"I found this note on a garden seat," proceeded Lydia. "Read it." The crumpled scrawl was signed with one name-Shaw-and it ran: You will hear from me shortly. Unless you agree to marry me you will never see little Flora again.'

"The scoundrel!" cried Prescott. "I will set the police on his track at

"No! no!" implored Lydia. "You do not know this man Shaw. If any such an attempt is made, he will disappear, and Flora with him. Oh, try and find her! Try and bring me back my lost darling!"

Alvin Prescott had a difficult task before him. Shaw was not to be found at any of his occasioned haunts. No trace was discovered of the missing child. The grief of Lydia was pitiable. Prescott devoted all his time to the mission in hand, but it was of no avail.

It was the fifth morning after the disappearance of Flora, that, walking along the street, he observed a squat oriental figure speed across the thoroughfare to his side. It was Wang Fo.

"I find you!" he cried in extravagant joy. "The pin-of the golden bantam, You lose?"

"No, I gave it to a child-" "I have found her. You come-come, quick!" With faint heart of hope Prescott accompanied the half coherent, but intensely excited Wang Fo. He led him to the Chinese quarter of the city, and through sinuous and mysterious passages into what seemed to be a secret lodge room.

There, on a dais, surrounded by Chinese women, was Flora. She was supremely contented, for they had given her all kinds of quaint toys and seemed only bent on entertaining her. Wang Fo told his story. The child had been brought to some avaricious friends of his to hide or ship to some other city as the o-der might come. He, Wang Fo, had discovered the golden bantam pin. He had removed the child into the charge of more trusty friends. He had guessed much. It led to seeking out Prescott.

They never heard of Shaw again-"they," for what could come of it, but that the rescuer of the dear little one should prevail upon sweet, loving Lydia to give her a protector for

New Plants for America. The bureau of plant industry reports that its agricultural explorer. Lydia might have favored his plea. F. N. Meyer, who already had many remarkable "finds" to his credit, has recently sent in an unusually interesting collection of new fruits from the Tibetan border of China. These inelude the Tangutian almond, the Potanin peach, and a notable series of wild forms of the ordinary cultivated peach. Mr. Meyer's latest expedition succeeded in reaching Lanchowfu, when further progress was prevented by the desertion of the interpreter. Recent collections have largely augmented the agricultural department's stock of jujubes and persimmons from western China.

Opportunities in China. There are great opportunities at the present time in China for the American, for it is reported that never in the history of China have the Chinese been better disposed to America and things American. It is said that there are numerous chances for Americans to establish industrial plants, "China offering the best field in the world for cotton manufacturing." There are tens of thousands of miles of railroads to be built; there are tramways, telephone lines, electric plants, glass making establishments, oil mills and flour mills to be crected, while there are rich mineral deposits to be mined and native products to be exported those who present such heresies will be subjects of this condemnation.

What Is Heresy? Scripturally, one meaning is that it refers to sects or persons, and another that it refers to discords or dissensions. In Peter's time there were persons in the communities to which he wrote, who were giving out teachings that were not in accord with what he had taught. Notwithstanding that all that is not in accord with the accepted teaching of the church is not 'damnable" nor "destructive," it is a simple matter of fact that there have been men, and it is sad to say women, too, who have been bringing in "heresies of destruction." We receive the suggestion in the text, "false teachers bringing in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them." The ordinary result of such work has been the securing to these teachers many followers, and bringing upon themselves the destruction which their heresies perforce entails.

Many Heresies of Today. Probably never in the history of Christian thought and teaching were there so many "destructive heresies" as today. These are not in accord among themselves, and the man who does not like the truth of God's Word and has rejected the people of God is greatly perplexed to know what one of the many heresies he should adopt. The followers of these heresies, as a natural result, contend with each other just as bitterly as any one of them contends with the Gospel as accepted by the church through all of its history, everywhere, and by all (semper, ubique, et ab omnibús). And never in the history of the church were Christians needing to be under guard as today, for these false teachchurch. Peter says they are "among In some cases they have repudiated the church formally, but in many cases they cling to the church, wear its livery and pose as its teachers and leaders A heresy of today may be one of two things. It may be by an adding to the Word of God, or by omission, or ignoring some of it. There is hardly a modern religious fad that does not connect itself in some way with the Bible. The Bible may not be the chief literary authority, but in this country the religionist must come to the people with a profession of love for the Bible. The country is run over by religionists who sell, or if need be. give away religious literature, and oftentimes this literature is professedly based on the Rible Paul avoided heresy and told the elders of the church at Ephesus that he had not failed to declare unto them the whole counsel of God. The most prominent of the modern teachers of the "destructive heresies" teach much that is in the Bible, but they leave out much which, if given out, would utterly change their teaching, and it is because of this that we speak of their teachings as heretical. Peter sums up the heresy in mind in these words, "denying the Lord that bought them." Here we have a safeguard when we come to define heresies of destruction. They are in one way or another denials of Jesus Christ, either of his person or of some phase of his work. It is not worth while for intelligent Christians to worry about the little aberrations from the orthodox doctrines concerning many things, but when the person or work of Christ is touched, then it is their duty to become defenders of the faith.

Person and Work of Jesus Christ. The great question of questions is, What think ye of Christ-whose Son is he?" We are confined to the work of Christ as the Son of God. Now. briefly, what is the truth about the person of Jesus Christ? As taught by the church from the beginning, it is that Jesus Christ is the very Son of God, born of the Virgin Mary, was historically a person in the days of Pontius Pilate, was absolutely sinless in his thought, teaching and life, died as the only sufficient sacrifice for the sins of the world, rose again from the dead, ascended into beaven, where he now sits on the right hand of God. from whence he will come as judge and to be the meditorial king on earth, and after manifesting his kingship in that form, will yield that kingdom up to God, that God may be all in all?

This I saw, that when a soul loves God with a supreme love, God's interests and his are become one. It is no matter when nor where nor how Christ should send me, nor what trials he should exercise me with, if I may be prepared for his work and will.-David

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 31

THE BOY JOASH CROWNED KING.

LESSON TEXT-II Kings 11:4-12. GOLDEN TEXT-The house of the wicked shall be overthrown; but the tent of the upright shall flourish.—Prov. II: IJ, R, V.

This is a great and most intensely interesting boy's story. For thirty years two great heroes, Elljah and Elisha, fought against Baal. They stood up against kings and people, and fought for pure morals as the champions of Jehovah. Jehoshaphat, a good man, allowed his son to marry Jezebel's daughter and the nation reaped the results. The son of this union reigned over Judah but one year and was slain by Jehu, the destroyer of Ahab's dynasty. Athaliah, as dowager queen regent ruled for six years (See 2 Chron. 22). General Jehu wrought in the northern kingdom, hence the temporary escape of this child of Jezebel, the cursed queen.

I. Concealment, vv. 1-3. Jehosheba. the wife of Jehoiada, the high priest in charge of the temple, is thought to be the daughter of Joram by another wife than Athaliah. She was the agent in God's hands of saving the boy's life and of the final extinguishment of the seed of Ahab. Jehosheba, as daughter of one king, sister of another and high priest's wife, was familiar with every nook and corner of the temple, and "so a woman's ruthlessness was outwitted by a woman's cunning."-Far rar. Thus God saved the seed of Da vid according to his Word (Psalms 89:3, 4).

II. Conspiracy, vv. 4-8. Athaliah's bloody reign is one of the darkest pages in the history of Judah. She murdered not her own children but her grandchildren to gain, or rather to continue, her rule, for as her son's counselor she was the real ruler of the nation (II Kings 8:26, 27; II Chron. 22:3, 4). God had made a promise (ch. 8:19; Isa. 7:6; Jer. 33:17-26) and that promise must be fulfilled, for no evil can thwart his will. Athaliah is a terrible example of unrestrained heredity. We have here the results of an unholy alliance. This is also an appalling example of the fruit of selfish ambition: (a) upon the nation, (b) on the family, (c) on the individ-

As against this picture we see a consecrated woman, a devoted home and the teaching of a pious priest, the final outcome of which was the overthrow of evil. This priest and his wife took certain other traits Joash inherited from his vile ancestors, such as courage, energy, skill and perseverance, and, training them under right and plous environment, turned them to the blessing of the nation, The early formative period of this boy's life was thus spent in such a way as to result in continuous bless ing throughout his reign (12:1, 2) Jehojada, knowing Athaliah, proceeded with great caution in his plan, but he must have known the readiness of the people to respond (II Chron. 23:1-3). Having chosen his men, he appeals to their loyalty to God, their faith in him and his Word, and covenanted them in God's house and in his very presence (v. 4). He also gave explicit directions (v. 8). Even so the Word is our guide (Psalms 119:11). III. Crowning, vv. 9-12 (to v. 16). It was a great service the priest and his wife rendered to Judah to save and to train a child. So likewise we are privileged, and those who are truly saved and rightly trained will also ultimately be crowned (II Tim. 4:8; I Peter 5:14; Rev. 2:10).

There are two accounts of the coronation ceremonies (see also II Chron. 22:10-23:21); they differ but do not conflict. The five captains and 500 bodyguards wrought a great work on that Sabbath day. Every man in the conspiracy did exactly as told. Joash is brought out at the exact moment. So also will our king appear at God's appointed time. The law is placed in his hands (v. 12, Ex. 25:16; Ps. 78:5; Isa. 8:16, 20). This controverts those who would have us believe the law was not written until Joash reigned. Aside from the law which was placed in his hands a crown was placed on his head and there was also the cus tomary shouting and clapping of hands and cries of "God save the king" (Am. R. V.) which accompany such occa sions. The noise of the ceremonies reached the ears of Athaliah and she rushed into the court of the temple. Looking upon the scene she cried "Treason!" Jeholada directed the guard to open ranks and let her, without attendants, pass through to the palace, outside of the temple, where she was slain.

IV. Conclusion. (1) Our Young Kings (and Queens). For everyone of our boys and girls there is awaiting a kingdom. Each is surrounded by dangers even as Joash. Their only safety is in God, in the love and power of his holy spirit, the knowledge of his word, the care and culture of his church, the guidance and influence of homes which belong to him.

(2) The Bible and the Coronation. The chief and most important part of the coronation was to place the word of God in the young king's hand, "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against thee."

The best book in the best place for the best possible use. It is the royal law, life, lively oracles, food, light and wisdom for king and subject alike.

(3) The Anointed King. Symbolicalty Joash received the holy spirit that he might know how and have power to live and govern by the law just placed in his hands. (I Sam. 10:16; 16:13: Acts 4:27: Heb. 1:9).

Such anointed ones are kings and queens and their lives are a benediction to all the world.
