It is a cold day when Grant Baker cannot scare up some live stock to accommodate a customer. He is always awake.

Ex-assessor and Mrs. E. W. Swope, of Licking Creek township, were in town Saturday, the latter on rather a painful errand, as she visited a dentist that day.

The case of Claude McCusker, charged with the killing of Justus Roman, near Hancock, four years ago, goes over to the November term of court here.—Hancock News.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

A piece of rock from a blast knocked the whistle off of the engine at the State Highway quarry at the west end of town last week, and let the steam escape and the engine was out of commission for a few days.

We acknowledge the receipt of a new road map of Fulton county by F. M. Taylor. The map is drawn to a scale of half inch to the mile, and shows all township lines, post offices, and public roads, and is a good guide for any one contemplating a trip into parts of the county where he may not be familiar with the roads.

Before throwing your old straw hat into the ash barrel this fall, be sure that there are no fifty-dollar bills in the lining. A Philadelphia man forgot to remove his fifty which was secreted in the hat band; but an honest garbage man found it and returned it to him. Do not take any chances, as not all garbage men are honest.

There were lots of bears in town Monday, and all of them must have been eating too many huckleberries and got seeds in their teeth, for William, of Green Hill, and Frank and his daughter Marjory, of Fort Littleton, were in town early that morning to see the dentist. Frank looked the sorest on the outside, or else he had a five-cent plug of tobacco in his left cheek.

J. K. Johnston, whose place of business fronts on the Lincoln way, is brightening up the exterior of the building with a coat of white paint. By another summer, tourists will say "What a nice, clean place is McConnellsburg." Liberal applications of paint to the buildings on a business street looks far nicer than when the ladies—er—we mean, isn't this a nice day?

Postmaster and Mrs. S. B. Woollett, and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Kirk spent from Friday until Sunday in Mt. Union. More than thirty years ago, the Woolletts came to this place from Mt. Union, and for twenty years, neither of them have been in that place. Wishing to see the improvement they had heard so much about, they concluded to take a short vacation and visit old scenes.

Sherlock Holmes.

Conan Doyle's new detective story, in which Sherlock Holmes solves a most baffling mystery, starts in the Sunday Press of September 20th. The story is entitled "The Valley of Fear" and more money was paid for this serial than has been paid for any other story in the history of publication. It is the most remarkable detective tale which Conan Doyle has yet conceived. Follow the greatest of detectives in this new mystery story starting next Sunday.

DAYS OF DIZZINESS.

Come to Hundreds of McConnellsburg People.

There are days of dizziness: Spells of headache, languor, back ache; Sometimes rheumatic pains; Often urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney ills.

Endorsed in McConnellsburg by grateful friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Lucinda Clevenger, Water St., McConnellsburg, Pa., says: "I know from several years experience with Doan's Kidney Pills that they do good work. I was in poor health for some time. My back ached badly and I could not do my housework. I had dizzy spells and chills and was annoyed by the kidney secretions. Often swelling appeared under my eyes, and I was very nervous at night. I was troubled by rheumatic twinges. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Trout's Drug Store, and since then I haven't been troubled by my back and kidneys. I can't say too much for this remedy."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Clevenger had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
