Are Your Kidneys Weak? You may have kidney trouble and not know it. The only signs may be occasional twinges in the small of the back, constant lameness, dizzy spells or some annoying irregularity of the kidney action.

A Pennsylvania Case Mrs. J. Hopple, 514 Walnut St., Ashland, Pa., says: "For fifteen years I had kidney trouble and was often sick. My back pained constantly and I was almost frantic. I had blinding headaches and dizzy spells and physicians said I couldn't recover. Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me and from that day to this, I have been a well woman."

Bankruptcy Decision. The supreme court of New Jersey holds in Bolton vs. Bolton that when a wife goes into bankruptcy the trustee in bankruptcy is entitled to take possession of arrears of alimony due her for the benefit of the creditors. The court said: "When it is considered that during the period of non-payment the wife has in all probability been contracting debts for her support on the faith of recovering these payments, and that alimony is awarded for the express purpose of her support by paying in cash as she goes along, and when it is considered further that by her discharge in bankruptcy these debts are wiped out, it seems manifestly unjust that the creditors should have no recourse to the very fund that the divorce court provided to pay them."

She Knew What She Meant. "Miss Ethel," he began, "or Ethel, I mean—I've known you long enough to drop the 'Miss,' haven't I?" She fixed her lovely eyes upon him with a meaning gaze. "Yes, I think you have," she said. "What pretext do you wish to substitute?"—Catholic Citizen.

So They Do. Mr. Bacon—I see San Francisco has a dishwashers' union of 700 members, of whom 100 are college graduates. Mrs. Bacon—And yet there are persons who claim that our colleges don't teach young men to be useful.

The Credibility of Christ's Resurrection

By REV. WILLIAM EVANS, D. D. Director of Bible Course Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Acts 1:3

Credibility refers to the acceptance of a fact in a manner that deserves belief; it is belief based up on good authority, reliable facts, and competent witnesses. Credulity is belief in a thing without respect to the strength or weakness, reliability or unreliability of the authority, facts, or witnesses; it is a believing too readily, and with no reason for the faith or hope. The resurrection of Christ is a fact proved by competent evidence, and deserving of intelligent acceptance and belief. It is a doctrine buttressed by "many infallible proofs."

The line of proof here suggested is that from the argument of cause and effect. Certain things, conditions, institutions exist in our midst today; they are the effects of causes, or a cause; what is that cause. We may mention:

1. The Empty Tomb. The fact that the tomb was empty is testified to by competent witnesses—both friends and enemies; by the women, the disciples, the angels, and the Roman guards. How shall we account for the absence of the body of Jesus from the tomb? That it had not been stolen by outside parties is evident from the testimony of the soldiers who were bribed to tell that they never would have allowed such a thing to take place. Their lives would have been thereby jeopardized. And if they were asleep (v. 13), how could they know what took place? Their testimony under such circumstances would be useless.

The condition in which the linen cloths were found lying by those who entered the tomb precludes the possibility of the body being stolen. Had such been the case the cloths would have been taken with the body, and not left in perfect order, thereby showing that the body had gone out of them. Burglars do not leave things in such perfect order. There is no order in haste. Then again, we have the testimony of angels to the fact that Jesus had really risen as foretold (Matt. 28:6; Mark 16:6). The testimony of angels is surely trustworthy (Heb. 2:2).

2. The Lord's Day. The Lord's Day is not the original Sabbath. Who dared change it? For what reason, and on what ground was it changed? Ponder the tenacity with which the Jews held on to their Sabbath given in Eden, and buttressed amid the thunders of Sinai. Recall how Jews would sooner die than invade on the Sabbath day (cf. Titus' invasion of Jerusalem on the Sabbath). The Jews never celebrated the birthdays of great men; they celebrated events, like the Passover. Yet, in the New Testament times we find Jews changing their time-honored seventh day to the first day of the week, and, contrary to all precedent, calling that day after a man—the Lord's Day. Here is an effect, a tremendous effect; what was its cause? We cannot have an effect without a cause.

3. The Christian Church. We know what a grand and noble institution the Christian church is. What would this world be without it? Its hymns, worship, philanthropy, ministrations of mercy are all known to us. Where did this institution come from? It is an effect, a glorious effect; what is its cause? When the risen Christ appeared upon the discouraged disciples and revived their faith and hope, they went forth, under the all-conquering faith in a risen and ascended Lord, and preached the story of his life, death, resurrection, ascension, and coming again. Men believed these teachings; gathered themselves together to study the Scriptures, to pray, to worship Christ, and to extend his kingdom among men. This is how the church came into existence.

4. The New Testament. If Jesus Christ had remained buried in the grave, the story of his life and death would have remained buried with him. The New Testament is an effect of Christ's resurrection. It was the resurrection that put heart into the disciples to go forth and tell his story. Skeptics would have us believe that the resurrection of Christ was an afterthought of the disciples to give the story of Christ's life a thrilling climax; a decorative incident which satisfies the dramatic feeling in man; a brilliant picture at the end of an heroic life. We reply: There would have been no beautiful story to put a climax to if there had been no resurrection of the Christ of the story. The resurrection does not grow out of the beautiful story of his life, but the beautiful story of Christ's life grew out of the fact of the resurrection. The New Testament is the book of the resurrection of Christ.

Only Way to Keep a Secret. In life, usually, the only absolute, incontestable insurance of a secret is to tell it to no one. If one does not want a fact known, it is wise not to tell any part of it.—William George Jordan.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By O. E. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR MAY 24 UNPROFITABLE SERVANTS.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 17:1-19. GOLDEN TEXT—"He that glorifieth, let him glorify in the Lord." 1 Cor. 1:31.

This lesson is closely connected with that of last week; while spoken especially to his disciples it was most probably at the same time and in the same atmosphere as that of the other lesson. The teaching is a continuation of that just given and which grew out of the hospitality Jesus received in the Pharisee's house. The heart of Jesus was filled with compassion for the needy multitude. He, the Good Shepherd, was seeking the lost sheep. His anger was kindled against the men whose love of money and of show had calloused them in the presence of this multitude. It was in this spirit that he turned and taught his disciples.

A Special Warning. "Take Heed to Yourselves," vv. 1-4. It is inevitable that occasion of stumbling shall come. Satan is not going to lose his spoil without putting forth his best endeavor to hold, to ensnare, to trap men. God, however, has taken this into his plan and makes them to work out for the good of his people, Ps. 76:10; II Cor. 12:7. Why does God permit evil in the world? He uses these stumbling blocks to test us and we who are approved are made manifest, I Cor. 11:10. This does not mean that we are guiltless if through one we fall, nor minimize the guilt of the one through whom they come, see Matt. 18:7. We as followers must go to every possible length to avoid being an occasion to another, I Cor. 8:9, 13; 10:32; Rom. 14:13. In this lesson (v. 2) Jesus sounds a special warning against those who cause one of his little ones to stumble, e. g., those weak in faith, this hungering multitude who follow him, these "babes in Christ," as well as children of tender years. Particularly, however, is this doom pronounced upon those who divert from paths of righteousness the course of childhood. Not only men who prey upon those of tender years, who exploit their labor or cause their moral corruption, but careless and indifferent parents should ponder these words. To hinder a child from accepting Christ or cause it to stumble through a sinful example will reap an awful retribution. The word "these" as here used is another indication of the nearness of childhood to our Lord in his earthly life.

To avoid such a danger each individual life must "take heed" (v. 3), (I Tim. 5:16). Appealing to his disciples Jesus showed them their true attitude towards a sinning man was to rebuke him, Lev. 19:17, and if he repented he should be forgiven. It was here that the Pharisees and rulers had failed. They were "blind leaders of the blind" and failed to see the eagerness of the sinners and publicans to hear Jesus, a movement which indicated a desire to reach a higher moral plane. Understanding this, they would have forgiven them even though it be unto "seven times in the day." Forgiveness here means to dismiss or to send away.

Nothing Impossible. "Increase Our Faith," vv. 5-10. Such a program as that just outlined must have staggered the apostles as they thought of their own inability to conduct their lives. This exclamation reveals their sense of the importance, superiority and difficulty of his ideals. As we come into personal fellowship with our Lord that the eyes of our understanding are opened and we see our importance and the necessity of having him fulfill in us that which is lacking of his ideals. Their petition was a recognition of ability as well as of their need. In response to our cry he will supply, Mark 9:24-27. Nothing is impossible to him (v. 6), Phil. 4:13. The illustration is one easy to remember. The insignificant little seed of the mustard has in it tremendous power of growth and development, many thousand times its own weight and bulk, see Matt. 13:31, 32, because it is linked with God's tremendous laws of life, with omnipotence. Our Lord contrasts such power with the removal of a sycamore tree; small wonder we receive such a vivid and lasting lesson of the power of faith, even the weakest faith. Faith is a principle necessary to overcome the obstacles in the way of measuring up to his ideals if it is of the right quality, it is equal to the doing of the most mighty things. Passing from this contrast Jesus uses the parable which follows (vs. 7-10). The word "but" would suggest an apparent departure from this subject. It is, however, a correction of any false idea that may have arisen that the doing of duty can be the cause of boastfulness or create any special reward for service. The disciples, as has been suggested, realized the difficulty of obeying his commands, yet they knew that such obedience would assure them the highest rewards of faith. His words implied and warranted such a conclusion, hence he warns them not to make the reward the motive of their service.

HOW BREWERS MAKE MONEY. Hon. Frank S. Regan, in an address, "The Fool Tax Payers," delivered in Ottawa, Ill., recently made the statement that according to information furnished him by a chemist in a Milwaukee brewery, the actual cost of making a barrel of beer which retails for about $28.00 is but 72 cents, and that the cost of producing a gallon of whisky which retails for $4, is but 25 cents.

NOT TO BE TRUSTED. A man under the influence of even small quantities of alcohol has no right to believe his senses; he cannot trust them to give him correct facts, and he cannot rely on his judgment for the interpretation of these facts.—Prof. G. Sims Woodhead, M. D., University of Cambridge, Eng.

DON'T WANT SALOONS. It is reported by the Grand Forks (N. D.) Herald that James J. Hill has decided to move the division headquarters of the Great Northern railway from Garretson, S. D., to Jasper, Minn., unless the former town votes out its saloons.

ALCOHOL IS BARRED. Sir Edward Shackleton, who is preparing to lead another expedition to the Antarctic, says that the party will take with them no stimulants except tea and cocoa.

THE DIFFERENCE. If a home is robbed of $10 worth of silverware we hunt the thief with bloodhounds, but if a home is robbed of happiness, or wife and children made to suffer untold hardships through the insidious influences of drink, why that, oh, that is another matter; it's "for the good of the town, don't you know."

No Doubt. It must jar the efficiency expert to see how much energy a dog wastes in tail wagging.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

OPENED HIS EYES. A young man entered the barroom of a village tavern and called for a drink. "No," said the landlord. "You have had too much already. You have had delirium tremens once, and I cannot sell you any more."

He stepped aside for two young men who entered, and the landlord waited upon them very politely. The other stood silent and sullen. When they had finished, he walked up to the landlord and addressed him as follows:

"Six years ago, at their age, I stood where these young men are. I was a man with fair prospects. Now, at the age of twenty-eight, I am a wreck, body and mind. You led me to drink. In this room I formed the habit that has been my ruin. Now sell me a few glasses, and your work will be done. I shall soon be out of the way; there is no hope for me. They can be saved; they may be men again. Sell it to me, and let me die, and the world will be rid of me; but for heaven's sake sell no more to them."

The landlord listened, pale and trembling. Setting down his decanter, he exclaimed: "God helping me, that is the last drop I will sell to anyone." And he kept his word.

A POTENT RACE POISON.

Scientists are agreed that alcohol is a potent race poison; it poisons the whole system, notably the reproductive organs and protoplasm. Therefore we cannot have drinking without race-degeneration. If parents abstain their children are healthy, but if, later on, the parents take to drinking, the children are afflicted mentally and physically. Plato understood this when he deprecated drink for nursing mothers. If, in extreme cases, alcohol is an extreme poison, moderate drinking is moderate poisoning. The medical profession contains pro-alcoholists and anti-alcoholists; but the policy of facing both ways is weak, and before long, presumably, all medical men will be anti-alcoholists. Let them preach the gospel that there is NO USE FOR ALCOHOL IN HUMAN LIFE. Abstinence tends to true patriotism, and the state ought to do preventive work as well as curative.—Dr. V. Rutherford, Zion College, London.

CHOOSE YOUR BRIDGE.

Remember, all who have fallen into the dark river of intemperance have fallen from Moderation bridge, none from the Total Abstinence bridge. Remember, if there were no drunkards on earth today and moderate drinking should continue, there would be plenty of them tomorrow. Look once more at the procession headed by half a million drunkards dropping into the tide, a million moderate drinkers, two million of occasional, fashionable drinkers, and behind them all the boys and young men of our land—and then, as you shall face the record in eternity, I call on you to choose, as a brother of humanity, a patriot, a Christian, on which bridge you will cross.—Frances E. Willard.

WHY HE QUIT DRINKING.

Indianapolis newspapers tell the story of why a certain attorney suddenly quit drinking. With great liberality he patronized one saloonkeeper for a number of years. Recently the saloon man bought a house and lot and had another lawyer examine the abstract for him. The steady patron resented this and wanted to know why the saloonkeeper turned away from his own customer to give business to a man who never patronizes his or any other saloon. "When I have business for an attorney," said the saloonkeeper, "I want it done by a sober lawyer." This is why the attorney has quit drinking.

HE EXPLAINS.

"What do you mean by kissing the housemaid?" "It was an excusable mistake, my dear. The hall was dark, and she had on your face powder and your beautiful golden hair."

THE REASON.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters: CAMDEN, N. J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 1135 Knight St., Camden, N. J.

And this one from Mrs. Haddock: UTICA, OKLA.—"I was weak and nervous, not able to do my work and scarcely able to be on my feet. I had backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, trouble with my bowels, and inflammation. Since taking the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am better than I have been for twenty years. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I have recommended it to others."—Mrs. MARY ANN HADDOCK, Utica, Oklahoma.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Butterfly Decoration. Many artists have employed the butterfly in decoration, but neither brush nor crayon is as effective as nature itself. No imitation, however good, can do justice to the gorgeous colors of the tropical butterfly. One might as well try to reproduce a rainbow in oils. A most effective novelty—a butterfly tray—was shown me yesterday by a charming North side hostess. It was made on the same principle as the tapestry tray. A glittering butterfly, the spread of whose wings must have been all of ten inches, was mounted on a stalk of milkweed. The pressed butterfly was then covered with glass and hermetically sealed in.
