

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

WATER PROBLEM A SERIOUS OBSTACLE FOR PERSHING

The punitive expedition collected all wagons that might serve as water carriers and are taking them with them across the arid wastes and cactus-grown sands of Chihuahua. The picture shows cavalry resting at a stream.

PREPARE FOR ANY EMERGENCY ON THE BORDER

This photograph, taken "somewhere along the boundary line between Mexico and the United States," shows some of the recently arrived United States soldiers, who were called to the border to take the place of the border patrols now advancing after Villa in Mexico, and the trenches they have thrown up.

SOLDIERS PATROLLING THE MEXICAN BOUNDARY

Small detachments march under the blazing sun and plow through dusty sand, keeping a sharp lookout for trouble on the border.

PROHIBITION GOVERNORS.

Each of the seven states which outlawed the liquor traffic January 1 is fortunate in having a governor who is heartily in favor of prohibition and will uphold the law.

Governor Carlson of Colorado says he will enforce it even to the extent of calling upon the state militia. Governor Lester of Washington urges an appropriation of $50,000 to be used in enforcement. Governor Withycombe of Oregon expresses confidence that an overwhelming majority of the citizens of the state mean to see that the provisions of the law are lived up to and that they may count upon his help to the utmost. Governor Alexander's vigorous championship of the statutory prohibition law of Idaho is well known, and his personal influence was used to secure the referendum on the constitutional amendment to be taken next November.

When Governor Hay of Arkansas signed the prohibition bill, he said: "I believe the most manly act of my life, an act that will mean much to me, to my conscience, to my wife, to my two little boys, and to the people of the state to which I owe so much, was the act I performed when I placed my signature to the bill which gave Arkansas state-wide prohibition."

The attitude of Governor Clarke of Iowa is indicated by his remarks when he signed the measure repealing the mulct law and putting into effect state-wide prohibition: "The banishment of the saloon ought to mean the emancipation of many a laboring man, the joy of the wife in his home, better conditions and a better outlook on life for his child."

South Carolina's governor in his New Year's greeting declared that, "With the help of God and the support of the people the prohibition law shall be rigidly enforced so long as I am governor."

WATCH YOUR LIBRARY.

While getting ready to inaugurate a prize essay contest, a W. C. T. U. woman investigated the public local library to see what the children would find in the way of reference books, and discovered that of ten books on the temperance shelf seven were against total abstinence and prohibition. Among these were "Religion and Drink," "Drink, Temperance and Legislation," "A Text Book of True Temperance," "Alcohol, the Sanction for Its Use," "Prohibition, the Enemy of Temperance," "Prohibition, Its Relation to Temperance," "Good Morals and Sound Government." The local union immediately called the attention of the library board to the inconsistency of permitting the liquor interests to teach intemperance through the city library, when the law expressly provides that the children shall be taught in the schools the evil effects of drinking liquor.

SHINGLING HIS OWN ROOF.

Chaplain McCabe once told the story of a drinking man, who, being in a saloon late at night, heard the wife of the saloonkeeper say to her husband:

"Send that fellow home; it's late."
"No, never mind," replied the husband, "he is shingling our house for us."

The idea lodged in the mind of the drunkard, and he did not return to the saloon for six months. When passing the saloonkeeper on the street, the latter said:

"Why don't you come round to my place any more?"

"Thank you for your kind hospitality," replied the former victim, "I've been shingling my own roof lately."

RUSSIA IS PRESSING.

If America is to lead the van of civilization into the promised land of prohibition, she must make haste. Autocratic Russia has shouldered her out of the front rank, and it is high time for the voice of the people to speak—to speak overwhelmingly, and to speak where the voice of the people is heard.

WHY THE SCREENS?

Why are saloons and the patrons of saloons invariably opposed to the removal of screens from these places of business? A man does not object to being seen in a grocery or in a dry goods store—why, if the dramshop is a good thing in the community, is he ashamed to be seen in a saloon?

PROSPERITY IN KOKOMO.

Kokomo, a dry city of Indiana, is having the most prosperous times in its history. No empty buildings, and such a demand for homes that the business men have arranged to build at least two hundred at once. Four of the biggest firms agree to erect 25 houses each.

FARMERS APPROVE.

The Nebraska farmers' congress went on record in favor of prohibition at a meeting in Omaha, December 8. After a heated debate, a resolution for prohibition was drawn to replace one submitted by the resolutions committee opposing prohibition. The amended resolution was adopted by a vote of 52 to 7.

EFFICIENT PROHIBITION.

It was a Milwaukee mayor who said: "I am opposed to prohibition because it prohibits."

DECREASE OF CONVICTS.

"Convicts in the Washington state penitentiary, of whom there are now 782, will number not more than 400 after a year or two under the prohibition law," says H. W. Cochran, a member of the state board of control.

COST OF SALOONS.

Testifying before the Chicago municipal commission which is studying the liquor problem, Mr. John A. Shields pointed out that the city pays $97.50 for every $2.33 it receives from saloon licenses.

MACHINE-GUN CAVALRY TROOP IN MEXICO

TROOPS MAKING FAST TIME IN MEXICO

The United States troops under Pershing have made record time in their pursuit of Villa. The photograph shows men limbering up machine guns in double quick to resume the march.

MAN WHO SAVED MORMONS

Daniel Hurst, son of Bishop Hurst of the Mormon church at El Paso, who ran the gantlet of the Villa lines and arrived at El Paso from Casas Grandes with the news that 500 Mormons were trapped by Villa. Colonel Dodd's troops made a forced march in record time and rescued the colony.

THEY SMILED ONCE TOGETHER

When Villa (left) and General Pershing (right) met after Carranza and Villa had defeated Huerta in 1914.

FRENCH FIRST-LINE TRENCH NEAR VERDUN

This photograph shows an intimate view of a French first-line trench in the Verdun region. This is one of the best pictures taken during the great German offensive. It shows the nature of the country.

STEEL TRENCH COVERS

LANSING TAKES A VACATION

Secretary of State Lansing put in his vacation on the golf links at Pinehurst, N. C.

MACHINE-GUN CORPS IN ACTION

This corps forms part of Pershing's force in the march into Mexico.

LEADS THE HUNT FOR VILLA

Brigadier General Pershing in service uniform as he looks today.

KEEP EYE ON BORDER MEXICANS

The photograph shows strange Mexicans being questioned by military authorities of the United States on the border. The men were liberated. Two of them later were found shot.