Ross King, of Taylor township, was in town buying some odds and ends in the way of supplies for the opening of spring work on the farm.

George W. Hays went to Everett last Sunday and returned Tuesday, bringing his wife with him. Mrs. Hays spent the past month in Everett with her mother, Mrs. Eliza Michaels.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

Miss Pearl Mellott, of Sipes Mills and Mr. Lum Duvall of Licking Creek township, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Baumgardner in this place last Friday evening and Saturday.

C. W. Crouse, of Webster Mills, has not failed to make a trip to the News office, on the first of April, to pay subscription, for many years; but this time he missed it by two days—coming on the third. Mr. Crouse said that he did more horseshoeing this winter than in any other winter during the thirty five years he has been in business.

After having spent ten years in the west, George Kline returned to this county about the first of the year, and this spring went to farming on the farm of his father, U. W. Kline, in Licking Creek township. Mr. Kline spent most of the past ten years in Ohio; but spent part of one year in the extreme north-western part of the United States, and one year in Oklahoma.

Dr. Amos Seville left Monday morning for the Cumberland Valley where he expects to remain for an indefinite period. We do not know what stock owners will do for veterinary aid if he should conclude to remain over there. The fertile soil of that famous valley seems to have great attraction for Amos, and we will not be surprised if our next personal will be an account of his not only having purchased a farm, but—

Rev. W. M. Cline spent Tuesday in town shopping and chatting with friends. Mr. Cline says he does not propose to be idle on account of his not having a charge this year, but will find plenty to keep both mind and hand busy. Mr. Cline has had the harness on for many years, and we think no one can begrudge him the privilege of throwing them off and taking a run in the pasture, same privilege granted other famous "war horses."

Mill Changes Hands.

Chas. B. Weller, who last year, tenanted the Secrist farm better known as the Mack Kendall farm in the Cove, has purchased and now has possession of the Cove Roller Mills, and will devote his entire attention to producing the highest grade of flour, and feed. For the accommodation of his McConnellsburg patrons, he has arranged to keep a supply of feed on hands at Will Nesbit's store, where orders may be left for delivery; and the flour may be had at practically every store in town.

This is known to the older folks as the Comer Mill, later owned by the late Edward Stout-eagle, and by his estate sold to Chas. B. Stevens, who gave it a thorough over-hauling installing the latest improved roller process machinery and adding a big steel waterwheel, and a gasoline engine, so that at no season in the year will the business be tied up for want of power.

Why Does Ulster Revolt?

Written for the News by James A. Stewart.

We see almost daily in our newspapers such headlines as "Ulster in a State of Revolt," "War Imminent in Ulster," "Why is it, that the Scotch-Irish people—a people noted for peace, justice, and diplomacy—would arise in rebellion against the English government? The attention of the world is now attracted to the action of the Scotch Irish in Ulster, the whole northern province of Ireland.

When the dark cloud of war is hovering over so many nations of the earth, it shows Ulster in a bad light to rise up in revolt unless for the best of causes. The other provinces of Ireland have so often rebelled against English rule, that it may truly be said that Ireland is a land of woes, because, for many centuries the cruel heel of the foreign oppressor has been on the Irish neck; and England has so often taken advantage of the unhappy religious complications in Ireland, and stirred up strife within her borders, which has laid waste her resources, and made her people weak and impotent, either to govern themselves, or to resist succeeding invasions. It may be truly said that there is scarcely a spot in all the length of this famous island, but what has been nurtured by the blood of patriots; and the fitful flames of revolt and dissension have burst forth intermittently for many centuries. The qualities for peace and justice which have distinguished the Scotch-Irish people of Ulster, have always militated in restoring peace and harmony in her sister provinces and throughout the English government; yet, now, strange as it may seem, the Scotch-Irish of Ulster, are in a state of revolt against England, and against the most of Ireland as well.

Why does this condition exist in Ulster? is a question that the writer will try to answer.

The trouble in Ulster to-day is largely religious, the result of hoary feuds based upon religious differences. The scheme of Home Rule which the English parliament has almost as good as passed, has stirred up all these religious differences. The Scotch-Irish people reject this scheme of Home Rule. They say, it does not suit them; they don't want it. The English government under the guise and pretense, that it will ameliorate the condition of the people of Ireland, is about to force Home Rule upon them. But England's fairness, justice, and diplomacy with Ireland, has never been commendable. It was not with America, and well the Irish people know it—especially the Scotch Irish people of Ulster. Away back in the centuries when King James I was on the throne, the lands of Ulster were confiscated; i. e., seized and appropriated for public settlement. Scotch immigrants who left Scotland on account of English religious persecution, came and took up the lands of Ulster under homestead rights, same as has prevailed in the United States. These Scotch settlers brought Presbyterianism with them and expected they would enjoy religious freedom and toleration. But not so for any great length of time. It was not long until the English parliament passed the obnoxious "Test" and "Marriage" laws, and many of them had to dispose of their lands and emigrate to America. Many of them settled in the Great Cumberland Valley of Pennsylvania.

The English government has so manipulated the management of Ulster, that to-day she has the most cosmopolitan population in Ireland. To check the spread the growth of Presbyterianism, Episcopalian (the established church of England) settlers were sent in until now, at least, two-thirds of the population of Ulster are Episcopalian. Presbyterianism has no voice in or representation in the government of Ulster. Scotch-Irish have been persecuted and harassed so long that they have lost all confidence in the English government. In the other provinces of Ireland, the Catholic religion predominates. Hence what benefits? what advantages? what representation in Government? would the scheme of Home Rule give to the Scotch-Irish who would necessarily be as slaves locally and nationally.

It is no wonder that the late deceitful scheme of Home Rule has fomented all the ancient spirit of antagonism among the Scotch-Irish, lamentable as it may be, viewed from any standpoint. No wonder such noble, patriotic men as Sir Edward Carson and Lord Charles Beresford have espoused the Scotch-Irish cause and are her leaders. No wonder that more than 100 officers of the English army have refused to march to battle with the Ulsterite—Unionists. No wonder that Ulster revolts and raises an army to fight any further encroachments on their religious freedom of England, and depend upon their co-religionists in the British army to help them, and upon the sympathy of the British soldiery to prevent bloodshed.

Why in the name of all that is good, does not England give to Ulster, and to all Ireland the same privilege that the United States gave to Cuba, Porto Rica, and will eventually give to the Philippines—the privilege to rule themselves.

WHY FULTON COUNTY MERCHANTS SHOULD ADVERTISE IN THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS.

Written for the News by

A Leader Or a Follower.

If our competitors would do business in the good old-fashioned way that our grandfathers did we could, but, dern 'em, they won't.

Just as soon as we stop rowing our little boat of business, our friend, the competitor, pulls a sail from the bottom of his boat and, unless we are very fortunate he sails happily by.

It doesn't pay to stop rowing. Neither does it pay to wait for your competitor to introduce the sail.

Rowing is preferable to some other methods of water travel.

Sailing is easier than rowing, as long as there is a wind.

A motor is superior to all other methods of water locomotion.

Why not equip your boat of business with a motor. THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS a motor especially constructed for this class of craft.

Why not install it. Start it going. Take the rudder and go where you like.

Political Announcement.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE. TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY.

After having received so much encouragement, I feel that I would be shirking my duty if I did not offer myself as a candidate for the nomination for the General Assembly the second term, as anyone knows full well that a man elected to a second term has more influence, and can serve his constituents better the second term than he possibly can the first time.

I, therefore, announce myself as a candidate for the General Assembly, Subject to the decision of the Democratic voters at the primary election to be held May 19, 1914, respectfully ask the support of the voters, and pledge myself to support the ticket nominated. I also pledge myself, if nominated and elected, to do as I have done in the past—discharge my duty fearlessly and honestly, and work hard for the best interest of the people of Fulton County and the State.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. B. MELLOTT.

Farm for Sale

containing 214 acres, about 140 acres cleared and balance in timber, situate in Montgomery township, Franklin county, about six miles from Mercersburg. Buildings all in first class condition, new Bank Barn, all fine Outbuildings, such as Hog Pen, Chicken Houses, Wagon Shed and Corn Crib. A 1 House of 8 rooms, water, which runs by gravity, at barn. Fruit of every description, last year sold $80.00 worth of cherries. Fine young Apple Orchard, Pears, Plums, Peaches, etc.

This farm I sold last year for $5,500.00; but the party who purchased has met with adversity and therefore will not be in position to take possession this spring.

If sold before April first, the price is $5,250.00, and the purchaser gets the entire wheat crop of 65 acres. Any one wanting to buy a farm will find this a bargain. Remember, the price after April 1st is $5,500.00 without the crop. Buildings alone would cost more than the price asked. Terms to suit. For further information call on or address

THE GROWTH AND EARNINGS OF A BANK.

There is no other line of business in the world that so much concerns the public and its welfare as the growth and earnings of a Bank.

A little over two years ago—or more precisely—on January 1, 1912, THE FULTON COUNTY BANK commenced business as a State Bank with a Capital of $50,000.00 and total assets of a little over $233,000.00.

Our last call for a statement—February 20, 1914—a little more than two years later, shows Total Assets of over $350,000.00 and Surplus and Undivided profits of over $19,000.00 During these two years $6,000.00 was paid out in CASH DIVIDENDS to stockholders.

The above facts and figures are arguments.

Correct banking methods; Our integrity in dealing with the public; Conservative management; Confidence—These are the principles that helped to make this splendid showing possible.
