"The Lord hath need of him," vv. 1.7. It was a test of faith for these disciples to obey the Lord's command (v. 2), yet they did precisely what they were commanded to do (v. 6). Obedience is the supreme test of discipleship, John 15:14. When the disciples entered the village (v. 1) they found the colt "whereon no man ever wafst elsewhere, is repeated here. The yet sat." Before this only the disciples accepted his kingdom claims, now the multitude found their expression of gratification. Passing into the city, sitting upon the colt, he was accompanied by their chants of praise. Their first word was, "Hosanna"-their last "Hosanna in the highest." Between these they exclaimed, "Blessed is the kingdom that cometh, of our father David." drunkards and murderers and libertines into saints, and leading multitudes out of idolatry and sin into the light and liberty of the gospel. VII. There are some who claim that Jesus was thoroughly sincere in all that he said, but that he was mistaken and simply imagined himself to be the Son of God. They refer to what they call the contradictions in his testimony, as for instance in his testihe says, "I and my Father are one," and in another place, "The Father is greater than I." They say that he cannot be one with God and at the same time inferior to God. A young man once raised this objection in the inquiry room and the preacher said to him in reply, "Suppose that you had been on earth when Jesus was here and had heard him make these contradictory statements; and had asked him, saying, 'Master, I do not quite understand you. A little while ago you said. "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father," and now you say, "My Father is greater than I."" And suppose he had said in reply, 'My child, what if, for the purpose of your redemption from sin, I voluntarily laid aside my eternal glory and suffered myself to be born of a woman. thus limiting my being to the conditions of your nature that I might, in that nature, offer to God such a sacrifice for sin as would enable him to proclaim forgiveness of sins to the whole world? I am indeed one with the Father; but for purposes of atonement I have voluntarily assumed an inferior position, that I might thus take your place and die, which I could not have done unless I had taken a subordinate place, yea, and your very nature. Thus I sometimes speak of my eternal relation to God, and sometimes of my relation to him as the messenger of the covenant sent forth to redeem." children.

He listened attentively and then said, "Did Christ ever make such an explanation?" He was asked to read Philippians 2:5-8. He read it and said, "Wonderful! Wonderful! Yes, the Son of God made himself of no reputation for me, and took my nature, and died on the cross for me!" Then looking up he said. "What have I got to do about it?" "Accept him; believe on him; and confess him as your Savior."

their who was coming, hence double blessing to the king and to the kingdom. Jesus seems to have yielded his whole soul to this glad acclaim. It was a necessary part of that dignity which should properly be accorded to the Messlah on this his last entry into the Holy City. This suggestion about the Galileans may explain the cry uttered the last part of the week by the citizens of Jerusalem. "Crucify him." Still we feel sure that many of this same crowd joined this latter cry. The use of the word "many" (v. 8) seems to indicate that everyone joined the acclamations of joy.

Effect of Psychology.

Some of that crowd were doubtless moved by the "psychology of the crowd," and their devotion was shortlived. It is not hard to imagine the effect this strange procession must have produced upon the city as it moved on to the temple. Some threw their garments upon the ground to pave his way. Others took palm branches (John 12:13) and strewed them in his path.

Some of the Pharisees cried out against this demonstration, Luke 19: 39, but the Master replied, "If these should hold their peace the stones would immediately cry out," Luke 19: 40. From Luke's account we see that Jesus did not seem to share the joy of that day, Luke 19:40-44. He saw the end from the beginning, and rightly estimated, at its true value, the evanescent adulation of the crowd. Summary. This is a strange triumph. What a variety of emotions it must have aroused. Those of the disciples. the crowd, the Jewish sects, the Roman soldiers and citizens, and in the breast of Jesus. How different than the triumphal processions of Rome. Heaven also saw the events of that day.

The clothing cast before him speaks of sacrifice on his behalf. The chanting of children's voices were a prophecy of his ultimate victory.

The disciples and the multitude were filled with hope. The Galileans poured forth their paean of praise and exultation. The on-looking rulers of Israel, already plotting his arrest, must have presented dark and sinister faces. In the midst of all this what of his heart? Was it not filled with loneliness? Did he not know the mistaken zeal, the false hopes, the aroused antipathy? Yet, he is not alone, for he had the Father with bins.

No Help for It,

At one of the New York restaurants a willowy cabaret young person was doing the latest steps. The room was crowded, and most of the patrons stood in order to get a better view. One old gentleman, a Kentuckian, remained in his chair, playing idly with his glass, though the other members of his party were on tip-toe with interest. Finally one of them, a young girl, caught the old gentleman's sleeve and pulled it impatiently. "Oh, come on, major!" she said.

"After our long experience with Grape-Nuts, I cannot say enough in Its favor. We have used this food almost continually for seven years.

"We sometimes tried other advertised breakfast foods but we invariably returned to Grape-Nuts as the most palatable, economical and nourishing of all.

"When I quit tea and coffee and began to use Postum and Grape-Nuts, I was almost a nervous wreck. I was so irritable I could not sleep nights, quick. had no interest in life.

"After using Grape-Nuts a short time I began to improve and all these ailments have disappeared and now I am a well woman. My two children have been almost raised on Grape-Nuts, which they eat three times a day.

"They are pictures of health and have never had the least symptom of stomach trouble, even through the most severe slege of whooping cough they could retain Grape-Nuts when all else failed.

Hero of War of 1812. *

One hundred years ago Capt. David Porter, one of the naval herces of the War of 1812, was given a great popular ovation by the people of Philadelphia. Ten days previously Captain Forter had reached New York after a long and hazardous voyage from Volparaiso, where on March 28, he had commanded the frigate Essex in her gallant, but unsuccessful fight of government rallways, hoping to against the British ships Phoebe and Cherub. Upon their arrival in New York, the surviving officers and members of the crew of the Essex were given an enthusiastic welcome. From New York Captain Porter proceeded to Philadelphia, where another popular ovation awaited him. On his arrival in the suburbs of the city the horses were taken from his carriage and it was drawn to the hotel by the populace.

The mother was horrified, and said: "Daughter, what makes you act so?" "Well, mother, dad said last night 'that Mr. Black's sermons were enough to make a cat sick,' and I don't want mine sick."
