SALUVIA

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Saville of Chicago Junction, O., a recently married couple, visited her great aunt, Mrs. J. A. Stewart and family, last week. The bride's maiden name, being Mary Hazel Leonard. They were married on Christmas eve last, and started to spend their honeymoon on Christmas day, coming east to Pa., to visit his and her relatives. He having three brothers, at Welsh Run, two sisters, at Mercersburg, parents, brothers, and sisters at Cto, aunts, uncles and cousins in the Big Cove,—Amos Saville, of McConnellsburg, being an uncle.

It was a grand sight to her to see our mountains and hills. When they arrived at Greenhill, and took a walk to the country, to see her great-grand fathers', great-grand-mothers', and great uncles graves. She thought it grand scenery all about her with old Sideling Hill to the west, and Scrub Ridge, and Tuscarora to the east. She admired her great grand father (Samuel Newman) now J. A. Stewart's farm with its beautiful land rolling fields, and living streams of water, and also its location, and elevation, giving such nice views of the Licking Creek Valley, and the mountains around.

She was delighted when looking over the Green Hill House—her ancestors home, for over 75 yrs. In short she thought every thing great, but she couldn't stand the sight of the poor, dead nigger, who froze to death, below Cto. After visiting relatives in this county, they expect to visit her cousin—Mrs. L. H. While, and family at Harrisburg, thence go back to Chicago Junction, O., where he has employment in Swift & Co's artificial ice plant.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Carbaugh, and daughter in law, of Cto, took advantage of the good sledding and brought the bride and groom, to Green Hill House, and visited Lincoln S. Deshong, and family, at Saluvia. (Owing to an accident in the NEWS office the following items were overlooked last week:—Editor.)

Doyle Howard lost his family mare by death last week. L. I. Deshong is keeping store at Saluvia in the absence of the owner, C. H. Mann, who is in Florida.

Chas. W. Schooley and boys are cutting and hauling sawed timber from his farm to set near his residence. Bert Mellott will do the sawing.

Mrs. Doyle Howard has recovered from her recent illness sufficiently to accompany her sister, Mrs. C. A. Rinehart, to her home in Altoona. Mr. Howard expects to remain here to oversee the cutting sawing and marketing of timber on the firm's land.

Rightley Bros. & Co. have a number of men at work cutting logs, which would seem to indicate that the burning of their saw mill will not stop business.

WEST DUBLIN.

Joseph Price, Sr., blacksmith at Laidig, is poorly having had a stroke lately.

Floyd Price, who is employed at Kearney, was compelled to come home for a week on account of quinsy, but is at work again.

George King and Frank Price, who are employed at Kearney, were home last week attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, B. A. Deavor, at Hustontown.

Easton Sunson, of Burnt Cabins, is hauling logs for Reichley Bros., at the foot of King's Knob. W. E. Deavor is sawing the logs.

William Hunzman, of Morrisons Cove, visited Joseph Price, very recently. When a boy, Mr. Hunzman had his home with Mr. Price.

Quite a number from the vicinity of the State Road have been attending revival meeting at Mt. Tabor. Quite an interest has been shown in the meeting.

Mrs. David Heefner, of Allensville, Mifflin county, is visiting her father, Joseph Price.

HUSTONTOWN.

The sudden death of Mr. B. A. Deavor was a shock to all; truly, "In the midst of life we are in death."

Dr. McClain has been kept very busy lately. "Uncle Joe" Price, Hiram Laidig, and Mrs. Clem Chesnut are reported better.

Dau'el Bishop, W. N. Taylor, Dave Bishop, and Ernest Croft, who work at Minersville, are all reported home for the weekend.

Dan Bishop came home on Friday to butcher.

W. N. Taylor is nursing a boil. J. C. L. wears a smile because the madam is home from Turtle Creek.

Mrs. W. T. Laidig is in Jeanette, Pa.

Squire Deshong is very sad because the Mrs. has gone to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Hoover. The Squire was so lonesome he wanted to go fishing but it rained.

There is complaint of distemper among horses here. Better wear the toboggan on the horse when it rains, Squire.

Hope the ground hog has not caused the fine grain to freeze.

The ice crop here is nothing so far. Same thing ails the skunk (four legged) crop.

J. H. Ranck went to Huntingdon this week. Hurry home, Joe, there is too much rush for Mr. "Hike."

Some changing around here as to residence. Rev. Bishop will move near the Brethren church, Henry Fisher, of Dudley, will move where Mr. Bishop leaves. Mr. Fisher is a barber and will be an undertaker after he serves the required apprenticeship under a licensed undertaker. Nice to have your own private undertaker. It will be a case of I catch 'em, you cook 'em, we eat 'em.

By-the-way, if we are to have a new undertaker, a new barber, and a new doctor, why not give us a new postmaster, or at least get the old one a new coat and a new pipe?

Let no "scab" apply for medicine, burial, or the postoffice; we want none but Union men.

Lots of lime and limestone being hauled through here—keep it up.

Parents, watch your boys where they spend their evenings and Sundays.

If this misses the waste basket, more anon. "Scab"

Make Savings From Small Weekly Wages

By I. P. STEWART, London, Eng.

What self-help and thrift can do for a man is strikingly demonstrated by the case of John Morrison, a Yorkshire carpenter, who, although his wages had never exceeded $3.75 a week, had been able to leave behind him the substantial sum of $15,000, every penny of it the fruits of saving.

When he married, a little over forty years ago, he looked around to see what economies he could effect. He found that he had been spending at least $1.25 a week on beer and tobacco; these he could very well dispense with. That meant a saving of $65 a year. And this was the nucleus of his fortune.

A few weeks later his wages were raised from $7.50 a week to $8.75 weekly. He could rub along without the extra $1.25, and was thus able to put by $130 a year. When his savings had amounted to $500, he bought two cottages, borrowing three-fourths of the purchase money and paying off the loan out of the rents. He was a man of property now.

The appetite for thrift took full possession of him. He was fond of gardening, and he decided to turn his hobby and his spare time into money. He rented half an acre of land; his wife opened a shop for the sale of the produce, and the first year he was able to increase his savings to $5 a week, with which, in two years' time, he was able to buy two more houses.

And thus simply his fortune grew. House was added to house, each paying for its own purchase with its rent, until at sixty-nine he was able to retire on $750 a year, almost twice his highest wages as workman, and when he died to leave a good $15,000 behind him.

And what John Morrison could do, and did, others have done. Only a few weeks ago a workingman confessed in a court of law that he had already saved $5,000 out of wages which had never exceeded $7.50 a week. "How did you do it?" asked the magistrate. "By a little self-denial, your worship," the man answered, and then proudly added: "And I've brought up four children, too; and now there's only me and the wife. I'm going to buy an annuity with it, which, they say, will come to more than $350 a year."

Bachelor Should Wear Tag of Some Kind

By Dorcas Callienne, San Francisco

Bachelors ought to be tagged, because there never was a woman between the ages of sixteen and sixty who at some stage of the game did not sigh and say inwardly: "I wonder if he's—?" And why should n't she? Women all have the same ideal! You may raise your voice loud and strong for "votes for women." I may coo in dulcet tones of "art for art's sake," but you know as well as I know that we are all dying to stay at home and be a slave for the "right man," and shower all the tenderness of our souls upon the little one.

But because youth is fleeting and Cupid a drone we get panicky the first pop into wohanhood. We don't know who is who—and we blunder along dreaming dreams. Then nine times out of ten we get shoved into the jam jar with the news of: "Why, he's married and has six children."

At this crisis some of us fall for the "first chance." Others of us wait around in moody cynicism until the "last call for the altar" rouses us into action, and worst of all, there are some of us who never hear even the faintest echo of the "masculine want."

I am smiling as my pen runs along. I'm thinking of a nice fat old maid of my acquaintance who stands A No. 1 in "medicine." Incidentally she is frozen to the core:

I can hear her say: "Drat the men!!! And you, you hussy, you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

But nevertheless I know that we women are "the female of the species" first, last and always, and if we could be sure that (individually speaking) the man that "takes our eye" is a bachelor and that we are not treading on the private lawns of our sisters, we might arrive at the proper ways and means of turning "our ideal" into the right pasture where he could be kept corralled and happy for the rest of his three score and ten.

Improving Health by Taking Exercise

By E. R. RICKARD, Boston, Mass.

Nature is such a natural and unpretentious wonder worker that we hardly seem impressed by the miracles that she performs right under our eyes. I have in mind especially now the remarkable results that have been obtained and are being obtained through nature's own methods in relieving men of their physical ailments and weaknesses.

Within a few months I have put on ten pounds in weight. This result in spite of the fact that for the past six years I have been under weight and never put on a pound, although I dieted and slept sufficiently at all times.

My late increase in weight and improvement in health were obtained through deep breathing, full relaxation and full contraction exercise, under competent direction, which is really the natural way for the body to get these things, and was the everyday way, before we were perverted through our sedentary habits and tense, fast living.

But my improvements were insignificant when compared to other men who were in worse condition than myself to start with. I know of a large number of men who have, through these same methods, been relieved of their nervousness, insomnia, obesity, constipation, headaches, rheumatism, anemia and almost every affliction in materia medica. I have often seen men who were run down to the verge of nervous prostration built up to robust health and strength.

If some physician were to procure such results by his prescription the achievement would be the talk of the town, but when nature works these wondrous results we accept them as a matter of fact and think nothing of it.

Helpful Little Facts About Catching Cold

By George F. Butler, A.M., M.D., Chicago

At the risk of destroying one of our dearest medical idols, I am bound to say that taking cold is largely a bugbear, made much of, but plays an unimportant part in the causation of catarrh.

Taking cold is frequently the result of taking too much food. It is another name for foul air, an overloaded stomach and a disordered liver.

Lack of proper nourishment, indigestion, improper oxygenation and mental depression are by far the more direct and important causes than mere exposure.

The proper care of the skin is the best preventive of catarrh. The daily sponge bath with friction brush or with exposure of the body to sun and air is simple and helps to prevent and cure catarrh and other diseases.

Every now and then John Warner, of Gettysburg, inserts an advertisement in the local papers advising that he will call on a certain day for any surplus cats of the residents of the town may have. The felines are then taken to the biological department of the Gettysburg College where they are painlessly put to death.

Rev. G. R. Bernhard, of the Biddle Memorial church, Carlisle, preached in the Presbyterian church in this place last Sunday morning and evening, much to the pleasure and edification of the congregations that heard him. Mr. Bernhard is a gifted pulpit orator, and will find a warm welcome at any time it may be convenient for him to visit McConnellsburg.

PIANOS, PLAYER PIANOS, ORGANS and VICTROLAS.

Pianos are like shoes—some makes good, some bad. They all look alike to the unsophisticated, and here's where the "peddler" gets in his work. He's here to-day with the piano; To-morrow he's away. You have the piano, he has your money.

I have been doing business with the people of Fulton county for ten years. I own real estate and pay tax. I am here to make good if the instrument I sell you is not satisfactory in every respect.

Our Mail.

We've been thinking we've been thinking, what a county this would be; if we could telephone for news, from Wells to Buck Vallee. We sit and chew our pencil, thinking what to print to please, our readers out in Taylor, or down on Bethel's lees. Plum Run to death, we toss in bed; and hope that Emma, will send Dott Gem, we Need more still, to ease our Akering head. Warfordsburg, I do declare, is almost off our map; we cannot even Hir'em, to hit the wire a tap. Wells Tannery's good for kids, it cures 'em of some ills. In Union there is strength they say but she can't touch Sipes Mills. Crystal Springs has sparkling eyes, as any little lady; but she's farther away by phone I vow, than we are from Grenady. From Dickey's icy Mountain, to Enid's moral strand, there's many a press-day item, we fail by phone to land. The County Seat will need a patch, if it sit here much longer, and C to have connection with those places over yonder.

Card of Thanks.

Miss Elsie Wagner through the NEWS desires, with others of the family, to express her sincere thanks to all of the friends and neighbors for the friendly aid given during the sickness and death of her father Abraham Wagner.
