Fence Building Machine.

A Fence-Building machine that will not only stretch the straight wires but will weave in the mesh between them is one of the latest developments in farming accessories. This machine is equipped with a gasoline engine, which supplies the power both for traction and for operating, and will do its work going up or downhill as well as on the level. A picture of the machine appears in the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

DOUGLEY.

By Dougley's rugged banks I view
An open vein of Earth's life blood.
Silence reigns; a winding path through dew
Leads thirsting mortals to its food.
Death's hand has touched o'erhanging cliffs;
Parched fields lie round about;
Murky haze through shadow drifts—
Nineteen fourteen's work of drought.
Across the valley a hapless rill,
Pettered by Man's boasted power,
Vainly obeys his selfish will
To cheer him in this dark hour.
Though rimmed with gold and bound in rock,
Pathway made of polished plates,
Its Master, Nature, could but mock
Finite Man and his mistakes.
But Dougley's never failing stream
Of blessing for friend or foe
Moves on, though but a mossy seam
Guides its unflinching flow.
A friend forgotten, save when Need
Humbles fainting Creature's pride;
Then, Dougley knows no class, no creed;
Asks no value, scorns to chide.
Like deeds of unassuming men
Who ask no place in Fame's Hall,
Dougley lives; and will draw us when
Man's best handiwork shall fall.—J. S. B.

SALUVIA

We gladly greet you again, not to tell you that it is terribly dry and dusty and all vegetation is burning up; we won't bother you with all our troubles; but if any of you have ever had real, insidious, excruciating rheumatism, all over your body, then you will know how it knocks all the vim and energy out of the nerves of man. Glad to say we have found a remedy to relieve us, which if it fully cure us, will be passed on to some good man and woman we know are suffering with the terrible malady.

We gladly note that R. P. Schooley who was not expected to live part of last week with gravel, is better, with good prospects of recovery.

Dwight Sipes keeps in much the same condition. It is feared an operation will be necessary in his case.

Mrs. John Haan is very low at this writing. She has been a great sufferer, off and on, for the past two years. How often we have noted the same illness.

Messrs. Spangler and Harris moved their saw mill outfit Tuesday to their timber on the old Thomas Runyan place on the east foot of Siding Hill, having finished up the Baltzer F. Dishong timber.

There will surely be a rabbit for every man woman or child in Fulton county, they seem so plentiful. Squirrels and quail seem scarce.

Every boy and young man in this section who can wield a pick shovel, axe, &c. seems to be busy at work. Right, boys, learn to work and stick to it. It will give you health, competence and prosperity.

The communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed at Green Hill Presbyterian church on next Sabbath, September 27th, at 2:30 p. m.

L. W. FUNK

DEALER IN

High Grade Plain Pianos, Player Pianos, Organs, Victrolas, Records, and Professional Tuner, McConnellsburg,

Nothing adds more to the refinements of home than good music. To have good music you must have a good instrument. There are good bad and indifferent instruments, and to the unskilled eye they look much alike. The unprincipled dealer is likely to make you pay a first-class price for a fourth-class instrument. I have lived in this county since my birth, I am a taxpayer and in a position to make good any business transactions. Buy your piano, organ, or victrola from me and if it is not all right you can come back at me.

There are families in every part of this county that have purchased instruments from me. Ask them about me.

Perhaps you want to trade your organ for a Piano, or Player Piano; or your Plain Piano, for a Player. See me. Let's talk it over.
