

In addition to the articles mentioned, the officials captured a score of letters written in German. The envelopes of each had been destroyed, as had the signatures. They also confiscated the passports of Fay and Schalz. They showed that the two men had been in this country for two years.

Other letters and papers taken by the officials indicate that both men are members of the German Wilhelmstrasse Guard.

Although they have been in this country but two years, both speak perfect English. Despite a sensational and dramatic arrest, they were cool and calm when taken to the West Hoboken Police Station. They declined to give any information about themselves or to discuss in any way the incriminating articles confiscated.
