CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

George W. Hays gave his store front a coat of paint last Saturday.

Miss Lulu Snyder, of Pittsburg, is visiting her sister Mrs. George Mock.

Last week Charlie Goldsmith gave his residence and the Hill Store a fresh coat of paint.

Mrs. J. G. Reisner went to Shippensburg on Monday to spend a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reisner.

Mrs. E. J. Post, of Chambersburg, spent Thursday night of last week with Mrs. L. W. Seylar and attended Chautauqua.

Albert Stoner is having laid a nice concrete platform in front of his store. Concrete seems to be the thing in McConnellsburg.

J. J. Sturgeon, bookkeeper for the McConnellsburg and Fort Loudon Railway Company, has moved his office from this place to Fort Loudon.

Rev. J. L. Yearick and Elder John B. Runyan are representing the McConnellsburg Presbyterian church at the fall meeting of Carlisle presbytery at Newville, Pa.

About two week ago, Jacob W. Mellott fell and bruised one of his knees with the result that he now is using crutches, a sore having developed under the kneecap.

The old tollgate house west of town has been moved back from the pike about the width of the building. This leaves room in front of the house for a nice doorway—another improvement to suburb of our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walker, Mr. Charles Walker, and Misses Nell and Carrie Seibert—all of Fannettsburg, made an automobile trip to McConnellsburg and spent Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnston.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Sharpe, for some time a resident of Kansas City, Mo., is now visiting friends in Pennsylvania and expects to be in Wells Valley next week where she will visit her brother A. O. Griffith and other relatives and friends.

The Highway Department has whitewashed the telegraph poles along the Lincoln Highway. This adds another touch to the neat appearance of the road, and in addition, may save many accidents as the poles can now be easily seen even at night.

Mr. and Mrs. James Foust, of Altoona, accompanied by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Merrick Stoner, of Bedford made a trip to McConnellsburg on Thursday of last week in Mr. Foust's car Saturday morning they left for Cumberland, Md., where they visited Mr. Stoner's daughter Ella, Mrs. Will Neff, and returned to their respective homes the first of this week. Mrs. Foust (Ada Linn) is a daughter of Mrs. Margaret Linn, east Market St., Mrs. Stoner is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Linn, and Mr. Stoner is a brother of William and Albert.

If our readers wish to obtain a summary of the game laws of all the United States, and parts of Canada, they may be supplied by sending name and address to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., asking for Farmers' Bulletin No. 692. This is an interesting book of sixty-four pages. It contains a table of licenses of the different states—some licenses running as high as $100. The Federal migratory bird laws are explained and much information is given as to what states besides our own are doing along the lines of regulating the taking of game &c.

The Chautauqua.

The Chautauqua held in the Auditorium last week was so satisfactory that a contract for one to be held next year was signed up at once. Instead of having twenty-two guarantors, as this year, there will be twice as many and probably more, next year. The number of entertainments and lectures will be the same as this, and the price guaranteed to the Association, the price of season tickets, and the general admission the same. Will be held at an earlier date next summer.

Recent Weddings.

HARR—VALLANCE.

At the parsonage of the St. John Reformed Church in Chambersburg, Rev. T. A. Alspach united in marriage John Leslie Harr and Miss Nora C. Vallance. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Vallance, and the groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harr—all of Tod township. The NEWS extends hearty congratulations.

WINGERD—GILBERT

In the presence of immediate relatives only, Nellie May, eldest daughter of Daniel and Maggie Ott Gilbert, was married Tuesday morning to Mr. G. Wingerd. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents in Chambersburg, after which the couple left on an early train for a honeymoon trip.

Mr. Wingerd is a son of David G. Wingerd and is a member of Wingerd Bros., the enterprising grocery firm in Chambersburg. He is a young man of sterling qualities and has many friends. Mrs. Wingerd is a graduate of the Chambersburg High School and an honor graduate of Wilson College. Last year she taught school in Doylestown. She is a young woman of much grace and charm and has been very popular in her circle of friends.

Parent-Teacher Association.

A short time ago, Mrs. Jane Rogers, Secretary of the American Institute of Child Welfare, started an organization of a Parent-Teacher Association for McConnellsburg and Mr. Downey Superintendent of the Chautauqua held here last week completed it. The officers are; President, Mrs. H. L. McKibbin. First Vice President, Prof. Smith. Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Mosser. Appreciates the "Nws."

Hutchinson, Kans., Sept. 24. DEAR EDITOR:—

We enjoy the FULTON COUNTY NEWS very much as it is one of our most welcome visitors.

We had the pleasure of entertaining a cousin of yours not long since (N. H. Peck, of Needmore) Mr. Palmer is an invalid and quite feeble.

The State Fair is in progress here this week and great crowds are thronging our city. With best wishes for the News and all friends, I am, very cordially, MRS. J. T. PALMER.

Sheep Dogs.

We have been told on best authority that dogs are unusually active this year in this county and that large sums of money are being paid for sheep that they have killed. We understand that the court will decide a case or two next week as to whether dogs may be permitted to run at large and kill sheep.

MRS. MYRON T. VORCE.

Among the noted speakers who will make addresses in McConnellsburg next Monday while the Women's Liberty bell is in town is Mrs. Myron T. Vorce. A broad experience in the public affairs that especially affect women, and exceptional ability as a speaker are the qualifications that make Mrs. Vorce one of the most interesting speakers in the suffrage ranks.

In her home state, Ohio, she is known for her suffrage work and for her leadership of the fight for better schools in Cleveland. Largely because of her efforts, the schools were taken out of the hands of politicians and the children of the city were given educational opportunities that are now considered model.

Outside of Ohio Mrs. Vorce is known as a Chautauqua lecturer, as a writer and as a suffrage speaker. She has spoken a number of times at suffrage meetings in this state and has made such an excellent impression that there have been many requests for her to return here. Her splendid culture makes her personality a very attractive one.

Mrs. Vorce has had a varied experience. Her mother died when she was an infant and she spent her early girlhood keeping house for her father and brother. Later she became successively a newspaper reporter, a singer and a settlement worker in New York. In all these occupations she was impressed with the need of the ballot for women for their own protection and for the good they could do the State with it.

In 1902 she was married to Myron B. Vorce, of Cleveland, and moved to that city. There she became interested in the sedoo's and after her fight to improve them she was more than ever impressed with the fact that women needed a direct voice in politics. She became active in suffrage work and is now an officer of the state organization there. She is helping in the Pennsylvania campaign because she believes that a victory here this year will set a good example for her state.

Cider Making.

Nick Hohman will begin to make cider Wednesday, September 8th, and the mill will be in operation every Wednesday after that during the season.

Mrs. John Martin of Chambersburg, is visiting her father, William Stoner on the Court House Square.
