

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

STATE NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State.

TOLD IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Fifty Autos Disabled in Nail-Strewn Streets—Hoverter Gets Five Years in Lebanon Bank Looting—Sold To "Dead" Men; Goes To Jail.

Accused of preying upon the credulity of bereaved persons, William H. Clinpin, alias B. F. Brown & Co., alias D. N. Walters, of Harrisburg and Lewistown, pleaded guilty before Judge Witmer in the United States Court at Sunbury to sending parcels of cheap jewelry addressed to dead persons and then receiving from their estates payment when they had never been ordered. The Court told him that he was a hard-hearted man to prey upon the estates of the dead, and then sentenced him to three months in the Lewistown jail.

Unknown persons exploded dynamite on the front porch of the rectory of the Mother of Consolation Church, one of the largest Roman Catholic churches in Mt. Carmel. No one was injured, but the house and adjoining property occupied by David Rennie, a mine boss, were badly damaged. There are two factions in this church, and the rector, Rev. M. S. Retka and T. J. Maniecki, recently appealed to the police for protection, fearing violence.

Fifty automobiles were disabled on the streets in Chester, punctured tires causing the trouble. The police are investigating. It has been learned that "bobnalls" of peculiar design had been strewn along the streets traversed by automobiles, and the supposition of the police is that the vandalism is the work of parties who are trying to drive the "jitney" cars out of business.

Arthur J. Hoverter, the Lebanon insurance agent, pleaded guilty to complicity in the wrecking of the Schaeferstown National Bank. Judge C. R. Witmer, in the United States Court, sentenced him to five years in the Lebanon jail. A plea by Hoverter's counsel saved him from serving his term in the penitentiary.

F. N. D. Buchman, secretary of the College Y. M. C. A., at the Pennsylvania State College, will spend the summer in Europe ministering to the spiritual needs of the troops in trenches and the injured men in hospital. Mr. Buchman goes to the front, probably with the German army, at the request of Dr. John H. Mott.

A romance that started when they went to school as children, resulted in the wedding of Miss Isabella Shields, of Allentown, and W. H. Dodge, of Rochester, N. Y., the ceremony being performed in the Church of the Immaculate Conception by Father J. J. Mahon.

Active operations were begun on the first State institution in Union county, when ground was broken near Laurelton for cottage No. 1 of Pennsylvania Village for Feeble Minded Women. Work on this building, which will cost $25,600, will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

With a gash in the head that required fifteen stitches to close, both arms broken and other injuries, Mrs. Benjamin R. Koch, fifty-eight years old, of West Hamburg, is in a critical condition, the result of a fall downstairs while answering a telephone call at her home.

In his semi-annual report, Charles S. Foss, superintendent of the Reading schools, calls attention to the necessity for an addition to the Girls' High School Building; the need of additional funds to maintain the evening schools and the general financial stringency of the school department.

The eighteenth annual commencement of the Joint Upper Saucon and Lower Milford High School took place in the Union Church, Center Valley. Thirteen graduates, the largest class in the school's history, were given diplomas by County Superintendent Alvin Rupp.

Her preference for her stocking as a depository for her money, proved costly to Mrs. William Townsend, of Reading, when she lost a roll of $100, when her stocking wore a hole while she was shopping on Penn street.

Anthony Brill, nine years old, is in a critical condition at the Homeopathic Hospital, Reading, the result of a fall from the Reading Railway bridge on South Eighth street to the street below.

Fifteen accidents in which jitneys figured characterized circus day in Harrisburg, but no one was seriously hurt. Three jitneys hit trolley cars, and two crashed into fences. Over 100 jitneys were operated.

Paul Dammrich and Lloyd Miller, of Allentown, have started to walk to the San Francisco Exposition, expecting to get there about September 1.

Secretary J. H. Edwards, of the Reading Y. M. C. A., was summoned before the Board of Directors and informed that he had been granted a vacation to attend the Panama-Pacific Exposition, with all his expenses paid.

From injuries received two weeks ago while roller-skating, eight-year-old Evan Davies, of West Catawauqua, died at the Allentown Hospital.

Albert H. S. Cantlin addressed the electric light workers in Allentown on "Efficiency in the Public Service."

AMERICAN SHIP BLOWN UP BY GERMANS

American tank steamer Gulfight, which was blown up by a German torpedo or mine off the Selly Islands. Below, at the left, is its commander, Capt. Alfred Gunter, who died of heart failure; at the right, Charles C. Short of Chicago, wireless operator, who jumped overboard and was drowned.

ARGENTINE BATTLESHIP IS NOT FOR SALE

An offer of $6,000,000 profit did not tempt the Argentine Republic to sell this new superdreadnaught Moreno, the largest and strongest afloat, recently completed at the Camden ship yards of New Jersey. The offer was made by Greece through an agent in this country. Greece was willing to pay $18,000,000 for the vessel, the cost of which to Argentina was $12,000,000. Insert is Capt. J. F. Galindez, commander of the vessel.

GREAT ATLANTIC LINER SUNK BY THE GERMANS

Magnificent Cunard liner Lusitania torpedoed and sunk by the Germans off the coast of Ireland. Below, in the center, is the captain of the vessel, W. T. Turner; at the left and right, two of the most distinguished of the Americans aboard, respectively Charles Frohman, the theatrical manager, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt.

SIX MILLION DOLLAR CANAL OPENED IN OREGON

Since the days of the Lewis and Clark expedition to the section of the country now known as the states of Washington and Oregon, the Cello stretch has been known as the most difficult piece of water on the Columbia river. The completion of the Cello canal, which was opened May 3, clears a steamer lane from Astoria to Lewiston on the Snake river. Construction work on the canal, which cost $6,000,000, was begun in October, 1905. It has a minimum depth of eight feet with ten passing basins and five locks, overcoming a total fall of 82 feet at low water and 60 feet at the high stage of the river. The photograph shows a view near the upper end of Cello canal.

DRIVER OF SUFFRAGE AUTOMOBILE

Miss Virginia Watrous, daughter of Mrs. Antoinette Funk of the National American Woman Suffrage association, is to drive a big automobile carrying suffrage campaigners through New Jersey this summer. The campaigners will be her mother, Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Winston Churchill and Mrs. Martha S. Kimball. Another of the party will be Miss Watrous' bull terrier, who rejoices in the name of Votes, and is to be seen in this picture.

COL. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT

Col. Cornelius Vanderbilt, chairman of the mayor's committee in charge of the welcome of New York to the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet during the May maneuvers.

LEVI P. MORTON CELEBRATES

Levi P. Morton, vice-president of the United States from 1889 to 1893, former member of congress, governor of New York and ambassador to France, has just celebrated his ninety-first birthday. This snapshot of him was made recently as he left his residence in Washington for his daily walk.

TWO POPULAR DEBUTANTES ENGAGED

Misses Marie Teller (left) and Margaret Andrews (right), popular debutantes in eastern society whose engagements have been announced. Miss Teller, whom the Grand Duke Michaelowitch, cousin of the czar, called the most beautiful woman in the world, is to be married to S. Bryce Wing. Miss Andrews' future husband is Morgan Belmont, son of August Belmont.

SINKING OF THE IRRESISTIBLE

This remarkable photograph shows the British warship Irresistible as it was sinking in the Dardanelles after striking a Turkish mine.

Where Religions Flourish.

There is a church for every thousand inhabitants in the large cities of the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, and nearly the same proportion in the rural communities. Scranton, with its 129,867 citizens, has 129 churches, representing 22 different religions. Wilkes-Barre, with its 67,105 citizens, has 66 churches of 14 denominations. In Hazleton, with 25,452 inhabitants, there are 33 churches of nine different denominations. Among the 175,000 mine workers there are Russians, Austrians, Irishmen, Germans, Italians, Welshmen, Englishmen, Hungarians, Scotchmen, Swiss, Canadians, Swedes, Turks, Frenchmen, Greeks, Roumanians, Danes, Norwegians, Dutchmen, Belgians, Finns and a dozen minor races.

Olives Pained Conscience.

Seventeen years ago Miss Della Liboldt, clerk in the store of I. Shanfelt, Colfax, Ia., stole a bottle of olives. Today L. B. Shanfelt, son of her employer, in business here, received a letter addressed to his father, who died seven years ago in Sunnyvale, Wash., acknowledging the theft and remitting 50 cents in payment. Miss Liboldt said that the Holy Ghost has convicted her and shown her that she ought to pay.—Pendleton (Ore.) Dispatch Los Angeles Times.

Precedence to Militarism.

Usual road improvements in the relatively nonmilitary parts of Great Britain will not be carried out at present. Proposed public improvements to relieve unemployment also are in abeyance. The object is to concentrate available labor on objects of military importance. Roadmakers from places where improved highways are not needed by the military will be transferred to places where such highways are needed, notably the southern and eastern counties. Workers so transferred will be housed together while away from their homes. They will receive 13 cents an hour. Hut accommodations, with blankets and rugs, will be provided free. All forms of work that keep able-bodied men of military age out of the army or restrain competent workers from supporting the munition industries will be discontinued.

Intoxicated Fish.

A wounded officer who has arrived at Petrograd from the front recounts an amusing instance of the benefits of teetotalism. The commander of a company ordered 800 casks of spirits found in a captured German village to be poured into a fish pond. The fish became intoxicated and floated to the surface where they fell an easy prey to the Russian soldiers. The supply lasted some days.