Former Title Of Philadelphia Body Goes To Northampton Organization-To Fight Abolition Of Internal Affairs Post.

Harrisburg .-- Application of citizens of South Bethlehem for the organization of a battery of field artillery to be mustered into the National Guard has been approved, and it will be officially designated as Battery A. Taking a title which has been vacant since shortly after the Spanish war when Battery A of Philadelphia became a troop of cavalry. It is planned to issue the necessary orders for the muster in of the battery within six weeks. Citizens of South Bethlehem are erecting an armory and have given assurance of use of thirty acres of ground for drills and training of horses, the erection of stables and furnishing of twenty-five horses and requisition will be made to the War Department for material so that the guns will be on hand when the armory is finished. This will give the State four batteries.

Under instructions from the Governor, Adjutant General Stewart will issue orders for the muster into the National Guard within the next two weeks of a field hospital at Tacony, Phtladelphia. This will be known as Field Hospital No. 2 and will likely be commanded by Captain Elmer E. Kelser, medical corps, National Guard.

The Winter Inspection of organizations of the National Guard by army officers to determine their readiness for field service will begin soon after the new year. This is separate from the inspection by the officers of the guard. The cavalry inspection will begin January 4 and the infantry inspection will begin January 11 and February 15. The dates for the inspection by State officers have not been determined.

Want Late Deer Season.

"Deer hunters and many men interested in hunting throughout Pennsylvania will ask the next Legislature to change the deer hunting season and I sincerely trust that a change of the season to make it run from December 1 to 15 will be made," declared Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission. "The season just closed has been very successful, but there have been people killed and the change in the law should be made on humanitarian grounds, if so no other."

"After December 1 the leaves are all off the trees and the bird hunters have finished up their hunting," he continued. "With the leaves off there is less danger of people being killed and the number of accidents will be greatly reduced. Deer can be better

A week or two later, when riding with a friend, we stopped for a moment to admire the view, when down he went again. It was evident to me that he had been trained to lie down at a given signal, but I never could discover for the life of me what that signal was.

Early Dame on the Nile.

What the British are undertaking in the Nile country, in the introduction of irrigation plans, was carried out to an interesting extent about 6,500 years ago by King Menes. He is credited with the earliest irrigation works, when dykes were made on the west bank of the Nile to retain the flood waters on the land for a longer period, the east bank being left open for the inundation to spend itself freely. Two thousand years later Amenemhat III extended the same system of "basin irrightion" to the east bank, and in order to ward off the danger of a high flood he made Lake Moeris where is now the Fayum. Into this great artificial lake, one of the wonders of the world at that period, the high waters were allowed to escape, and from it, when the crest of the flood had passed, the basins of lower Egypt were kept supplied, without danger of overflooding.

Value Of Turtle As Pest Killer. State Zoologist H. A. Surface is of the opinion that the average Pennsylvanian does not know how useful as destroyers of pests are snakes, frogs, salamanders and other creatures. He has just issued a bulletin on turtles which he says is the most complete collection of turtle lore ever put out, equalling his bulletin which demonstrated that the snake was a friend of the farmer and that the bullfrog could do something besides make a noise. The turtle, he says, is a valuable adjunct in destroying pests; it cleans out snails, grasshoppers, crickets and beetles, keeps down toadstools and mushrooms; helps destroy mosquitoes and keeps the balance of power among fishes.

State Conscience Fund Enriched.

The State Treasury has been enriched by a fifty-cent piece mailed from Reading. The money came wrapped in several thicknesses of paper, enough paper to safeguard a thousanddollar bill, and not a line of writing to tell why it was malled. It was addressed to the "State Treasurer, Capitol. Harrisburg." The officials sent it to the conscience fund.
