Coke Production Soars 4,000 Tons In Week—Release Suspects In Emporium Explosion—Girl Run Down By Auto.

Louis Subiskie and A. Fronhitz, the two electricians who were arrested on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the recent fatal explosion at the powder plant of the Aetna Explosive Company, in Emporium, were released. It was proved at the hearing on a habeas corpus writ in Clinton county court that the suspects were in no way responsible for the explosion, and that a man discharged by Subiskie had made the charges that brought about their arrests.

Two houses have been wrecked, two others badly damaged, and a large business block, all on Slocum street, Swyersville, is threatened with falling into a cave. Mrs. Mary Quigley, who occupied one of the wrecked houses, and members of her family were forced to flee from their home in their night clothes. The house next door was vacant. Men at work in the mine in an effort to arrest the progress of the cave, say that quicksands are responsible for the damage.

Burgess H. A. Miesler, of Mechanicsburg, has put the ban on games of chance, changing off articles of any kind of gambling commonly used at fairs and bazars. This edict was issued when a fire company of the town asked permission to hold a fair and raise money in this manner. Heretofore, the fire companies have raised large sums of money with articles contributed by citizens. The new order, the first of its kind in this section, has occasioned much comment.

In an address before the Berks County Teachers' Institute at Reading, Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, took a stand against military training in public schools, which is being considered in many cities, including Reading. Dr. Schaeffer said that inaugurating such a system "would be going even a step farther than any of the warring nations of Europe has dared to go."

The Ninth District convention of the United Mine Workers of America at St. Clair, passed a resolution asking Governor Fielder, of New Jersey, to pardon Patrick Quinlan, who was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment on charges growing out of the Paterson strike riot. A resolution was presented to make the district conventions biennial instead of annual and to increase the term of the officers to two years.

The production of coke in the Connelville region last week amounted to 421,000 tons, an increase of nearly 4,000 tons over the previous week. Shipments amounted to 422,000 tons, an increase of about 5,000 tons. It is understood that upwards of 200,000 tons weekly have been contracted for 1916. Ovens are being fired as fast as labor can be found for them, 330 being blown in last week.

Miss Eleanor Mixsell, aged nine years, daughter of A. D. Mixsell, of Bethlehem, a vice-president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, was injured seriously when, just as she stepped from a trolley car on her way to school, she was struck by an automobile belonging to the State Insane Hospital at Rittersville.

A quarrel over ten cents may result in the death of Mary O'Hara, four years old, of Scranton. She is in the State Hospital with a probable fracture of the skull. Mrs. Martin O'Hara and Mrs. John O'Hara, sister-in-law, quarreled over ten cents. The latter threw a stone and it struck the daughter of Mrs. Martin O'Hara.

William Freihofer, of Philadelphia, sold his three large stock farms, containing 230 acres, with three complete sets of buildings, for $52,800, to J. S. Smith, of Overbrook, who will stock the farm with three carloads of fancy cattle.

County Treasurer Arthur H. Bailey paid the State Treasurer $2,700 representing hunters' license revenue from Dauphin county. It is the largest payment to be made this season for this purpose.

In her annual report to the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, of Western Pennsylvania, Miss George C. Henry, of Shippensburg, showed that more than $10,000 had been contributed by the societies in the past year.

When the automobile of J. B. Harvey, of Harvey Station, Del., skidded on the steep hill near the home of George Carter, West Chester, the front wheel was broken off. Mrs. Harvey was thrown out and received injuries which may result fatally.

Passing through Decker Hollow, Mrs. Samuel B. Beyer and Mrs. William Murdock saw a flock of wild turkeys alight on a fence. The women got close enough for Mrs. Beyer to grab a big gobbler by the neck. The bird put up a battle and Mrs. Beyer released her hold and the turkey flew away.

G. R. Hurd filed complaint against the station facilities of the New York & Pennsylvania Railroad at Genesee. The Public Service Commission likely will give a hearing in the case.

LISTENING POST IN PARIS

The defenses of Paris against hostile aircraft are well organized. One of the most interesting of the special instruments used is the listening post. It consists of four huge horns which gather up the slightest sound and magnify it by means of a microphone, so that it is impossible for any aircraft to approach unheard.

FRENCH SCOUTS SNIPING

These French scouts have spied a German in his advanced post near La Bassee, from which he communicates by phone with the trenches. From behind the wall of a ruined French chateau the scouts took shots at the enemy.

SIGNING THE PEACE PACT IN HAITI

Col. I. T. Waller, who was in charge of the expedition of marines and blue jackets sent to Haiti to subdue the brigands who opposed America's plan for restoring order in the negro republic, is here shown signing the peace compact with the leaders of the rebels at Cape Haitien.

After Twenty Years.

He was asking the old man for his daughter in marriage. He was talking tremblingly, hesitatingly, as the heroes do in story books. Now came the old man's turn to speak, and as he began his face was white with passion and his voice shook with excitement.

"You want to marry my daughter?" said the father. "Ah! Twenty years ago your father crippled me in a stock deal, and I swore to be revenged. And now my time has come."

He paused for breath, and the aspirant for the maiden's hand was about to beat a hasty retreat in the face of supposed defeat when the father broke forth again:

"Yes, sir, I swore to be revenged, and I'll strike the father through the son. Want my daughter—eh? Well, take her, and may she prove as expensive to you as she has to me!"

The old man dropped into his chair, worn out with the excitement of his plot, and the young man fainted.

Soft Answer.

A tramp approached a certain Downs home the other morning, rapped on the back door, and when the lady of the house appeared, he began to clear his throat, preparatory to telling his hard-luck story.

"Get away from here," said the woman. "I never feed professional bums."

"But, madam, I am not a professional bum," said the tramp. "I am a psychologist traveling in the interest of science. I read character at a glance. In looking into the soulful depths of your beautiful eyes, I read there that you are by nature a kind-hearted, gentle, generous woman. It is these notable impulses and the contemplation of charitable deeds that keep you looking so young and handsome."

"You poor, tired, hungry man," said the woman. "Come inside and I will give you some breakfast."

Moral—Diplomacy is mightier than the sword.—Downs (Kan.) Times.

Crucial Occasion.

"You say this speech you are preparing will be the turning point of your career?"

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "This speech will be the effort of my life. It will decide whether I will have to keep depending on politics for a living or whether I can go on the lecture platform and make some real money."

Opium Smugglers Have Code.

A secret code used by opium smugglers is said to have been discovered by agents of the United States government. Americans, Mexicans and Chinese operating along the Mexican border are reported to have significant emblems tattooed on their arms, showing the relation of the individuals to the business of smuggling.
