Lusitania Victim.

On Tuesday of last week, Dr. R. B. Campbell, of New Grenada, and his brother, Dr. W. J. Campbell, of Mount Union, attended the funeral of William S. Hodges, Jr., whose life was lost by the torpedoing of the Lusitania. The Campbells are cousins of the Hodges. The father, William Sterling Hodges, was Paris representative of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and as he was to spend most of the summer in Europe on business for his company, he decided to take with him his wife and their two little sons, William and Dean. The fact that Mr. Hodges made a will before he sailed, in which he made provision in case he should be lost, and his wife and children saved; in case both he and his wife should be lost and the children saved, and, in case all should be lost, showed that he was apprehensive of danger. After boarding the ill fated vessel, he expressed to his wife his fear that they were taking a great risk. They took the risk. The whole family went down to death, and only one of their number—William—was found. The Hodges were members of Russell Conwell's church, Philadelphia, and little William was a scholar in the Sunday School. Dr. Conwell officiated at the funeral.

Deering Binders, Mowers, and Reapers.

It is an acknowledged fact that the Deering harvester machinery is the best in the world. The price is just the same as it has been for years. I have one second hand McCormick binder on hand that I will sell cheap. I also have one second hand six-foot Deering binder and one second hand six foot Deering mower at a reasonable price, I will guarantee any of the above mentioned machines to do good work and will sell cheap.
