The sixteen horses offered for sale at the City Hotel last Saturday, brought good prices.

The Pennsylvania railroad placed orders last week for 100,000 tons of steel rails.

It's all right to make hay while the sun shines, but some of us came very nearly not having any hay to make while the sun shone.

A 3-ton road plow was taken through here on Monday to be used in ploughing up roads where necessary to level them. The plow is drawn behind the road roller when in use.

Secretary of State, William Jennings Bryan, will lecture in Chambersburg Saturday evening, July 18th. The lecture will not be political, but will be one of his famous Chautauqua discourses.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

Claud McCusker, who shot to death Jefferson Roman, near Hancock, on May 30, 1910, after having baffled the police for four years, was arrested near Greensburg, Pa., last week, and will be tried in Hagerstown, in the November court.

A letter from Albert Heikes, Great Falls, Mont., says that his family are all very well, and that while they have had a dry season, the crops are very promising. He wishes to be remembered kindly to all his old Fulton county friends.

Mrs. Matilda B. Trout went to Chambersburg last Friday to see her daughter, Mrs. E. R. McClain, who has been in the hospital for several weeks. While in Chambersburg, Mrs. Trout was the guest of Mrs. Ida Parker Skinner. Mrs. Trout found her daughter to be improving rapidly, and came home Sunday with Mr. McClain, who drove over for her in his auto. Mrs. McClain will remain at the hospital until she fully recovers from the severe operation which she underwent.

David Malloy, a former well known business man of this place, dropped into town last Saturday for a short sojourn among old acquaintances. About eight years ago Mr. Malloy went to Wyoming where he preempted a quarter-section (160 acres) of government land. He afterwards purchased eighty acres of adjoining land, so that he now owns, clear of encumbrance, 240 acres of good land, which we think is a pretty good eight-years' work. Mr. Malloy looks well, and the dry climate of the Rocky Mountains seems to have preserved him first rate.

The Alaska Dog Team.

Estell Mason and her team of Eskimo dogs passed through this place last Friday morning. According to the postal cards which she sells to support herself and dogs, and an escort, they left Nome, Alaska, October 27, 1908, for a trip of 32,000 miles around the world. They are now on their way to San Francisco to attend the Panama World's Fair. The team is composed of nine dogs, seven of which were drawing the low-wheeled wagon; the other two ran with the team. Besides the nine grown dogs, there were seven puppies in the wagon, or, rather, in the sled; for the "second story" of the outfit was a sled, and in case snow is encountered, the vehicle can be reversed and the wagon can be carried on the sled.

Stock Sells High.

It has been freely predicted for some time that the price of all kinds of meat would soon go to highest known. The following dispatch from Chicago would indicate that somebody knew what he was talking about:

Chicago, July 13.—Cattle prices at the Union Stock Yards reached a record point today when choice beefs sold for $10.00.

This price was the highest ever paid there in July and was a top point for the year. Hogs touched $9, the highest level in months.
