Miss Grace Hann has received the appointment of Postmistress at Saluvia and will soon enter upon her duties. We wish her much success.

O. E. Hann (Bert) has taken the stock of merchandise at Saluvia store and will add more goods thereto and conduct the business. He and his family will move to the L. C. Mann house in the near future, leaving their own cozy, comfortable house vacant for the present.

Scott Wible and family moved from the John Oyler homestead to Edgar Hann's house. Edgar Hann had sale on Monday of this week and will move his family to Bethel township where he is teaching school.

Mr. and Mrs. Christy Rhinehart have reopened their "Coke Spring bungalow" at Saluvia and are entertaining a number of their Johnstown friends and hunters.

J. Wilson Daniels, Edward Swope, Ulysis Deshong and other citizens have been entertaining some city friends on a hunting tour.

John McDonald, proprietor of the large stone house, built by Col. Reamer in stage coach days, known as Dr. Scott's homestead, at east foot of Siding Hill, is having said house repaired and fitted up for his residence, as well as his brother George and family.

Shellbarks not are plenty in Licking Creek bottoms. It is said that squirrels cut them down while green. Chestnuts are quite scarce—too dry for them. Roxbury, Franklin county, locality seemed to have the chestnuts. C. E. Shields, of that vicinity, shipped eleven and one half bushels on the 12th.

Quite a number of our citizens have been seeing what they think is a comet, at night. Yes, it is Selman's comet, and it can now be well seen with the naked eye, in the western sky, ten degrees below the last star in the handle of the "Big Dipper" and is moving toward the bright star Arcturus, above which it will pass on the 26th of October.

FOR CONGRESS,
FRANK L. DERSHEM.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2, 1914.
Hon. Frank L. Dershem,
Member of Congress,

MY DEAR SIR: Inclosed find copy of preamble and resolutions passed by the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture, in annual session in this city January 28-30, which is self-explanatory.

Anything that you will be able to do to assist this proposed legislation will meet the approval of this board and, I believe, the approval of the agricultural interests of this State.

Very truly yours,

Secretary State Board of Agriculture.

The following preambles and resolutions were adopted by the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture, at its regular annual session held at Harrisburg, Pa., January 28-30, 1914:

Whereas Pennsylvania, at the last election, clearly demonstrated that she believes in a system of business roads leading from the farm to the market town, railroad station, school, and church on the "pay-as-you-go" plan; and

Whereas, a bill now in Congress, known as the Shackleford road measure, provides aid for the various States for the improvement of roads by granting $60 per mile for macadam, $30 per mile for earth roads, yielding annually over $1,000,000 to Pennsylvania's share; Therefore,

Resolved, That we urge that each individual Congressman and Senator representing the Keystone State support by their vote the passage of the Shackleford road bill.

Resolved further, That we indorse the action of Congressman Dershem and others in the loyal support they are giving the measure in their Committee on Public Roads.

Resolved, That we direct to forward copy of these resolutions to the Members of each House of Congress from Pennsylvania.

provided by law; but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and which shall be reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to-wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities; for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount, which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than five years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual installments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.
