Ring Around.

Mary had a little ring,
'Twas given her by Joe,
And everywhere that Mary went,
That ring was sure to go.
She took the ring with her one day
When she went out to tea
Where she might show it to the girls
Who numbered twenty-three.
And when the girls all saw the ring,
They made a great ado.
And all exclaimed in chorus:
"Has it at last got 'round to YOU?"

Supervisors' Convention.

The annual supervisors' convention met in the Court House yesterday. The time was profitably spent in informal talks upon the hundred-and-one questions that confront supervisors of modern roads. Mr. W. A. Wynne, superintendent of the Bureau of Highways was present, and the supervisors made good use of him by asking information on knotty problems and for data on experience of supervisors in other counties who had met the same difficulties. With the advent of auto travel came questions of responsibility in regard to accidents from causes common to all roads, and these were discussed with Mr. Wynne.

Members of the association present were: Harvey Unger and David L. Uver, of Ayr; John W. Truax and B. F. Simpson, of Thompson; W. H. Peck, Belfast; Grant Baker, of Dublin, and Watson Schooley of Licking Creek township.

Mr. Wm. Truax and Master Earl Spade are sick.

Another Big Tree

Mrs. Lucina Forner tells us that while visiting in Franklin county recently, she saw a Red Oak on Miss Mary Rankin's farm near Mercersburg that measured 31 feet in circumference, two feet above the ground.

Mrs. A. M. Seavey (Minnie Comer) Dixon, Ill., in remitting the coin for another year's subscription to the NEWS says they had very pleasant weather for Thanksgiving, and had, at that time, but few nights of freezing weather. Among the many things to be thankful for was an abundant crop of corn of extraordinary quality, the harvesting of which was just about completed.

David L. Peck, of Greenville, Ohio, his brother Daniel, wife, and son Frank, of Caldwell, Kansas, are visiting among their many Pennsylvania relatives and friends. Daniel's last home in this county, was with his father, Jonathan Peck, west of Needmore.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

All the Teachers in the County Present, but One. Evening Entertainments Fine.

So carefully had everything been planned by County Superintendent Thomas, for the carrying forward of the work of the present institute, that when the button was touched Monday afternoon, the machinery of the organization began to move without the slightest sign of friction, and is running now to the entire satisfaction of every one concerned.

The day instructors, mentioned in last week's NEWS, were on the carpet at the opening, and as one after another took his place on the rostrum, it soon became patent that no mistake had been made in their selection.

Of the eighty-two teachers in the County, eighty-one were present at the opening. While the weather has been somewhat rainy, the temperature has been mild, and has not interfered with the attendance upon the evening lectures and entertainments. Dr. James Hedley was here during Joseph F. Barton's administration as county superintendent, and repeated his lecture on the Sunny Side of life Monday evening. Those who heard it then, were glad to listen to it the second time, and those who were hearing for the first time, got a lesson that was well worth listening to.

The Leigh Concert Company Tuesday evening gave a most excellent entertainment. The ladies composing the company are all artists in their respective lines, and well worthy the confidence of the entertainment loving public.

Dr. Waters, the lecturer of Wednesday evening, was no disappointment to the most critical. He has a great lecture, and he knows how to drive home the great truths it contains. It is to be hoped that everyone who heard it, will take its lessons to heart and be wiser, and happier from having heard it.

NEEDMORE.

After having enjoyed another Thanksgiving dinner your correspondent will proceed to chronicle the news of this section.

G. H. Shaffer, near this place lost a valuable horse last week. It was kicked by another horse and had to be killed.

Our worthy postmaster, Grant Mellott, fell off of the steps recently and seriously injured one of his legs. At this writing he is improving.

Two evangelists appeared in our village two weeks ago and opened a meeting on November 13th. The visiting ministers are from Philadelphia, and are Rev. Robert Humphreys, formerly of Ireland, and Rev. Herbert Hill, formerly of England. Mr. Hill in addition to being a good preacher, is a fine singer. Mr. Humphreys is a forceful expounder of the Word, and together, they are preaching with power to large crowds nightly. Their doctrine is undenominational, and the meetings are attracting great interest. May they long be spared to carry the good news of salvation to mankind.

More Hoggish.

Our Knobsville friends want the confiding public to know that there are others. Milton Shadler butchered three hogs that dressed, respectively, 230, 302, and 323, and got 175 pounds of lard. George Glunt butchered two, that dressed respectively, 370 and 515 with 250 pounds of lard. There have been several butchers that weighed over 300 but Mr. Glunt has the heaviest up to this time. Next!

Notice.

Notice is hereby given to the public generally that the names of all persons who shall sign applications for liquor license at the coming license court, will be published in the news papers of the county. Mrs. W. B. Kendall President of the McConnellsburg, W. C. T. U.

C. Y. S. N. S. Notes.

Our Basket Ball team won one of the fastest games ever witnessed on our floor on Saturday afternoon, by defeating the All Scholastic Five of Steelton, score 27-26. The visitors were in the lead at the ending of the first half, but at the ending of the last half, the locals succeeded in tying the score. During the five minutes extra, which is required to finish a tie game, the Normal boys succeeded in scoring the winning point. Grove, Barnhart and Boden starred for Normal, while Krout and Atticks played the best game for the visitors.

The Thanksgiving Play proved to be very successful. The whole cast, which consisted of forty-one members, was photographed, and it will appear in the next number of the school catalogue. The proceeds of about $140 will go to further the work of the Christian organizations.

Messrs. Glenn Lehman and Clyde Barnhart rendered two very good duets in Normal Literary Society last Friday evening.

Dr. Ezra Lehman will be present at the County Institute in McConnellsburg on Thursday and Friday of this week, where he will meet many former students and graduates of this school.

McAlevy's War Against the Constitution

Does Pennsylvania remember Robin Hood? Does she recall the bold outlaw who defied law and order for his political beliefs?

McAlevy has no rank in the forefront of the state's heroes, but for all that he was a commanding figure back in the days of the constitutional troubles. He was the type of man who gets what he wants regardless of laws and rules. He was not a man to sit still under what he considered injustice, so he rose and defied the whole nation.

His personality and historic adventures are told in "McAlevy's War against the Constitution," one of the Romances from Pennsylvania History which are appearing in the Sunday North American. Reading of this feature page known from their weakly experience in following it that the series is a remarkable one.

On December 6 the story of McAlevy will be published, and it will be particularly well liked in this section of the state, because there are so many incidents and scenes in it that will be familiar to residents in this locality. Did you ever notice how well you like a novel that is written about people, things and places that you recognized? The same feeling of meeting an old friend will be realized in reading this spirited romance.
