Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Shaffner entertained a company of friends very pleasantly at their comfortable home on Court House Square.

We were favored last week by a call from Harry Gray, of Bethel township, who was in town for the purpose of securing a hunter's license.

By request of some of my old customers, I am again in shape to build you an all wool suit as low as $16.00. Chas. E. Goldsmith. 10-22-21

On account of the continued rainy weather last week, the receipts of the Hagerstown Fair Association fell $10,000.00 short of that last year.

Quite a number of our local hunters report having killed the limit of squirrels on the opening day of the season. Not many pheasants were killed.

Mrs. Blair Waltz and little daughter Margaret, of Plum Run, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Weaver, Jr., of Hancock, R. R. 2, spent last Saturday in town shopping.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

Mrs. Mary E. Marshall, an art student, spoke to a large audience in the Lutheran church last Sunday, and gave an interesting account of a recent trip to Europe, and her experience in the war zone.

About 550 resident hunters' licenses were issued by clerk Davis up until the opening of the shooting season. More have been issued since, but many more will have to be called for if last year's mark is to be reached.

Archie Fisher and wife, of Bethel township, are employed in one of the big fruit orchards near Hancock. They recently spent a few days with Mr. Fisher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calendine Fisher, of Bethel township.

The stork was riding about the country in Dr. Mosser's car lately, and left a little boy at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall's, in Tod township, last Saturday, and the very next day left a little girl at Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Knable's, in Ayr township.

It is said that large numbers of horses are being shipped from the United States in Canada, presumably for shipment to England. Enough have gone to make it certain that there will be no surplus of horses and mules very soon, and that we may look for higher prices.

Mrs. John M. Diehl, of Welsh Run, came to town last Saturday to visit the many friends she made while she and her husband occupied the Presbyterian parsonage in this place. Mrs. Diehl will be here all this week. She is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Daniels.

About a score of friends of Miss Gertrude Hoke surprised her on last Wednesday evening by calling upon her while she was spending the night with Mrs. L. W. Seylar. They brought all kinds of kitchen utensils which were intended for use when she goes to housekeeping.

Clerk of the Courts A. S. Guyer, of Bedford, accompanied by J. N. Wertz and A. L. Hafer—both of Bedford, R. R. 3, passed through McConnellsburg early last Saturday morning in a big Hudson Six, on their way to Pottstown, Pa. These gentlemen are shareholders in the National Rubber Works in that city, and were on their way to attend one of the business meetings.

George a Harris took Mrs. Marshall McKibbin and her little son to Hancock last Sunday, from there they will go to their home in Washington, D. C.

Misses Minnie Carothers, Minnie Gladfelter, and Mr. and Mrs. George N. Sipes, of Hustontown, were shopping in town Monday and paid the NEWS office a short visit, but the old office parrot would not talk to them.

Bert Heeter, Dr. Campbell, James Alloway and Chesnut Alloway—all of New Grenada, and Jay Alloway, of Gracey, made a trip to McConnellsburg last Saturday in Bert's new Ford touring car. There are other fellows besides Bert that might, with advantage, take a doctor along when they go out motoring.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

GEORGE B. MELLOTT

Hon. George B. Mellott is well known to almost every voter in this county, as a successful farmer and business man, and as a faithful representative in the last General Assembly of the State.

At no time during the sessions of the term which he served in the Legislature did he neglect his post of duty, and as proof of his record of how closely he applied himself to business, and how he voted on all bills, he respectfully refers any and all to the legislative records at Harrisburg.

In asking for your vote at the coming election, Mr. Mellott is gladly answering all inquiries as to how he stands. He makes no pretence to carry favor by giving evasive replies as to how he will vote on certain bills that are expected to come before the Legislature.

Particular stress is laid upon the necessity of returning him to the next sessions by reason of the fact that the election of Hon. Vance C. McCormick for governor is practically assured, and, in order that the reforms that Mr. McCormick stands for may be carried out, it will be absolutely necessary that legislators, who are in full sympathy with Mr. McCormick, be elected. Mr. Mellott is standing by Mr. McCormick on all vital questions concerning the moral and industrial welfare of the State, and all know how Mr. McCormick stands. When McCormick was mayor of Harrisburg he cleaned up that city as never before; he gave every cent of his salary to benevolence while mayor; he is now fighting for the cleansing of the whole State. Mr. Mellott fully believes in the rule of the people, and he will be better able to work to that end during a second term, to which he respectfully asks your support at the election on November 3rd.

A Great Scheme.

Some of us may live to see the rich soil that is now being washed to the sea brought back again along with that from otherlands, and made to again enrich our worn-out fields.

Students of economics have repeatedly warned that some day the fertility of the earth will be exhausted and the human race perish for lack of food. Attention is being given by constructive thinkers, however, to the problem of finding somewhere an inexhaustible store of fertilizer with which to restore plant food to the soil. According to an article in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine, the latest suggestion is that the Sargasso Sea, that strange marine meadow of interlaced sea plants covering a vast area in mid-Atlantic between the Antilles, the Azores, and Cape Verde, may be made to renew the vitality of the farm lands of all the world.

The algae and various other forms of water vegetation which abound in the Sargasso Sea are rich in nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potassium and magnesium sulphate, essential constituents of plant life. Besides this the seaweeds contain sodium, chlorine, iodine, and other materials beneficial to certain crops, and cellulose in quantities estimated to be greater than that obtainable from the combined forests of Scandinavia, Russia, and Canada. All these salts and substances have been washed into the sea from the land, the volume of such waste increasing annually and rapidly.

In spite of all that has been said about there being no ships to carry it, millions of dollars worth of food stuffs are going from this country to Europe to feed the soldiers. Our factories are being deluged with orders for wagons, blankets, tenting material, tent stoves, and manufactured articles of every description. The men that made these things in Europe are fighting in the army, and they must look to America for supplies.
