FIFTY MILLIONS A DAY FOR WAR

cial Standpoint

EFFECT ON WARRING NATIONS CITY HAS BEEN DENUDED

The National City Bank, Which Issues the Review, Sees in the War the Need Of Greater Economy Here.

New York.- How the world stands from a financial viewpoint after a year of war is ably set forth in a review issued by the National City Bank:

The war expenditures have equalled the most extravagant predictions,' says the review, "the fighting has been continuous and the casualties appalling, but the results signify practically nething as to when the conflict will end. There are no signs that either side is running out of men or money, or that the people of any of the warring countries are weakening in reaclution or confidence."

The review continues: The developments of the war itself have shown the futility of annexing hostile populations; they cannot be dispossessed of the territory or compelled to be loyal citizens, and while they swell the volume of domestic trade and pay taxes, they cost at least as much as they contribute. "If all the responsible ministries had known as much a year ago as they know now it is safe to say that the peace would not have broken, and if they could know now as much as they will a year hence it is probable that a peace conference would not be long deferred. It is safe to say that the national debts, which must be earned by taxation, have more than doubled. Accepting as a fact that Great

Britain's cash expenditures, recently stated to be $15,000,000 a day, are larger than those of any other country. the review says:

"The expenditures of the German government are probable next to those of Great Britain. The government has realized $3,490,000,000 by means of two loans, which it is understood will earry the war into the coming fall, but as its expenditures have been growing it is probable that they are now as much as $10,000,000 per day. Altogether the estimate of $50,000,000 per day for the outlays of all the governments is seen not to be improbable.

The London Economist gives the rate of daily pay for a private soldier as one shilling two pence for Great Britain, one-half pence for France and two and one-half pence for Germany."

Summing up the war's effect upon the world's commerce the review estimates the total efficiency at about 75 per cent. of normal. About 1,000,000 tons of shipping have been destroyed. Although this is only I per cent of the total, the entire loss to commercial service, including ships interned and commandeered for was service, is approximately 15 per cent.

'Great Britain, under the stances, has maintained her foreign trade very well. Her exports of domestic production in the month of June amounted to $166,000,000, which compares with $199,000,000 in June. 1914, or a failing off of about 16% per

The war is teaching the people of Europe economy. The most important lesson for this country which the National City Bank sees in the war is the need of greater economy here.

One Retreat Line Blocked.

The success of General von Mackensen in getting across this railway, after being virtually stopped by the Rus sian counter-attack, denies at least one line of retreat to the Russians who might still be between him and Warsaw, and also places the Germans in a position to move against the Bug river front, should this be decided

FAMINE IN THE CAPITAL

Carranza, Villa and Zapata Must Get Together-Plenty Of Money In Capital, But People Are Dying of Starvation.

Washington. - Demanding in the name of humanity that food be permitted to reach the starving people of Mexico City, urgent representations were sent by the State Department to Generals Carranza, Villa and Zapata. The notes declare avenues of transportation to Mexico City must be opened to provision trains. Although the text of the representations was not made public, it is known that the document is a forerunner of a final demand that the Mexican factions end their strife and establish a constitutional government by means of a joint conference. Officials believe General Carranza, at Vera Cruz, is in a position to keep the railroad to Mexico City from Vera at least as far as Pachuca, and that either he or Zapata, in co-operation with Villa, can control the line beyond that point. The dispatch demanding that the road be opened and kept open was signed by Secretary Lansing and went forward immediately to American can representatives at Vera Cruz, Torreon and Mexico City. Official reports from Mexico City today said actual starvation prevailed there and that conditions generally were worse than ever. People of all classes were suffering for food, although there was money in plenty to purchase it.

Captain Of the Leelanaw Declares He and His Men Were Well Treated and He Makes No Complaint.

Washington.-With the receipt of a practically complete report of the torpedoing of the American steamer Lee lanaw by a German submarine, State Department officials began the preparation of a note to Germany request ing the payment of damages, on the ground that the Prussian-American treaty of 1828 had been violated.

A report from American Consul Dennison, at Dundee, Scotland, brought to light the fact that the captain of the Leclanaw attempted to escape, but submitted to visit and search after warning shots were fired. The right to escape, officials declared, is conceded by international law, only repeated attempts to evade capture or forcible resistance being regarded as affecting the case.

Unofficial reports that the German submarine commander was unwilling to jettison the cargo of the Leelanaw and to allow her to proceed as the treaty of 1828 provides, cleared up doubts here on this point. The material necessary for the presentation of a claim similar to that made in the case of the William P. Frye was therefore practically ready.

The complete report of Consul Dennison was as follows:

"Leelanaw's crew here. All safe Sail Saturday on St. Paul. Master under oath states sighted German submarine July 25, 60 miles north of Orkneys. Endeavored to escape. PREPARES FOR WINTER WAR.

General Joffre Plans To Wear Down

Germans By Attrition. Paris - France is fully prepared for winter campaign. It is understood General Joffre is unwilling to force a decisive battle on the ground that Germany must give way under longdrawn-out pressure, and by such tactics he can save France thousands of men. He is said to be an exponent of defeating Germany by attrition, no matter how long it takes, France and her Allies being in a better position to play a waiting game than the Central European Powers. Unless Germany strikes a decisive blow this summer, which captured prisoners say she will endeavor to do, in three months she will be on the toboggan, according, not only to French authorities, but to the captured Germans of the Heidelberg professor type. French mills are busy turning out uniforms and other winter equipment. French public opinion is beginning to accustom itself to the idea of another winter in the trenches and some 18 months more of war. Although Joffre is criticized not infrequently for not hurrying matters more, some of his leading generals are known to stand with him on the policy of conserving the army so as to have a large and well-conditioned force when the other side is thinned out and groggy.
