GOVERNMENT IS NOT ENTERING

INTO COMPROMISE WITH OF. FENDING TRUSTS.

That in Dealing With Corporations His Department Is Not Yielding Any Just Claims.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington .- Anti-trust legislation is the great absorbing topic at present in the capital and from letters which come in from the country it seems to be holding the attention of business and professional men everythere. It is being discussed in newspaper correspondence daily, and in this correspondence also it has been holding place, because of the manifest interest and in some cases the apprehension which has been shown concerning it. Close advisers to the president have expressed a pleased assent to the use of the word peace which has appeared so prominently recently in the headlines of Mr. Wilson's anti-trust plans. The Democrats, however, seem to be fearful lest the people may be led to Compromise is a word objectionable to Attorney General McReynolds, who has said that when a compromise is entered into each party to it gives up something for which it has contended as its right. It is becoming a little evident in Washington that some of the Democratic leaders fear the change from a virulent policy against big business to one less aggressive will lead men to suppose that the party has weakened in its purpose to make the big corporations behave themselves. The Democrats explain that Mr. Wilson's peaceful words of the last few

the administration has said, should not be taken to mean that big corporations are to be allowed in any respect to continue to break the law.

No^l Compromise With Wrong. Mr. McReynolds apparently wants it definitely understood that the government does not intend to surrender a thing for which it has contended. He glad apparently that there is an opportunity to settle out of court many of the cases against the trusts, but he is determined, it is said, that no one shall think his department or the administration is yielding one thing which it does not believe it is right to yield. It is held by the department of justice officials that in all of the agreements with big corporations thus far reached the department has obtained all things which it has demanded. The attorney general has let it be known that it is his intention to be guided by no other policy in any case. Briefly, corporations to escape prosecution must "come to Washing ton to agree to proposed terms."

In the case of the American Telephone and Telegraph company a direct question was put to the attorney general: "On what terms can we square ourselves?" Mr. McReynolds took a long time thinking on this case and untold agony. I saw the advertise- then he told the officials exactly what they would have to do to make their against the trusts. It is said that the company officials sought a compromise, being unwilling to give over the belief to be found in the talk of PEACE TERMS FIRM the belief to be found in the talk of the Democratic leaders, that before the end of the present congress in March, 1915, the powers of the board which the president wants to have appointed will be largely increased and that ultimately it will have a standing equal to that of the interstate commerce commission.

The administration apparently has felt that the Progressives of the coun-SO ASSERTS MR. M'REYNOLDS try, led by Theodore Roosevelt, would say it had become a convert to their views if it should recommend the es-Attorney General Wants It Understood tablishment of such a board as Colonel Roosevelt and other Progressive leaders have advocated from the first. It is thought here that the Democrats believe they can develop this Progressive plan so slowly as to take away whatever capital the Progressives may try to make out of the administration's apparent conversion to one of their policies. Already the Progressives of the country are saying that President Wilson has begun to steal some of their thunder.

Making the Guilt Personal. Today the leaders in congress are still conferring on the matter of strengthening anti-trust legislation so as to make it certain that guilt can be made personal. When Theodore Roosevelt was president of the United States he was credited with saying that dozens of managers, superintendents, head bookkeepers and other juniors in big corporations could be put into jail for violation of the anti-trust laws, but that it would be little less than criminal to put the little fellows believe that peace means compromise. In jail and to let the big fellows es cape.

Investigations by the attorney general's department in the Roosevelt and Taft days showed that the heads of great corporations which were believed to be conducting business in violation of the law had so covered up their personal tracks that they could not be followed by the law and reached by its hand. One of the worst features of the whole situation was the willingness of the big men so to arrange things that the responsibility should fall on their subordinates, who would have to go to prison if anyweeks, and their acquiescence in what body went.

Now what the Democrats are trying to do is to make the law so strong that there will be a certainty when there are law violations that the big fellows can be arrested, after assurance that the evidence is right to put them behind the bars. Admittedly, one of the hardest tasks which the Democrats have is the framing of a law that will produce this result. Time and again the guilt of the big men has been known positively and yet it has not been susceptible of proof.

Colombian Treaty Not Liked. Day by day the belief is growing stronger in Washington that the United States senate will refuse to ratify the treaty with the Colombian government that the state department has prepared containing a provision for the payment to the Colombians of $25,000,000 for their loss of Panama and also containing a paragraph of apology from this goveroment for having recognized the independence of Panama "over night." Hannis Taylor, who is acting as counsel for the Colombian government, is urging that the United States not only shall agree to pay into the treasury of the South American country the sum of $25,000,000 for the Panama strip, but shall further soothe its wounded feelings by humble apology for an act of the Roosevelt administration, indorsed later by the

There's no rest and but little peace for s person whose kidneys are out of order. Lame in the morning, suffering cricks in the back and sharp stabs of pain with every sudden strain, the day is just one round of pain and trouble. It would be strange if all-day backache did not wear on the temper, but It is not only on that account that people who suffer with weak kidneys are nervous, cross and irritable,

Uric acid is polson to the nerves, and when the kidneys are not working well, this acid collects in the blood and works upon the nerves, causing headache, dizziness, languor, an inclination to worry over trifles, and a suspicious, short temper.

Rheumatic pain, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, neuritis and gravel are further steps in uric acld polsoning.

Don't neglect kidney weakness. An aching back, with unnatural passages of the kidney secretions, is cause enough to suspect the kidneys. Tise Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy which has been used for years, the world over, for weak kidneys, backache, irregular kidney action and uric acid

New York City Woman Tells of Awful Suffering Mrs. Edith Dykeman, 154 W. 84th St., New York City, N. Y., says: "Three years age I was so run down in health that I was a nervous wreck. I was afflicted with a severe case of disordered kid-benefit. My kidneys arted either too free-by or else the action was retarded and the passages of the secretions caused me-much pain. My back ached frightfully doesed for hours, unable to go to sleep in the morning I feit all worn out and was hardly able to do my housework, Whenever I stooped to pick up anything from the floor, I was hardly able to straighten again. I had terrible diary spells and specks seemed to be floating in front of me. If I walked up or down stairs, I was completely worn out from weakness. The least scaltement brought on an attack of nervousness and I got so bad that it was hard for me to be up and around. My health was all run down someone advised me to take Doan's Kid-me.
