NOT THE ONLY ONE.

There are Other McConnellsburg People Similarly Situated.

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of McConnellsburg residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

John P. Conrad, deputy postmaster, Main St., McConnellsburg, says: "I had terrible pains across my back and I didn't sleep well at night. I was very nervous and when I got up in the morning, I was more tired than when I went to bed. Doan's Kidney Pills soon freed my back from pain."

Over four years later, Mr. Conrad said: "I haven't needed any medicine for backache or kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Conrad has publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

AMARANTH

Mr. Charles Stanley passed through our valley last week enroute to Hancock and spent the night with the family of J. C. Hixson. Mr. Stanley operated a stove mill here for several years and is now located near Breezewood. His daughter Miss Clara accompanied him this far and spent several days with her old schoolmates.

Jessie Cavender, formerly of Warfordsburg, has moved onto the Will McKee farm, with his mother as housekeeper.

Geo. Gunnels, Hancock, Md., spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday in the home of J. Clayton Hixson.

Miss Marguerite McKee accompanied her cousin Miss Mary McKibbin who teaches Fairview school, home Friday evening and spent the time until Monday morning with her aunt Mrs. James M. McKibbin.

There will be a spelling bee at Fairview March 31st.

Clyde May who has been employed by Dr. J. M. McKibbin will return to his home in Bedford county the first of April.

Elmer Clevenger, Emmaville, spent a few days last week in this vicinity.

Clarence Spence spent part of last week on his farm in Bovoko. He conducts a drug store at McKees Rocks.

Mrs. Ickes, Mrs. Spence's mother accompanied Mr. Spence to her holdings here. She buried her husband a short time ago and thinks of moving back to Pittsburgh.

Mr. A. A. Richards, Washington, D. C., spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. J. Clayton Hixson. Mr. Richards formerly operated several oil wells in Oklahoma, but he has turned the business over to his two sons, and moved to Washington. He has a lease of fourteen acres on which they have put down thirty wells that yield them at the rate of $3000 a month. He has several other holdings that pay equally as well. Master Joe Richards was with his father on his visit.

Milk as a Food.

It is a great pity that the good old habit of eating plenty of mush and milk has fallen into disrepute. What grand old men and women were grown on mush and milk diet. If our dietitians or dining room masters would coin an unpronounceable French name for this excellent combination dish, and thus induce the masses to eat it in abundance, their action would be a benefit to humanity.

The above is the sentiment expressed by L. W. Lighty, farm adviser of the State Department of Agriculture in making a plea for the use of more milk. Mr. Lighty says:

"The food expert says a quart of milk is equal to fourteen ounces of beef steak and the medical expert prescribes milk when you cannot digest any other food. Milk is very easy of digestion and a complete food in that it contains a correct balance of protein, energy and the minerals. Furthermore, milk enters into harmonious and beneficial combination with many other foods and greatly increases their value. If the consumption of milk were increased the cost of living could be materially reduced and health conserved at the same time.

"Cream, butter and buttermilk should enter largely into our dietary, because of their cheapness and digestibility. No other standard food is as digestible as pure butter, save sugar alone. Ice cream is sometimes considered a luxury, yet it is a very nourishing food in every sense of the term. Milk that has turned sour has simply been acted on by the lactic acid ferments, natural to all cows' milk, and while the milk has lost a little of its sugar, the souring has increased its digestibility. Buttermilk and sour milk are very digestible and cooling and soothing to the digestive tract.

"When you buy milk, always remember that a quart of milk is worth practically as much as the average pound of beef steak and you will soon see the economy of using more milk."

The King David Apple.

The King David apple is one of the newer varieties which has been much advertised and talked about. Whether it is going to prove a success commercially in Pennsylvania, the Department of Agriculture is not prepared to say for the reason that its experts have not had sufficient time to observe it. However, it is worth growing in the home orchard.

The King David is supposed to be a cross between the Jonathan and Arkansas Black and has proved superior to either parent in many characteristics. The tree is hardy and productive and is up to the average in vigor and health. It is a better colored apple than the Jonathan which makes King David one of the handsomest grown. Its deep, solid red color, uniform size, and round shape are three qualities making for perfection from the aesthetic point of view.

The fruit hangs on well, deepening in color the longer it hangs but to keep well it should be picked as soon as well overspread with color, and before the seeds are well ripened. If overripe when picked it has a tendency to rot at the core in storage.

The flesh is distinctly yellow, firm, crisp, moderately tender, juicy, brisk, sub-acid, spicy and aromatic, and in quality good and very good. Its season is from November to February. Altogether it is one of the most promising of the newer apples.

Highest and Lowest Elevations.

We learn from the Fulton County Atlas that the apex of Cove mountain, where it joins Tuscarora mountain, east of McConnellsburg, is 2,450 feet above sea level, which is the highest elevation in our county, while the lowest elevation is 485 feet, where the Black Oak Ridge road in Bethel township crosses the State line into Maryland.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building- tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

JUST HUMAN INTEREST.

Knows the Congressional Business, Always Working for the People and No Change Thought of at This Critical Period.

From the Shamokin daily Dispatch, March 21.

Congressman Ben Focht over at Lewisburg is a candidate for re-election and it looks like he would win, hands down.

Its like a familiar newspaper advertisement—"there's a reason." With Focht it's HIS HUMAN INTEREST IN ALL HIS CONSTITUENTS—to whom he of course is indebted for his election—and in a lot of other people from whom he has no earthly reason ever to expect a favor.

It is Focht's policy of "watchful waiting" for an opportunity to do someone a favor that has made him so solid in his district that it is dangerous to intimate over there that he has any faults. It's only at long range that people say that he has, but when they get close to his genial personage they forget it.

Some people over in his district knock about his political affiliations but when it gets around to election time they mark their ballots for Ben Focht for Congress.

Being a good fellow isn't an art. It's a science and it takes brains to play the game successfully. Ben Focht has been "a good fellow" to everybody so long that it has become a habit.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McClain entertained a large number of their friends at their pleasant home on North Second street, last Thursday afternoon and Friday evening.

Evelyn Isabelle is the name of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Alexander's little daughter that was born to them at their home in Waynesboro last Friday morning.

WOLVES OF THE ARCTIC.

These White Coated Cowards Swarm Over the Ice North.

It was like a picture from one of the old books on travel in Siberia. Twelve white wolves were leaping over the snow directly at us.

Fiction would have us now fighting for our lives, knives between teeth and rifles constantly going. On the contrary, we prayed that they would not stop, but keep coming on. Undoubtedly they would have done so had we been able to control our dogs, who were now wild with excitement, whining, yelping and straining on the traces.

We shouted and threatened and lashed with the whip, the same time holding back with all our strength on the upstanders of the sledge. The leader of the band stopped, surveyed us critically for an instant and wheeled, followed by the others. By the time that we could tear the covers from the rifles they were out of range.

I have no compunction whatever in shooting at these sneaking cowards of the animal world. Axel Heiberg Land is infested with them, their tracks being found intermingling with those of the musk ox and white caribou. A mother and her young are surrounded, worried to death and torn in pieces. During Sverdrup's expedition the wolves came into camp, attacked and killed some of the dogs and later, on the trail, even attacked one of the men who had no other weapon to defend himself with than a ski. No animal in the north is so enduring, none has such a wide range, and none has easier existence, their food being musk oxen, caribou, arctic hare, lemmings and possibly foxes. There is also every evidence to believe that wolves prey upon seals along the ice foot.—Donald B. Macmillan, Leader of Crocker Land Expedition, in Harper's Magazine.

Why Cuvier Wore a Beard.

"To save time is to lengthen life" is a proverb found in one form or another in almost every language, and Cuvier, the great naturalist, found life all too short to accomplish all he wished to do, though most economical of the hours.

"I found," he said, "that my shaving took me a quarter of an hour a day. This makes seven and a half hours in a month and ninety hours, or three days and eighteen hours, very nearly four days a year. This discovery staggered me. Here was I complaining that time was too short; that the years flew by too swiftly; that I had not hours enough for work, and in the midst of my complaining I was wasting nearly four days a year in lathering my face with a shaving brush, and I resolved thenceforth to let my beard grow."

Be a Real Power in the World.

It is a great thing to start out in active life with the resolution that you will not be a mere cipher in your community, but a real constructive force; that you will stand for something more than a real living getter or a dollar gatherer; that you will not be merely one more

Statement of Facts.

EDITOR NEWS:—Believing that a great injustice has been done Robert Wilkinson by the stories that have been circulated growing out of his arrest last Saturday night, on charges of forgery, counterfeiting and jumping a board bill, we the undersigned request that you publish the following statement embracing the facts as we have found them to be upon investigation.

Prior to February 14th of this year, Mr. Wilkinson was in the employ of Edward J. Post, and on that date took him to Greensburg where Mr. Post was attending the Automobile show. Mr. Wilkinson stopped at the Fisher House, tendering as payment of his bill a check given him by Mr. Post for $15.00 drawn on the First National Bank of McConnellsburg, this check Mr. Wilkinson indorsed over to the proprietor of the Hotel who accepted the same. It turned out that Mr. Post had no funds in the bank and the check went to protest.

After being apprised that the check had been protested, Mr. Wilkinson notified the Fisher House that he had arranged to have the bill paid including the telephone charges and the protest fees, which amount was to be paid by Dr. George W. Teagarden of Chambersburg upon receipt of sight draft for the amount.

While awaiting the coming of the draft, which was agreed to by the proprietor of the Fisher House, a warrant from the Hotel was issued on the charges above mentioned, and sent to the police department of Chambersburg.

Chief Klenzing came to McConnellsburg Saturday night, arrested Mr. Wilkinson and took him to Chambersburg where he was released from custody on his own promise to be there when wanted.

On Tuesday of this week the chief, after communicating with Greensburg, informed Mr. Wilkinson that the payment of $46.41 would end the matter. Upon the advice of his father this amount was paid and the charges dropped.

The circumstances of this case show clearly a malicious intent on the part of the prosecutor to extort money from a young man innocent of any intention of wrong doing, who had made arrangements that were accepted by the hotel man to pay all of the check and the costs of protest.

Mr. Wilkinson is advised that he has a right of action against the prosecutor for false imprisonment, and malicious prosecution and is contemplating bringing action accordingly.

Give the Children their Chance

Can't expect the children to stand high in their classes unless they get their lessons done properly. And they can't do night study without proper light.

The best light to study by is that which beams from a Rayo Lamp filled with slow-burning Atlantic Rayolight Oil. It gleams soft, white and mellow—doesn't flicker. It's a wonderful light for studying. Won't strain the children's eyes and so they study the better. And they learn the quicker.

And you'll sew with less effort, and father will enjoy his paper the more if you keep the house generously lighted with Rayo Lamps.

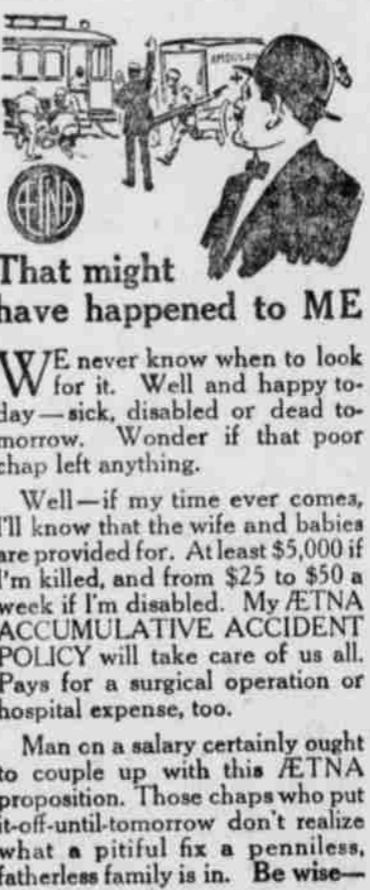

Rayo Lamps are handsome—add to the appearance of any room. They're easily cleaned and last a lifetime. Your dealer can show you a full assortment of Rayo Lamps priced from $1.50 up. But to get the best light from a Rayo Lamp, you should burn

ATLANTIC Rayolight OIL

That's the kerosene that neither smokes nor smells, that burns brightly and yields a great heat, but always at a low cost; use it in every lamp in the house, in your heaters and in your oil stoves. Atlantic Rayolight Oil is the one kerosene you can ask for by name—that never varies in quality. And so it is especially desirable for domestic purposes—for polishing furniture, for keeping away moths, for removing rust and the many other uses hundreds of housewives tell us they have found for it.

Ask your dealer for ATLANTIC RAYOLIGHT OIL by name, you can buy it at any store that displays the sign.

That might have happened to ME

WE never know when to look for it. Well and happy to-day—sick, disabled or dead tomorrow. Wonder if that poor chap left anything.

Well—if my time ever comes, I'll know that the wife and babies are provided for. At least $5,000 if I'm killed, and from $25 to $50 a week if I'm disabled. My AETNA ACCUMULATIVE ACCIDENT POLICY will take care of us all. Pays for a surgical operation or hospital expense, too.

Man on a salary certainly ought to couple up with this AETNA proposition. Those chaps who put it off until tomorrow don't realize what a pitiful fix a penniless, fatherless family is in. Be wise—
