The Necessity of Calvary.

Why did Jesus die? In order that God might be just and yet justify the ungodly. A solution of this problem was found only by the wisdom and love of God in sending his Son to die as the substitute for sinners. It meant the strong crying and bloody sweat of Gethsemane-and we believe Christ really sweat blood. It meant the scourging, which was the punishment of slaves and criminals, often destroying the eyes or exposing the entraffs. Christ was so faint they carried him to the cross, and the coming forth of blood and water from his side showed he died, literally, of a broken heart. But one element in his sufferings we can never understand-the ery, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" In loneliness and darkness he bore the sins of men and this cry was like one breaker on the shore. telling of a sea of sorrow unimaginable. Thus a holy God shows his estimate of sin, and this is the price at which he provides redemption. What folly for a man to trust himself that he is righteous!

The self-righteous forget The Great White Throne.

John writes, "I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and heaven flew away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire" (Rev. 20:11, 12, 15). No man could face that ordeal hopefully, unless he had put his trust in the Savior and was weltten in the book of life.
