Russell, Percy, C. B. and S. E. Smith—all of Lamaster, spent last Saturday with their uncle, Mr. George W. Smith, in McConnellsburg. The uncle has been very sick for several weeks.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

N. H. Peck, of Needmore, spent part of last week visiting in the home of his cousin B. W. Peck in McConnellsburg. He is not much struck on the kind of grippe they have up in that old town.

Bert Brant broke his tongue (we mean his wagon tongue) while hauling wood to town last Tuesday on the west side of the Ridge. But an experienced teamster does not mind little things like that in zero weather, and he made a woodsman's repair and finished the journey on time to get a new tongue before leaving town.

Our many readers who have friends in Cumberland county will be pleased to hear that funds have been provided to establish in Newville a fine library, an up-to-date Y. M. C. A. building, and a hospital equal, perhaps, to any in central southern Pennsylvania. The donor was Hon. John Graham, who died in December, and, by the terms of his will, his fine residence and nearly $75,000 cash were left for these purposes.

More About Deer Heads.

A former resident of the County sends the following additional comments on the "points" at issue among deer hunters. We are sorry that he forbids the use of his name and address. The letter follows: "The man from Carlisle knows what he is talking about, and I think that a 13-prong would be some buck, since it means that the deer had 13 prongs on one side and 14 on the other, or 27 points. I think the odd point might have been an extra large projection which are so common on, or near, the base of the horn; or, it might have been a freak of nature that sometimes occurs. But if neither should be the case, according to our friend from Lashley, it would 'sure be some buck,' and spells tough eating; for, as he figures, the animal was 27 years old when killed, which looks like a pretty old deer to be running at large. Again: did our friend from Lashley ever see a one-point deer? I have, but one point had been broken off. What would be the answer if a hunter should say he saw a 3-, 5-, 7-, 9-, or 11-point buck? I venture that nine-tenths of the deer killed in Pennsylvania had an even number of points on a full head of horns. I know of an 8-prong buck having been killed on Sideling Hill this year, and counting as our scribe from Buck Valley, it would be a 16-point head—meaning that it was 16 years old, which sounds very unreasonable for a section of mountain on which said deer was killed. Just imagine a deer living in Belfast township, among so many hunters, for 16 years!

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles? Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows. C. V. S. N. S. Notes.

The winter term at Normal School opened with a marked increase in attendance in both boarding and day students. Among the new boarding students the following are from Fulton county: Cristabel Lamberston, of Hustontown; Reba Clayton, of Warfordsburg, and Clyde Barnhart, of Buck Valley. Mr. Barnhart is noted for his athletic ability.

Ada Lehman, Glenn Lehman, Vernon Wink and Dorothy Kirk took part in program of Normal Literary Society last Friday evening.

The most interesting and exciting basket ball game of the season was played in the gymnasium on Friday evening between Lebanon Valley College and the Normal team. The Lebanon Valley team outweighed the Normal opponents by at least 25 lbs. to the man, but the Normal boys held their opponents in check so effectively that at the close of the game the score was a tie—25-25. The five minutes play-off was exciting, neither side being able to score until Barnhart won the game for Normal by scoring a foul. "Barney," although being out of the game for a year, Virtually won the game by scoring 8 points in a few minutes of play.

Survivor of Torpedoed Vessel to Lecture Here

The Sinking of a trans-Atlantic vessel by the instruments of war graphically described by one of the survivors of the ill-fated Arabic is the big attraction which the Parent-Teacher's Association has provided for the edification of Fulton county people.

Dr. Geo. A. McAlister

of Chambersburg
a passenger on the Arabic when her fate was sealed by a deadly torpedo from a German Submarine, and who miraculously escaped a watery grave, has been secured to deliver his lecture on the thrilling experiences amid scenes of dire distress and destruction of life at the hands of a warring nation. Dr. McAlister is a lecturer of considerable note, and the fact that this lecture was delivered to large and appreciative audiences on three occasions in his home town is sufficient endorsement for both the man and the subject.
