"Did you have any difficulty?" "No, madam," replied the hopeless John, "but I could not get them both together, so I got one on the inside and one on the top!"

Shrapnel in Warfare.

Shrapnel is most effective against prone skirmishers at ranges from 1,000 to 3,000 meters, when burst twenty-eight to twenty-two meters short of the target, and against standing skirmishes at the same ranges when burst fifty-six to forty-five me ters short of the target. Black also points out that a single shrapnel from a light field howitzer produces a greater number of hits when the point of burst is favorably situated than one fired from a field gun.

Peter's position as indicated by this question depends on two or three things: the person

Peter, the person referred to in the closing pronoun was Jesus, the circum stances were about these: Jesus was on trial before the Roman governor; Peter was in an outer hallway warming himself by a fire; one of the maids connected with the household of the governor recognized Peter as one that she had seen in the garden of Gethsemane with Jesus and she at once accused him of being a disciple of Jesus by asking the question of the text. Out of the question that indicated Peter's position grow some helpful suggestions.

LESSON TEXT-I Kings 1.28-40, GOLDEN TEXT-Know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect cart and a willing mind. I Chron, 25:9.

"The king is dead; long live the king." Old and decrepit at seventy years of age, a successor must soon take the shepherd king's seat of power.

David's record is a wonderful one as an empire builder, an organizer and an accumulator of wealth. Read carefully I Chron, 29:28. Three characters are the most outstanding for our consideration in this lesson.

1. David. (a) He had to make a selection (vv. 20, 27) but God used David to make his own choice of Solomon. Jedidiah, "the beloved of Jehovah," (2 Sam. 12:25), was he whom Jehovah desired to sit upon the throne. (b) David had a promise he must needs fulfill (vy. 17, 50). While his second son, who sought to usurp his throne, is engaged with his fellow conspirators (vv. 9, 41) in feasting and rejoicing in their supposedly easy victory over the aged father, David rallies and gives direction for the public proclamation of Solomon as king, thereby redeeming his, promise. Many professed Christlans treat their promises far too lightly. Bath-sheba emboldened by her need (v. 16) enters the king's chamber where now another ministers in her stead, and lays the facts of Adonijah's rebellion before David, concluding her petition with the dramatic words of verse twenty. Bathsheba's petition is re-enforced by the words of David's mentor, Nathan (vv. 22, 27). Turning again to Bath-sheba David emphatically reiterates his determination to carry out to the full God's commandments relative to his successor. Even in the hour of his departure David remembers that it is Jehovah "that hath redeemed my soul out of all distress" (v. 29). (c) David then gives careful command relative to the public proclamation of the new king (vv. 32, 35). Calling to his help his trusted and tried friends, Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet (see 2 Sam. 12:24, 25) and Benalah the soldier (I Chron, 11:22-25), he directs them to place Solomon upon his own mule (v. 32) and take him to Gihon there to be anointed and proclaimed king in David's stead. Contrast David's scrupulous obedience regarding the use of horses (Dent. 27:16) with that of Absalom (2 Sam, 15:1) and Adonijah (v. 5). Note also it was the priest and the prophet alone who were to anoint the king (v. 34). In this we see a parable of the establishment of the everlasting kingdom of righteousness by the Prince of Peace and not by means, or use, of the sword.

This anointing was a symbol of dedication to God (Lev. 8:19-12) and the oil of our anointing by the Holy Spirit which is all essential and sufficient for the subjects of his kingdom (Luke 24:49, Acts 1:5-8). But as these were only outward form and day's duty "so shall thy strength be."

"I can do all things through Christ

which strengtheneth me" (Phil. 4:13).

III. Adonijah. (a) He was a self-selected king (v. 5) and as such lacked not only the approval of God but the ability to execute his designs. He had

Joab the bloody soldier and Abiathar

the jealous priest as his conspirators,

yet all combined could not set aside

the decree of God. (b) He was a spoiled child. "His father had not displeased him at any time" (all his life, v. 6). True he was David's eldest living son, yet he was not in the line of God's selection. Throughout the history of Israel the elder is constantly set aside for the younger. He was

Test of Discipleship.

The test of Peter's discipleship here (4. 35). was the most trying one that could have been put on him, and at the same Chron. 28:5; 29:1). Solomon was the time it gave him an opportunity of first son of David and Bath-sheba after showing the true fiber of his character their legal marriage. But it is before the world that the best testimony can be made, indeed, it is the Christian's business to witness in a world of sin. The testimony of the master himself was given in the world, and for two thousand years that testimony has stood and is as effective today as when first given. Even the memory of Jesus Christ, as we might say the tradition of Jesus Christ, has a place in the world that nothing else can take.

Ease of Apostasy. And there is an incidental suggestion in connection with Peter's base denial, in that the step from close companionship with Jesus Christ to apostasy is not a long one. Peter was in a true sense a primate among the disciples, yet his base denial of his Lord is told as widely as the perfidy of Judas Iscarlot himself.
