Miss Fannie Lehman whose funeral took place last Saturday at the Mennonite church north of Chambersburg, was Franklin county's biggest woman. She was in her 31st year, and at one time in her life, she weighed over 600 pounds.

It is one of the things that is worth looking into. What? Why, the big ONE CENT sale to be held next week beginning March 20th.

Miss Mollie Seylar who had been spending ten days visiting friends in Franklin county, returned to her home in this place last Saturday. Her nephew, Charles Cook, who had been spending the winter among relatives in the East, returned to Illinois last week.

Wait for it. It means $$$$ and $$$$ to you! What? Why, the big advertisement next week that will tell you all about the big ONE CENT sale.

J. F. Hess, one of Thompson's progressive farmers, spent a few hours in town last Friday. John is not wasting a great deal of sympathy on England. He thinks they are getting some of the medicine they tried to make us swallow on one or two occasions.

David Stambaugh, 65 years of age, a retired farmer, and his wife 60 years of age, were burned to death early on Wednesday morning of last week in a fire that totally destroyed their two-and-a-half story farm house in Elliottsburg, Perry county. Elliottsburg is a small village without fire protection, and the flames were raging furiously when discovered. Neighbors said they heard Mrs. Stambaugh scream twice and they expressed the belief that she sought to spread the alarm, instead of attempting to escape, and then returned to her bedroom to arouse her husband who was deaf.

Birthday Shower.

Mr. T. R. Shank, of Johnstown, Pa., wishes to thank his many friends, who so kindly remembered him on his birthday by sending him birthday cards. He received 186 cards.

Some of the cards came from Johnstown, Pa., Monessen, Pa., Shippensburg, Pa., Baltimore, Md., and Dunnsville, Va., but most of them came from Fulton county, his home community.

Mr. Shank was born in Union township, February 29, 1884, and is 32 years of age, but he has had only eight birthdays, counting the day he was born.

Many of the cards received contained greetings such as—"I wish you many, many more birthdays like this one." "I wish you sixteen more birthdays like this one." "I wish you ten more birthdays like this one." "Four years at a clip—going some." "Only eight years old—too young to be married." "With the best of wishes and lots of fun, My birthday comes four to your one."

Mr. Shank can count the years even if he does miss the birthdays, but if he were married February 29th, when would he celebrate his wedding anniversary?

Conserving Farm Manure.

At the present time when many farmers are worrying over the shortage of the potash supply is a good time to turn attention to our own farm resources and J. T. Campbell, soil and farm crop expert of the Department of Agriculture especially recommends the conservation of the liquid manure. Mr. Campbell says:

"On many farms the liquid manure of the farm livestock goes down through the floor of the stable or is otherwise lost to the land and with it goes immense value to the farmer. The crops taken from the field remove more or less potash while crops fed to animals give off the potash largely through the urine. If the liquid manure is not returned to the soil, the potash supply of the soil suffers.

If concrete watertight floors were constructed in the barns and enough of litter used to absorb the liquid, or concrete or watertight pits or reservoirs provided adjacent to the stables and barns, and the resultant manure were intelligently applied to the soil, there would not be a great need for additional potash.

"Most farmers have exaggerated ideas of the need of more plant food in the soil. What is needed more is a knowledge of how to make use of the plant food already in the soil. Some experiment stations are conducting a lot of experiments to show what can be done with chemical fertilizers and practically doing nothing to show us how the soil fertility can be maintained or restored without the expense of using chemicals and by going on in nature's own way."

Foreign Mission Thank-Offering.

Next Sunday, March 12, in both churches of the Lutheran Charge the foreign Mission Thank offering to Almighty God for having preserved us as a people in peace with the world, and when everywhere the shoutings of war are heard, will be received at all the services. Little envelopes for the Peace offering were given out about two weeks ago. If no envelope has reached you you will be given a chance at the services to get one and make your offering. The regular apportionment for foreign Missions is thirty two cents a year for each member. Because the American Church has been obliged to take upon its shoulders the work of the nations at war so far as foreign missions is concerned, we are requested to try to double our regular apportionment and raise the amount at once. Let every member of the Sunday school or church respond to this great need and thereby offer an effective prayer to God to keep us out of the war and preserve us as a nation of peace. Come every member of the School, and the church and friends of the church and bow before your God and do his will now so his anger will not fall upon us as a church or a people as it did upon the nations of Europe. —Robt. E. Peterman, Pastor.

Summer Normal.
