Millionaire's Kids.

The three grandchildren of the late Marshall Field of Chicago, cost $48,000 a year to maintain. This was brought to light recently in Chicago in the probate court, when an accounting was made. Among the items which the court thought proper to approve was $2,500 for a dog hunt for one of the boys and an additional $2,000 for other hunting and stable expenses. The girl, Gwendolyn, required the assistance of a maid, a governess, and also a groom, with a stable. Her miscellaneous expenses during the year were $1,104. The children are being educated in England, where real gentlemen and ladies are turned out.

Force of Habit.

"Don't let that farmer come on the stock exchange."
"Why not?"
"Because he'll yell for a pitchfork if anybody tells him the bulls are in the wheat."

Gorgeous Color for Mere Man.
The London tailors have even gone so far as to make glorified bathrobes for men out of black satin lined with this new tone of yellow, which is matched in the collar and cuffs as well as the edges of the pockets. A few of these bathrobes are worn over here and have caused quite a sensation. They are really intended for negligee wear in one's room, to be used in the same fashion as a woman uses her kimono, but whatever their use, they are brilliant additions to the masculine wardrobe, which, by the way, is getting more brilliant every

REFUGEE CAMP FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Most of the non-combatant refugees from Ojinaga who crossed the Rio Grande to the United States were women and children. One of their improvised camps is shown in this photograph.

COMMISSION OF THE RECLAMATION SERVICE

Instead of being headed by one man, as was the case previous to this administration, the United States reclamation service is now directed by a commission of five men appointed by Secretary of the Interior Lane. This picture shows the entire commission in session. Left to right around the table are: Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer; W. A. Ryan, controller; I. D. O'Donnell, supervisor of irrigation; Judge Will R. King, chief counsel; F. H. Newell, director and chairman of the commission, and Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane.

WINTER SCULPTURE IN SWITZERLAND

Here is a creation in snow and ice representing the "Lady on the Bear of Davos," which is almost worthy of a place with famous sculpture in marble. It is the work of a sculptor visiting Switzerland, where the season of winter sports is now at its height. Attractive prizes offered for the best work in snow and ice resulted in this realistic work of art.

WOMAN IN MAYOR MITCHEL'S CABINET

What It Came To.
"I've figured the whole thing out, father," said Mabel. "The car, to begin with, will cost $5,000, which at six per cent. is $300 a year. If we charge ten per cent. off for depreciation it will come to $500 more. A good chauffeur can be had for $125 a month, or $1,500 a year. I have allowed $10 a week for gasoline and $5 for repairs. The chauffeur's uniform and furs will come to about $200. Now, let's see what it comes to. Three hundred plus five hundred—"
"Don't bother me, my dear, I know what it comes to," said the old gentleman.
"What?" asked the girl.
"My dear," said the father, impressively, "it comes to a standstill, right here and now."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Jones Was Classed as an "Otherwise."
In the lobby one overheard a conversation between the fat man and the thin man.
"What sort of a fellow is Jones to get along with?" asked the fat one.
"He's an otherwise," said the thin one, sourly.
"What do you mean by an otherwise?"
"I'll tell you. When he's talking to a Democrat, he's a Republican. When he's talking to a Republican, he's a Democrat. When he's talking to a capitalist, he's a Socialist. And when he's talking to me, he's just a darned fool!"

Up to the Minute Prayer.
Even in the prayers of little children an occasional bit of up to date-ness crops out.
Little Elizabeth had finished the recital of "Now I lay me down to sleep" at her mother's knee after a day of motoring over country roads that had been accompanied by more than the usual number of mishaps. With these in mind Elizabeth added this to her customary supplications:
"Please, Mr. Jesus, don't let papa have any more blowouts, 'cause it delays him so and makes him so tired. Amen."

BAD CASE OF DANDRUFF

Bissell, Ala.—"I had a very bad case of dandruff on my head. I was tormented by itching and my hair began to come out by the combful. I almost became frantic, fearful that I would lose all of my hair which was my pride. There were some pimples on my scalp and I scratched them until they made sores. My hair was dry and lifeless.
"I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent to my druggist for three cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed my scalp with warm water strong with the Cuticura Soap and dried, afterwards applying the Cuticura Ointment, working it in the scalp slowly with my fingers. After using them for several days my hair began to stop coming out. The dandruff all disappeared and in less than four weeks a cure was accomplished permanently." (Signed) Miss Lucy May.

Superb John D.

An efficiency engineer was talking about presence of mind.
"For presence of mind," he said, "nobody can equal John D."
"When John D. lived in Cleveland his next door neighbor said to him one morning:
"Smith's cow got in my garden yesterday and ate a lot of grass and flowers."
"Yes," said John D. "It got in my garden, too. I milked it to the value of the damage done, and then drove it out."
