McConnellsburg has been undergoing its annual shortage of water for the last two weeks.

Miss Emma Sloan will leave for Johnstown Saturday to engage in teaching in the public schools.

Miss Helen L. Ott returned home Sunday after having spent last week very pleasantly with friends in Shippensburg.

Happy is the farmer who has a good supply of potash on hand. The chief source of our supply is bottled up in Germany on account of war.

Charlie Stenger, of Jugtown, had the tips of two of his fingers badly cut last week while working about the shaper in William Clevenger's shop.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

Advertisements.

We desire to express our thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the sickness and death of our dear wife and children.

If any of our readers have trouble with garlic, and care to know how to get rid of it, drop a card to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and ask for bulletin No. 610. Do this now, as much of the necessary work must be done in the fall.

It is reported that J. J. Conrad's residence, near Carlisle, was struck by lightning during a severe thunder storm on last Thursday evening, and burned. We have no further particulars. Many other buildings in that section were burned during the storm, including the barn on the McCormack estate.

The road makers tried some new surfacing material on Cove mountain the other day. Asa Keefer's dog was lying in front of the steam roller when the engineer, not knowing that the dog was there, ran over him and flattened him out so that he resembled a new map of Europe as it will appear after the war is ended.

Ethel, little daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Croft, of Dane, drives a pair of spirited horses to town occasionally all alone, and delivers produce to dealers, makes purchases, and transacts other business just as well as many others of four times her tender age. Her brother Lester was with her to town Monday. Next thing she will be running the auto.

One of our reporters lost his breath for a few minutes Monday when he saw a farmer buying a dozen two-bushel grain bags and make the remark as he paid for them, "that's where the money goes." Naturally our reporter thought the farmer was buying the bags to hold twenty-four bushels of money; but the farmer explained that "money goes" with bags when borrowers fail to return them. Our reporter is now a wiser man.

Josiah Allen, his granddaughter Miss Julia Allen, Miss Ruth McGhee, Julian McGhee and Andy Fore autoed from Burnt Cabins to this place last Friday where they spent a few hours calling on friends. Mr. Allen removed from a point four miles this side of Chambersburg to Illin in 1865, and about five years ago returned to Chambersburg. Older teamsters will recall when his father kept hotel on the pike between Loudon and Chambersburg Josiah is a brother of Andy Fore's mother.

FACT.

Local Evidence.

Evidence that can be verified. Fact is what we want. Opinion is not enough. Opinions differ. There will be a picnic by the Fairview M. E. Sunday School on Saturday, August 29th in the woods belonging to Riley Hess north of Fairview church. Come to enjoy yourselves. On account of the European war, work at William Deavor's saw mill has been rather slack the past few weeks. The lumber for Reichley Bros. & Company has been sent to the Anthracite coal regions. Since the war began, it has been somewhat difficult to handle the output of coal. Some of the colliers do not care to risk being captured.

SALUVIA
We gladly greet the signs that the day of extreme heat is about being broken, and we may expect cooler breezes and some rain.

The sad funeral of Mrs. M. M. Hockensmith was largely attended on Friday last, at Siloam M. E. Church.

Mrs. William Edwards, of Jeannette, Pa., a daughter of George Minnick by his first wife, is visiting her grand mother, Mrs. Lydia Minnick, and other relatives in this section.

Mrs. C. H. Mann visited Postmaster and Mrs. W. Robert Speer, of Everett, a few days ago.

Chief Statistician Penn. Agricultural Dept., L. H. Wible, has gone to Columbus, Ohio, on official business; and Mrs. Wible, is visiting relatives in Sycamore, and Chicago Junction, Ohio.

Now and then, auto tourists complain of farmers, and teamsters, in the county, who will not give room, or allow automobiles to pass their wagons. A few days ago a farmer near Columbia Pa., was prosecuted and fined for not allowing an automobile to pass his wagon, despite the pleadings of the autoist to turn out far enough to allow the auto to pass.

Richard P. Deshong, is having some much needed repairs made to the former Austin homestead. Homer L. Sipes and helpers are the artisans.

Hollis M. Wible, of Harrisburg after two weeks spent very busily photographing and finishing some of the fine pictures in, and around, Green Hill, and helping to entertain auto and other guests is now visiting relatives in McConnellsburg.

William H. Hoop, is still seriously ill, and suffers intensely at times.

The big furnace and boiler for heating the new bank building is being installed this week.

WEST DUBLIN.

Some of our folks braved the dust to go to Camp Meeting at Crystal Springs on Sunday. Others preferred to stay at home and if possible, enjoy a quiet siesta in the shade.

There will be a picnic by the Fairview M. E. Sunday School on Saturday, August 29th in the woods belonging to Riley Hess north of Fairview church. Come to enjoy yourselves.
