GOVERNOR URGES PLAYING FACILITIES

Drumbaugh At Harrisburg Celebration Also Promises Legislation in Housing.

Harrisburg—With a big reception at which Governor Drumbaugh was the guest of honor, Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce entertained more than 300 men and women who had been instrumental in bringing to completion the great public improvements undertaken by Harrisburg fifteen years ago. They embrace the creation of a great park and playground system of nearly 1000 acres, a filter plant, flood prevention and sanitary dams, construction of Wildwood Lake, establishment of public golf links, baseball diamonds, tennis courts, swimming places, public camping places and an athletic field, paving of miles of streets, the erection of a concrete viaduct, building of concrete steps from the river bank to the water's edge the length of the city and many minor improvements.

Governor Drumbaugh commended Harrisburg for its park and playground development and said that within a very short time Pennsylvania will be legislating for the protection and conservation of her people in their leisure hours, instead of during their working period. He said that the tendency is toward a shorter day and this is good, but that the open door of evil influences is leading people astray because they find it easier with increased leisure to do wrong than to keep out of mischief.

The Governor pledged his administration to the development of the Capitol Park Extension area and said it is his ambition to make it the most attractive and beautiful spot in Pennsylvania. He also dwelt at some length on the housing problem and said, "The State will go a long, long way very shortly to give every mother, that brings a child into the world light, air and a sanitary home."

Ex-Postmaster E. J. Stackpole, who started the public improvement campaign in his newspaper, the "Telegraph," back in 1901, followed the Governor. He said the accomplishments of the city had been made possible by the hearty co-operation of all the people, who voted the loans and bore the financial burden.

On the same program were: J. V. W. Reynolds, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Steel Company; Vance C. McCormick, Mayor of Harrisburg, when the first improvement loan was floated; Spencer C. Gilbert, first chairman of the Board of Public Works following the inauguration of the improvements, and J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic Association, a member of the city's first general Park Board. Moving pictures of the "new Harrisburg" closed the reception.

Hunting a Step To Preparedness.

A plea for hunting and fishing as a part of training for national preparedness is made by Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, in the foreword of the 1915 game, fish and forestry laws. The laws are the biennial publication of the digests relating to the outdoor activities of the State and afford opportunity for discussion of advantages. "The ability acquired by young America in the pursuit of game," says Dr. Kalbfus, "in the handling of the gun, in taking care of himself in the fields or in the forests or on the water has made it possible for our volunteers to become with limited discipline and drill the equal of any regular on the face of the earth. I cite as illustration the work done by Jackson's men at New Orleans, the efficiency of our own Pennsylvania Bucktails during the Civil War, the work of the Boer in South Africa. The State owes it to itself, if for no other reason, to supply its young men with the incentive for training in the shape of game, without which they can not and will not be fitted to meet demands made upon them." The foreword says that last year 8000 men camped on State lands and 305,028 hunters' licenses were issued in 1913 and fully as many in 1914.

Chance To Learn All About Farming.

Over 150 bulletins covering nineteen general subjects with a large miscellaneous list are made available for public distribution by the new bulletin of the State Department of Agriculture, just issued. It is the most elaborate list ever issued by a State department and covers a very wide range, the bulletins being by experts. The general classification is on soils, including a survey of every county; fertilizers, lime, corn, wheat, alfalfa, tobacco, fruit, market gardening, dairying, beef production, cattle diseases, poultry, swine, sheep, horse breeding, domestic science, farm sanitation and hygiene, ornithology, co-operation, institutes, fairs, agricultural education, dynamite on the farm, concrete farm buildings and rural uplift.

Quarantine Lifted Soon.

Philadelphia and Lancaster within a few days may be freed of all restrictions imposed last year because of foot and mouth disease. Pittsburgh has been declared free after an inspection by agents of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board. The State Board has established a strict quarantine against all shipments of cattle, swine or sheep from Chicago and nine northern counties of Illinois because of the presence of the foot and mouth disease in 225 herds.

Dismissed Electric Company Case.

The Public Service Commission dismissed the complaint of the Electrical Consumers Adjustment Company against the Philadelphia Electric Company because the complaint did not appear to support their charge of discrimination. The Consumers Company, which has offices in New York, charged that the Philadelphia company refused to sell it power at wholesale rates so that it could be resold. Two dates were set for hearings and at neither time did anyone appear.

GRAND ARMY REVIEW FIFTY YEARS AGO

Reproduction of a contemporary drawing of the grand review of the Northern armies immediately after the Civil war, showing the troops passing along Pennsylvania avenue in Washington on the route of the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic fifty years later.

GREAT CAVE-IN OF THE NEW YORK SUBWAY

As a result of a blast of dynamite in the new subway under Seventh avenue in New York, an entire block of that thoroughfare, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth street, collapsed. A crowded street car dropped into the chasm. Seven persons were killed and nearly a hundred injured.

READY TO REPULSE INVADING MEXICANS

Detachment of United States artillery patrolling the country along the Rio Grande to prevent raids by Mexican bandits. The artillery is occasionally swung into position on the river banks so that the Mexicans can see the big guns.

MEXICANS FLEEING TO THE UNITED STATES

The long and bloody warfare among the various factions in Mexico has caused many families who lived near the Texas border to abandon their homes and flee across the Rio Grande to the United States.

LIQUID FIRE AS USED IN THE WAR

This photograph, taken recently "somewhere in France," shows how the French have taken a lesson from the Germans and have adopted the frightful liquid fire as a weapon of defense.

TYPICAL TEXAS RANGER

This is one of the Texas Rangers who have been so active in combating the Mexican bandits that have been making raids across the border.

NEW DOMINICAN MINISTER

HURRYING THE ARLINGTON MEMORIAL

Work on the Arlington memorial at Washington has been rushed so that President Wilson could lay the corner stone on Friday, October 1.

Yankee Ingenuity.
An American inventor has contrived an aluminum framework which, on being fastened over a bolt of cloth, shows the effect of a finished suit of clothes. The wire frame carries outlines of arms, lapels, collar, etc., and moulds the cloth to the proper shape without injuring it in the least. The frame may readily be detached and tried on another piece of cloth until the customer's fancy is suited.

Timed.
"I found out about Jinks' hurry to get off; there was a woman in the case."
"You don't say so!"
"I saw his wife's picture in his watch."

His Object.
"Do you want to cash the check?" asked the polite bank cashier to the man rushing up.
"No, I don't," cried the man. "I want to get ahead of a swindler and check the cash."

Guiding a Future.
"What profession are you going to advise your son to study for?"
"Haven't made any decision. I'm holding out, hoping he'll develop some sure-enough talent and make a high grade baseball player."

Hard to Be Good.
Ted—Why are you in such a hurry to get married?
Ned—Before she'd accept me I had to promise to stop drinking and smoking.—Judge.
