THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

McConnellsburg, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receive It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is McConnellsburg evidence of their merit.

P. F. Black, McConnellsburg, says: "While unloading lumber at my work, I slipped and wrenched my back badly. After that I had great pain across my loins, and my back often got lame and sore. I used Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Trout's Drug Store, and they soon gave me relief. This remedy has my endorsement."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Black had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WEST DUBLIN.

Elmer Cutchall and wife, Robertsdale, Alice and Berlyn Cutchall, of Gracey, and James Cutchall and wife, of Waterfall, formed an automobile party that came to Wooden Bridge to fish, Monday.

Last Wednesday, Good Roads Day was observed by about a dozen of our people who repaired some places on the State Road from Zack McIlheny's to Harvey Clevenger's. Martin Ludwig and Jas. Lyon furnished teams to do the hauling.

Wm. J. Shaw, our mail carrier is happy over the arrival of boy number three, and he scarcely touches the high places on his route these days.

George and Ross King have put up some good yard fence the past few days thus further improving their properties.

James Lyon, David Hershey, and Alex Edwards, have put up good line fences this spring. Fraak Price who has employment at Minersville is home for a few days.

Sherman Amick, of Wells Tannery, has begun huckstering through this vicinity.

Owing to the rain on Sunday, there was no preaching nor Sunday school at Fairview that day.

END.

Mr. Wells Duvall and Miss Victoria Markley, of Altoona, and Mrs. George Gearinger and son, of Coal Dale, attended the funeral of their aunt Mrs. Elizabeth M. Woodcock last Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Edwards returned last Friday from an extended visit to relatives in Juniata. While absent she was under the care of her brother Dr. Harry Cunningham.

Miss Bessie Foster, of Coal Dale, spent the last of the week with her aunt Mrs. Charles Schenck.

Owing to the bad weather last Saturday, the Memorial day services were postponed until Monday.

Miss Marian Edwards of Defiance spent the week end at her home.

Mrs. Cooke Foster and two children of Round Knob, are spending a few days with relatives in the Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, of Altoona, have been visiting the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Foster.

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. No alcohol in Scott's.

Scott & Borne, Bloomfield, N. J.

"On The Wing."

As noted in these columns last week, N. H. Peck, of Needmore, left for an extended trip among his western relatives and other friends. After spending a night in Pittsburgh, a day in Ambridge, and a night at Warren, O., he stopped-off to visit his nephew Ira L. Peck, a student in the Zenarian college at Columbus. Here Ira took his uncle around to see the State Capitol, and the legislature—which was then in session. Then, they went to the penitentiary—the largest in the world. It covers 23 acres, and is surrounded by a stone wall 30 feet in height. It contained only 1884 prisoners the day Ira and his uncle were there, of whom, 45 were women. The prisoners do not wear the "stripes" and they are allowed to write to their friends once a week. Up to 1896 23 persons had been hanged there and since that time, 55 have been electrocuted. Columbus is a beautiful city. Ira went with his uncle to visit David L. Peck at Greenville, returning to Columbus last Saturday. David is "going about" but pretty lame. Sunday David and Nathaniel went to Bradford to visit Dennis's family and then Nathaniel went on to Hartford City, Ind.

Zoe Mason Home.

After an absence of twenty two months, Miss Zoe Mason, last week returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, of this place. After having taught several terms in this county very successfully, it occurred to Miss Mason that she would like to see it Uncle Sam had any other territory that would compare favorably with Fulton County; hence she cast out lines for work, and in a few weeks was informed that she had been elected to a position as teacher in one of the public schools in the State of Washington at a salary that would look good to a Fulton county teacher. She accepted. In August 1913, she went to Washington, taught the school of nine months, and was offered an increase of $85; but she wanted to see more of the country, so she spent the summer of 1914 in the University of California as a student, and while there was elected to a position in a school in Douglass, Arizona, down on the Mexican border. This position she filled last winter, and has been re-elected at an increased salary, and will return in three months for another year's work.

S. S. and C. E. Convention.

The annual Sunday School and Christian Endeavor convention of the Rays Hill and Southern Pennsylvania Christian Conference will be held at the Buck Valley Christian church Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11, 1915. Each school and each society is entitled to two delegates. All Sunday school workers are invited to attend and take part in the exercises. It is hoped that every church will be represented and every minister present. If YOUR school has not elected its delegates, do it next Sunday. Don't fail to attend the convention. If you do not hear the Buckeye man sing and preach, you will regret it. Everybody welcome regardless of denominational preferences.

Re-Dedication Postponed.

Owing to the extreme inclemency of the weather, the re-dedication of the Whips Cove church was postponed until the second Sunday in June at 10 o'clock. Rev. Hoffman will preach the dedicatory sermon. Everybody invited.

Church Notices.

The sermon on "Baptism From the Lutheran Stand Point," as announced for last week, will be preached, if Providence permit, next Sabbath at 10:30 a. m. in Lutheran church in town and at Big Cove Tannery at 2:30, p. m. Preaching next Sunday morning in the Reformed church; in the afternoon at 2:30, at Greenhill, and in the Presbyterian church in the evening.

In the near future people wanting first class Optical work, will find quite a change in prices. Opticians who do not have a stock of lenses must now pay, more than 100 per cent advance with prices still going up.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wible, of Harrisburg, arrived on the Chambersburg and McConnellsburg autobus line last Friday morning, and remained with relatives in the county until Monday evening.

If you are not a subscriber to the FULTON COUNTY NEWS, why not? Look it over, and if you do not think it has more home reading in than most country papers, then don't take it.

Stray dogs pulled down and began eating alive a young bull in the neighborhood of Lewistown. The dogs had to be killed before they would give up tearing the bull to pieces.

Newt Knable brought from the Meadowgrounds a few days ago, a branch from a large tree that had been completely covered and killed by Oyster Shell Scale.

Mrs. G. Elmer Clouser, of Ayr township, was taken to the Chambersburg hospital yesterday to undergo a surgical operation for appendicitis.

WINTER VACATION THE BEST

Writer Puts Forth Strong Arguments in Favor of Rest During the Cold Months.

Writing of the effect of weather and climate upon work, in Harper's Magazine, Ellsworth Huntington brings out some interesting facts in regard to vacations.

"We have an idea that people need vacations in summer, but apparently the need is much greater in January and February. Of course there are strong arguments for taking vacations in summer, since that is the time when it is pleasant to be out of doors, whereas during the winter the majority of people have no means of enjoying themselves. In spite of this the work of our operatives suggests strongly that in the management of factories it is eminently wise that work should be light during the winter months. Already it is a custom in many places to slow down during January, and now we see that there are strong physical reasons for doing this. If the operatives of a factory, or people engaged in any kind of work, are to be speeded up, the time to do it is when nature lends her aid. To speed up in February is analogous to whipping a tired horse and expecting him to win a race. Later in the year, however, during the spring, and especially during May and June, people may be pushed to the limit and will not suffer, because their energies are naturally increasing. This is still more the case in October and early November. After the middle of November pressure may produce important results, as we see at Christmas. Nevertheless, the chances are that if the pressure is continued straight through the winter it exhausts people to an undue degree. It may be that a considerable part of the nervousness of Americans is due to the fact that, although we relax during the summer, even in years when we do not greatly need it, we keep ourselves at high pressure right through the winter, when the need of relaxation is much greater."

Blue Thistle Valuable.

A weed is any plant that grows where it is not wanted. Therefore, if corn, wheat, or clover, grew where it crowded out the desired crop, they would very properly be weeds. We have been accustomed to consider all kinds of thistles as very undesirable weeds. But, if one of them can be turned to good account, it at once loses much of its objectionable qualities in the farmer's estimation. Blue thistle has been successfully made to replenish humus to barren soils in Big Cove. During recent years, summer drought has made it impossible to grow sufficient vegetation for ploughing down—something every man knows must be done if he would provide for Nature's demand. Blue thistle cannot be killed by any drought to which this section may be subject, and within a few years, it "took" whole fields that had not been ploughed for a number of years. Owners of these fields waited until the thistle was well grown and in bloom. It was then turned under, and it was found that the big roots, together with the great mass of tops, decayed and filled the soil with humus, and following crops were greatly benefited.

Sweet Clover—No Flies.

Having heard that sweet clover would keep flies away from stock, but never having tried it, we asked William B. Ranck, of Bethel township where we know sweet clover grows, if there was "anything in it." He said that he frequently gathers it along the roadside and fixes it to the harness, and flies will not trouble the horses.

If livestock graze, or rest, in pastures where this clover abounds, observing farmers say that flies will not trouble them. It is well known that all kinds of livestock thrive better if they can be kept free from tormenting flies. Young calves can be so worried by these pests that they do not gain rapidly, and if for no other reason, it seems to us that it would pay to encourage the growth of sweet clover on grounds where young animals are kept.

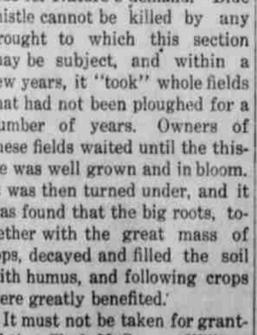

One reason why our experiment stations have encouraged the use of sweet clover is, that it will grow where other clovers refuse to take root. All know the value of clovers as soil builders and it surely would be better to have sweet clover than none at all.

Many do not know what sweet clover is. They seem to think that the little dwarf, white-blossomed clover found in fence corners is what is meant when writers speak of it. Instead of attaining a height of six or eight inches, like the lawn clover just mentioned, sweet clover grows sometime seven feet long, and stalks growing singly and not crowded by other growth make bushes like little trees four or five feet high, with main stems as thick as your finger. When grown in sod, it makes fine pasture and hay.

mon soil builders; but like sensible observers, they know that organic matter must be returned to soil, and if nothing else can be had, we heartily agree with them that blue thistle is "the thing." Rag weed has been used for the same purpose by letting it grow until the stems became woody and then turning it under.

Go, Mark Him Well.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself has said "That editor has quite a head. I'm glad I take this paper. He's got a raft of grit and sand, he prints the news of all the land, he boosts the town to beat the band and that's the proper caper. He soaks the grafters in the neck, he saves the Ship of State from wreck, he's Johnnie on the spot, by heck, when things are in a jumble. He writes the ads that bring in the dough, he chases all our gloom and woe, he tells us all we want to know and yet he is quite humble. He never gets a bit stuck up, he's worked since Hector was a pup to earn his daily bite and sup and have a little over. I know we owe him many plunks, so let us shame the other skunks and furnish him with kale in chunks, wherewith to live in clover."
M. F. McIntyre.

The Real "Good Fellow."

The real "good fellow" is the fellow who knows something good about everybody and tells it. He never knocks on his neighbor or digs up the past. He always lends a helping hand to the fellow who is up against it and gives him a chance to make good. He never forgets to do and say the little things that make his wife happy. His children find him a jolly chum and an ever-ready playmate. His home is a haven of love, happiness and contentment. The real "good fellow" is the world's greatest asset.

Caterpillars Bad.

The common tent caterpillars are unusually bad in this part of the county this spring. In some places, practically all the leaves have been eaten from some of the trees. It has been suggested that war be made on the wild cherry trees of the county. It is well known that this tree is the breeder of caterpillars to a greater extent than any other kind, especially the low, bushy cherry trees that spring up everywhere along fences.

Old Tortoise.
David D. Hann, of Pleasant Ridge, writes us that he recently found a tortoise on the ridge back of George W. Morton's and on the shell of the reptile were carved the initials and date, P. H. D., 1835. He said that people have told him of having found many others in that vicinity marked the same way, and that the carving is without doubt the work of his uncle, Peter Deshong deceased. The shells of these tortoise present a very old-looking appearance.

AMARANTH

Mrs. Geo. Miller who has been critically ill, is now improving in health. We hope to see her out again soon.

Mrs. John Crawford who underwent an operation in a Philadelphia hospital for hernia, is reported as doing well.

What has become of our road boss? There is nothing being done in Union. Our road is getting to be in a bad shape.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. McKibbin, S. E. McKee, son and daughter, J. C. Hixson and Myrtle Mellott, of Amaranth, attended the Odd Fellow picnic at Warfordsburg, May 29, and report it a grand success.

See elsewhere for account of work done on Good Roads Day.

NEW GRENADA.

Good Roads Day was observed by a number of citizens in this vicinity.

Mrs. Abraham Hershey, who has been ill for some time, is not improving.

Mrs. R. L. Alloway and children spent a few days recently with Mrs. Alloway's mother at Gracey.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Rowe, of Saltillo, are visiting the latter's mother Mrs. Jacob Crider.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Keith, of Finleyville, spent the week end with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Keith.

Cloyd Black and Ernest Cunningham spent Friday and Saturday in Mt. Union.

Miss Elsa Black is visiting her aunt Mrs. Gideon Duvall near Three Springs.

Mrs. Margaret Houpt, who was injured by a fall some time ago, is still in a serious condition.

Ernest Cunningham, has secured employment in Mt. Union for this summer.

Miss Glenora Thomas is employed at J. O. McClain's. The Ladies' Aid Society has greatly improved the interior of Zion M. E. Church by repairing varnishing, and relighting.
