New York Building Fine Jail.
Now able to boast of the tallest of steel buildings in the world, New York will also have the highest jail building so far erected. It will be built in Thirtieth street near Sixth avenue. The building will be 14 stories tall and will cost about four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It is planned chiefly for the care of women prisoners. Several floors will be given over to courtrooms, detention rooms and offices for those in the charities department who look after the welfare of women prisoners.

Chinese Patriot to Be Honored.
A bronze monument is to be erected to Gen. Li Yuanhung, vice-president of China, on a commanding site overlooking the meeting of the Han and the Yangtze rivers, where Wu-chang, Hankow and Hanyang unite to compose the great "triple town." Here it was that General Li won his laurels at the head of the army of Chinese republican patriots and later as the greatest of all the tubus, solidifying the enfranchisement won on October 10, 1911. It is one of the most magnificent prospects on the Yangtze, China's great waterway, and the monument to be set up will be a bronze statue on the American style, marking the new regime's acceptance of the latest ideas in commemorative art.

That's the Way He Got Off.
Church—I see a man, after riding ten blocks on a trolley car, was put off because he wouldn't pay his fare. Gotham—He got off cheap.

Wilton Diptych to Be Sold.
Two hundred years ago a now famous diptych passed into the possession of the eighth Lord Pembroke and has never been seen since outside the walls of Wilton. This work of art, one of the most celebrated in England, is now in the market. It belongs to the period of Richard II and is accordingly between 500 and 600 years old. The painter of it, and even his nationality, is unknown, and it is probable will never be known. The first authentic mention of the diptych was made in the reign of Charles I, when it was at the palace in Whitehall. A good authority has described it lately as one of the most interesting and rarest things in England. Since Lord Pembroke announced his intention of selling the coveted diptych, enormous offers have poured in from connoisseurs and others, and the idea of obtaining the treasure for the nation has been mooted.—Christian Science Monitor.

Bill Rendered.
Dutton—You should pay more attention to your personal appearance, old chap. Remember that the clothes make the man.

De Broke—Yes; but for me the man refuses to make any more clothes.

Health of the Mind.
To be made whole is to be healed in both body and mind. Bodily healing alone does not suffice, for unless there is a change of mind also, disease will again manifest itself in some form in the body, and the second condition of the patient may become worse than the first. On the other hand, a change of mind is quickly manifested in the body, if we have been "transformed by the renewing of our mind."—Unity.

ASSASSIN'S SHOT MISSES MITCHEL

New York Mayor Escapes, But Counsel Polk is Wounded.

ATTACK NEAR CITY HALL

Bullet Entering Polk's Jaw Passes So Close To Mayor That His Face is Scorched—Assailant, Michael Mahoney.

New York.—In attempting to take the life of John Purroy Mitchel, Michael P. Mahoney, an apparently irresponsible elderly man, who later said he was a blacksmith out of work, fired into a group of three men seated in the Mayor's automobile, which stood at the east side of City Hall Park.

The bullet from his revolver entered the jaw of Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk, who was sitting next to the Mayor in the tonneau of the automobile, and with blood spurting from his mouth Mr. Polk was taken into an ante-chamber in the City Hall and afterward to the New York Hospital where it was said that the wound would not prove fatal.

Mahoney shot the Mayor, he declared in the course of a disjointed statement extracted from him, because he felt aggrieved at the city executive's "extravagant expenditures" and because he was incensed at being turned back from the door of the Mayor's room in the City Hall on two occasions when he came to apply for a municipal job.

Mahoney fired only one shot at the Mayor and his party. Before he could fire a second he was overcome by Detective George Neun, who, in the capacity of chauffeur, was adjusting robes about the men in the automobile, and the revolver was wrenched out of Mahoney's hand.

The Mayor sat in the middle of the back seat, with Mr. Polk on his right and George V. Mullan, the Mayor's former law partner, on his left. The bullet passed so close to Mayor Mitchel that the left side of his face was scorched.

HORSES ON GUARD OVER BODY.

One Keeps Foot Up Many Hours So As Not To Tread On Owner.

Oswego, N. Y.—An instance of the intelligence and fidelity of a horse came to light when the body of Frank Hannon was found face downward in a brook near here. A blanket was so wrapped about him that he had been unable to save himself after falling. Over Hannon stood his team, one of his animals having remained for many hours without being able to place one of his feet to the ground, as Hannon's body was under the hoof and the horses were unable to move freely in the tangled harness.

TO BE MORE AGGRESSIVE.

General Blockade Likely To Follow Next Overt Act.

Washington.—The dispatch of the war fleets to Mexican waters brought up a discussion of possibilities in emergencies.

Should the present negotiations fail to close the incident or should there be any other occasion for a show of force on the part of the United States, President Wilson indicated plainly that he would order a general blockade of the Mexican ports.
