FOUR NEW ANTI-TRUST BILLS OUT Measures Based on Wilson Policies Define Sherman Act and Allied Laws.

FULL PUBLICITY IS SOUGHT

Trade Commission Instead of Corpora tion Bureau Would Report Violations of the Statutes-Rigid Inquiries Are Ordered.

Washington, Jan. 23 .- Embodying the program laid down by the presi dent in his recent message, the administration's trust bills were presented to congress. The bills have received the approval of Mr. Wilson and the Democratic leaders of both houses of congress. With little modification they will be enacted into law. Their purposes are: 1. Definition of unlawful monopoly or restraints of trade.

2. Prohibition of unfair trade practice. 3. Creation of an interstate trade commission. 4. Regulation of corporation didectorates and prohibition of interlocking directorates. Unlawful Monopoly Defined.

Unlawful monopoly is defined as any combination or agreement between corporations, firms, or persons designed for the following purposes: 1. To create or carry out restrictions in trade or to acquire a monopoly in any interstate trade, business, or commerce. 2. To limit or reduce the production or increase the price of merchandise or of any commodity. 3. To prevent competition in manufacturing, making, transporting, selling, or purchasing of mer-chandlse, produce, or any commodity. 4. To make any agreement, en-ten into any arrangement, or arrive at any understanding by which they, directly or indirectly, undertake to prevent a free and unrestricted competition among themselves or among any purchasers or consumers in the sale, production, or transportation of any product, article, or commodity. The penalty for violation of the law is fixed at not more than $5,000 or im prisonment for one year or both. Guilt is made personal through a section that whenever a corporation shall be guilty of the violation of the law the offense shall be deemed to cover the individual directors, officers, and agents of such corporation, as authorizing, ordering, or doing the prohibited acts, and they shall be punished as prescribed above. A paragraph prohibiting holding companies is to be added to this measure.

No for which there is no possible use, in price, between different purchasers attempt is made to prevent or destroy for it does not take a brain of the size of commodities, with the purpose or monopoly based on patents. The greatof that of Daniel Webster to make a intent to injure or destroy a competi- est difficulty experienced in the effective enforcement of the law has been found to be in the unwillingness of the courts to impose jail penalty. It remains optional under the proposed threatened loss or damage by a viola tion of the act under the same condi-WAKNIND tions and principles that injunctive relief against threatened conduct which will cause loss or damage is granted by courts of equity.

It is required that a proper bond shall be executed against damages for an injunction improvidently granted, and it must be shown that the danger of irreparable loss or damage is immediate.

Hits Interlocking Directorates. Concerning directorates, the bill on that subject, which is to become effective two years from date of approval of the act, provides: "No person engaged as an individual or as a member of a partnership or as a director or other officer of a corporation in the business of selling railroad cars or locomotives, or railroad rails or structural steel, or mining or selling coal, or conducting a bank or trust company, shall act as a director or other officer or employe of any railroad or other public service corporation which conducts an interstate businesc. "No person shall at the same time be a director or other officer or employe in two or more federal reserve banks, national banks, or banking associations, or other banks or trust companies which are members of any reserve bank; and a private banker and a person who is a director in any state bank or trust company not operating under the provisions of the recent currency law shall not be eligible. to serve as a director in any bank or banking association or trust company operating under the provisions of the law." Violation of these sections is made punishable by a fine of $100 a day, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. If any two or more corporations have common director or directors, the fact shall be conclusive evidence that there exists a real competition between such corporation and such elimination of competition shall be construed as a restraint of interstate trade and be treated accordingly. The trade commission bill provides for commission of five members, with the commissioner of corporations as chairman, and transfers all the existing powers of the bureau of corporations to the commission.

The principal and most important duty the commission besides conducting investigations will be to aid the courts when requested in the formation of decrees of dissolution. With this in view, the bill empowers he court to refer any part of pending litigation to the commission, including the proposed decree, for information and advice.

Much Criticism for Bills.

The trust bills as framed will be the subject of sharp criticism on the part of progressives of all parties who claim they do not go far enough. It will be declared that the definition of monopoly remains inadequate that the prohibition of unfair trade practice does not cover this evil in our economic life that interlocking stock control is not covered and that the powers of the proposed trade commission are insufficient. It is interesting to note that the may or may not be that the president will agree with him. Some time ago Isthmian Canal Commissioner Richard L. Metcalf suggested a change in the law which provides for the zone government after the commission is abolished. If Mr. Metcalf's ideas shall prevail a part of the law as it stands must be repealed. There are men in congress of all parties who think that the Metcalf plan is the only one strong enough to serve the country's interests at Panama in the executive departments of the zone and to guard the positions from the sinister influences of politics.

The law which fixes the form of government for the Panama canal gives great power into the hands of the president. It provides for a oneman rule of the zone. Mr. Metcalf Washington.-Gen. Leonard Wood thinks that there should be a threesoon will retire from his position as man rule and one does not have to chief of staff of the United States go far in this town to find support army. The other day the general in for the Metcalf plan as against the plan which has already been given the well message of warning told the force of law.

Would Divide Duties.

The law as it is allows the president to appoint either a military man or a civilian to the governorship, if his choice falls upon a civilian the appointce unquestionably will have his military troubles, and if it shall fall upon a military man he unquestionably will have his civilian troubles. If the Metcalfe plan should be adopted and a commission of three men should be appointed to govern guns nor ammunition enough for our the Panama canal, one of the members would be a military man, another a physician and sanitarian and the mony of General Wood to make it ex- third a layman charged with the duties of civil administration. military point of view, but from what

Under the existing law the president not only appoints the governor view. It points up, for the facts are of the zone, but he appoints all o. the subordinate officials. It is now being asked what will happen if the man chosen for governor happens to action. There are of course many be a politician. As governor he naturally would expect to have something to say about the men who are to serve under him. In this case the question is would we not have on the Canal Zone political doctors, political civil administrators and political everything else outside of the immediate ranks of the army?

It is known definitely that some of the men who have done great work on the isthmus fear the coming of the day when politics may enter into the zone's government. The safety of the waterway, for instance, depends absolutely upon the sanitation of the zone. Colonel Gorgas made the place not only habitable, but one in which it is a delight to live. A physician and sanitarian of achievement enough to secure an appointment as a member of the isthmian canal commission certainly could be depended upon to see that his subordinates did their work. Could equal dependence be placed upon a canal governor sitting alone in authority and being charged with many "judgment duties" upon ome of which he was not qualified by training to pass?

Going Easy on Business.

Even in the face of certain knowledge that some anti-trust legislation is to be enacted, it still seems to the Washington observer that for the rest of this session congress will proceed cautiously in the matter of legislation of a far reaching nature. As has been said before in these dispatches, this does not mean mission President Wilson declared in his message that the country "demands such a commission only as an indispensable instrument of information and publicity as a clearing house for the facts by which both the public mind and the managers of great business undertakings should be guided." The bill prescribes that the commission acts are to constitute a "public record" but the body is authorized to make public the information "in such form and to such extent as may be necessary" or "by direction of the attorney general." It is apparent that the public mind cannot be guided unless it has the facts, and then it will not get unless the commission or the attorney general deems it politic.

Settlement of Differences. The most important feature of the bill is that which legalizes the policy of the administration of terminating an unlawful condition by agreement between the combination attacked and the attorney general.

This feature is comprehended under a section which requires the commission, upon the request of the attorney general or any corporation affected. to investigate whether a combination is violating the law. In case the commission should find the violation to exist it must report to the attorney general a statement of the objectionable acts and transactions and the readjustments necessary for the offending combination to conform to

It is known to be a fact, for the records show it, that if we were to ness and is going to spread its legislahave a war today with any country worthy the name of a power, our field artillery could not engage in more than one battle with its present supply of powder and shot. It takes a long while to manufacture field artillery ammunition and to get it to the front

General Wood has said also that there is a very small allowance of ammunition "even for the guns in the hands of the troop." These guns, of course, are the rifles of the infantry and the carbines of the cavalry, and do. also the small arms of the coast artillery, for the heavy gun men must serve on occasion as infantrymen. It is understood that the condition so far as our infantry forces are concerned, is absolutely nothing like so bad as that with which the field artillery is confronted. The foot soldier with his modern Springfield probably would have cartridges enough to give a good account of himself in many a battle, but the cannoncer of the field forces after a few rounds would be obliged to stand at his calsson or at the mouth of the piece as a mark for the enemy's riflemen without any chance to return shot for shot.

that congress will not have plenty to do. The one thing which seems to be assured since it came together again is that the Democratic majority has taken note of the sensitiveness of busi tion over a considerable period of time in order that conditions may adjust themselves to the coming order.

Now that it is certain legislation forbidding the interlocking of directorates of corporations and some other things is to pass, the attention of business men, as shown by letters which congressmen receive, is sharply directed to the future and to just what is to be expected in the way of laws preventing the doing of certain things which in the past some business men appeared to think they had a right to As an example of the intention of the majority in congress to go rather slow with its legislation It may be said that it probably will be two years

"My appetite was ravenous but I felt starved all the time. I had plenty of food but it did not nourish me because of intestinal indigestion. Medical treatment did not seem to help. I got discouraged, stopped medicine and did not care much whether I lived or died.

"One day a friend asked me why I didn't try Grape-Nuts food, stop drinking coffee and use Postum. I had lost faith in everything, but to please my friend I began to use both and soon became very fond of them.
