hollow to keep the eggs from rolling away from the hen. Do not make the hollow more than a quarter of an inch deep, or the eggs will pile up in the middle, or fall together too hard when the old hen turns them with her beak. Put about an inch of fine hay or chaff over the earth and place your eggs. In this way the eggs are furnished the conditions necessary to hatch strong chicks—something you will have to wait until you are a little older to understand, as its scientific explanation requires some knowledge of physics, as well as some other things with big, long names.

WHIPS LOVE.

Robert Diehl spent last Sunday with his brother Will who is still very sick.

Sam Diehl is reported under the Doctor's care.

Johnie Clevenger, one of Uncle Sam's faithful mail boys, has had a disabled horse for several weeks. John says it is getting better.

Aaron Gess and E. A. Diehl spent last Sunday with Morton Hess.

Mrs. Hess, wife of our Flickerville merchant says she has the best Biddies in the Cove. Two of them laid three eggs in one day. She did not tell us how the two managed it; but we are inclined to think that one of the hens is not deserving of special mention.

Sammy Smith, one of our oldest citizens, is in feeble condition in the home of Harry Hill.

Bertha Diehl is slightly "under the weather" at present.

A sled load of young people from the Cove attended the meeting at Gapsville a night recently.

Rev. A. R. Garland will preach at the Whips Cove church next Sunday afternoon at half-past three o'clock.

Willard Plessinger spent the forepart of last week visiting relatives in the vicinity of Needmore.

Some one has been expending a good deal of effort to have a wild turkey roast in this neck o'woods, and maybe succeeded. They wouldn't tell me, I s'pose, if they did succeed, and we've no other way o'knowin. Drat the turkeys! They are dry eatin' anyway.

SALUVIA

Chas. W. Mellott, teacher of Harrisonville school, has been laid up with rheumatism, this being the second week; hence no school.

Philip Strait has been having stomach trouble for some time.

Mrs. Doyle Howard had a threatened attack of pneumonia and tonsillitis, but is some better at this writing.

Mrs. C. A. Rinehart, of Altoona, is nursing her sister—Mrs. Doyle Howard.

William Sharp, of N. W. Territory, Canada, forty miles north-west of Moose Junction on the Canadian Pacific R. R., is visiting his brother, Edward Sharp and family and neighbors. He gives glowing accounts of the productivity of that region. Wheat yields as high as fifty to sixty bushels per acre; oats seventy to eighty bushels per acre; flax yields high and grows luxuriantly, these being the main crops. Some farmers plant corn for fodder only, as the season is too short for corn to mature. Mr. Sharp is fully corroborated by Dominion reports which give even higher yields. M. Sharp has been engaged somewhat in threshing business that section, hence is able to give conservative estimates.

Nearly 7000 more men were given work in the steel mills of the country last week. Does not look bad for business, does it?

A 48-pound can of lard was sent from this place, by parcel post, to Altoona, last week, at a cost of 50 cents. When the weight limit is set at 100 pounds (which it soon will be) a 200 pound hog may be split and sent in two packages by mail.
