WINS THE ORDER OF MERIT

Lieutenant General von Kneussel, who won the Order of Merit for being the first to enter the fortress of Przemyel with his Bavarian troops when it was taken by the Germans.

War-Time Puzzle.

A party of soldiers bound for "somewhere in France" were waiting for their train at a rural station in Wiltshire. Among the lookers-on were an old countryman and his wife. Walking slowly past the warriors, the woman eyed them carefully, her attention being mainly paid to their puttee-clad legs.

"I say, Garge," she whispered, when out of earshot, "there's somethin' I can't understand about they soldiers." "What be it, lass?" asked her good man, with a superior air. "I can't think how they get their laigs into they twisted trousers," said the old woman, in wonder.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Not That Kind.

Bill—How many hands have you got on your watch?
Jill—Why, two.
"Where's the second hand?"
"Oh, this is not a second-hand watch."

SLOTH BEAR PLAYS MOUTH ORGAN

In the Central Park zoo at New York is a Himalayan sloth bear that is a musical genius. For hours at a time he will sit entranced while one of the keepers coaxes sweet strains from a mouth organ. Zip, the bear, is here seen taking a lesson on that musical instrument. With the help of the keeper he actually plays tunes.

GIRL'S REMARKABLE SWIMMING FEAT

Miss Ida Ellonsky, with her hands and feet tied, swam through Hell Gate, at New York, in 24 minutes, a feat that would not be easy for an unhampered man. The photograph shows her breasting the swift current, and, inserted, is a picture showing how her wrists were tied.

SHE OBJECTED TO THE CAMERA

This interesting snapshot was made in Newport, R. I., just as Mrs. R. T. Wilson was receiving from a newspaper photographer a plate he had exposed on her and which she demanded be given her. Owing to the complaints of society folk in the fashionable resort, each newspaper photographer making pictures there is followed by a policeman whose duty is to walk between the camera and the intended subject.
