

SAYS HE HELPED TO STEAL MILLION

James Moran Confesses Part in Mail Robbery.

SACKS TAKEN FROM WAGON

Self-Accused Robber Surrenders Himself in San Diego, Cal.—Declares He Was Double-Crossed By Accomplices.

San Diego.—James Moran, a New York chauffeur, confessed to participation in the robbery two months ago of a mail truck in New York City, from which securities valued at thousands of dollars and valuable bonds were stolen, according to Federal officials.

"I've been double-crossed and I want to get even," James Moran said to have asserted in his confession. Moran surrendered Friday night, and, according to United States Commissioner C. E. Burch, he made a confession, declaring he was aided in the robbery by three others, one the ringleader, whom he named, and two postal employees, whose names he said he did not know. Moran then was taken to Los Angeles for further investigation. When he surrendered Moran was without money.

After the robbery, Moran is said to have asserted, he was given $200 and sent to San Francisco, where the loot was to be divided. Then, smarting under the belief that he had been double-crossed, he came to San Diego, attended a Salvation Army meeting at which he, conscience stricken, decided, according to the alleged confession, to make a clean breast of the affair.

"I am willing to go back to New York and tell all I know," says the statement, which was made public by Mr. Burch.

According to Moran's alleged confession, he was approached by a man whom he named as the ringleader of the robbery, who, he said, asked him if he could furnish a car "for something big."

"He explained to me that registered mail coming from Weehauken, N. J., could be got on the ferry boat coming over, as it was half hour's run and he wanted to know if I could get a car and I told him I could," according to the confession.

Two postal employees, according to the confession, were in the plot, but Moran did not know their names.

"I think it was January 15," the confession continued, "that I went to the leader and we laid for the mail-wagon and as it went on the ferry boat we drove in back of it."

The key to the back of the wagon was handed to the ringleader by one of the postal employees, the confession said, "and we opened the back of the wagon and took out eight or nine registered mail sacks."

According to the confession, the mail sacks were opened in Bronx Park.

"I was to get rid of the car and they told me to go to San Francisco, where the division was to take place," Moran said.

The leader, according to the confession, was to bring Moran's share to him.

"He has never shown up," the statement continued. "It looks as though he is trying to make me the goat. His home is at Canandaigua, N. Y. He is about 45 years old and has a hatchet face. I have had other deals with him."

Moran, according to his confession, left at once for San Francisco.

IN PACT TO KILL RULERS

Scheme of General Assassination Unearthed in Chicago.

CZAR FIRST, THEN KAISER

All Other Sovereigns Of Europe Doomed By Plotters, Declares State's Attorney—Insider Bared Plot.

Chicago.—Existence of an international anarchistic plot to assassinate all rulers of Europe has been discovered here, according to a formal statement issued by Maclay Hoyne, State's Attorney of Cook county.

The alleged plot was unearthed by the State's Attorney's men while investigating the activities of Jean Cronos, suspected poisoner of the guests at the banquet in honor of Archbishop Mundelein in February.

The State's Attorney said that a list of the proposed assassinations was headed by the Czar of Russia and that Emperor William was second on the list.

According to the information which reached the State's Attorney, the plot was known to anarchists in various cities in America, as well as in Europe. One man from each city was believed to have been delegated to the work of assassination.

Insider Bared Plot.
Mr. Hoyne said that a written statement had been made to him by an anarchist baring the details of the alleged plot.

Officials said the headquarters of the band of conspirators was in the downtown district and that there were branches in other cities. According to Mr. Hoyne's information, the Mundelein banquet poisoning was planned by the group which sought the death of the European rulers.

The State's Attorney refused to divulge the identity of the man who revealed the alleged plot and said that his investigators are seeking to confirm the statements.

Assassins Chosen By Lot.
This man said that secret meetings have been held in Chicago and a number of other cities," said Mr. Hoyne. "He said he attended a meeting in this city at which lots were drawn for the purpose of picking the assassin, and that the meetings were so guarded that only the man chosen for the crime and the leader of the individual group knew the particular ruler singled out."

The assassins were to use poison, according to the Prosecutor's information. Bombs were not to be used unless it was "absolutely necessary," Mr. Hoyne said he was told.

The anarchist who supplied the information is not under arrest, but the State's Attorney said he could easily reach him whenever he wanted him.

The information given to the State's Attorney is expected to be turned over to Federal authorities.

The Prosecutor said his informant intimated that secret meetings had been held in New York at about the time of the Chicago meeting.

GO ON WARPATH IN MEXICO

U. S. Gives Notice Chase Is To Go On. Suggestion That Troops Be Withdrawn Meets a Prompt Answer.

Columbus, N. M.—Twenty Apache Indian scouts have started from here for General Pershing's headquarters at San Geronimo ranch to take up the trail of Francisco Villa.

Only the arrival of "Peaches," described as premier scout and trailer of the Apaches, was needed to complete their happiness in the prospect of taking the warpath again after more than 30 years of civilization, according to their interpreter.

Four Were in Geronimo Hunt.
"Peaches" was in the mountains and word did not reach him in time to start with the others from the White Mountain Apache Reservation in Arizona.

Thirty years ago four of the 20 made a similar trip into Mexico to assist another cavalry command in the capture in the Sierra Madre of another outlaw—Geronimo, the war chief of the Apaches. It was "Peaches," together with Sharley, another of the scouts, who, after Geronimo had made his escape from the soldiers at Mesalero, N. M., and again took to the warpath, went into the old medicine man's camp near Phoenix, Ariz., and captured him.

War Feathers Resumed.
As the scouts, clad in the khaki of the cavalry, prepared for their departure only the eagle feathers, the Apache insignia of war, stuck into the tightly woven braids of long black hair which hung over the shoulders of their army blouses, suggested the primitive native of America. The feathers had been carefully preserved in the tepees of the tribe since it was last on the warpath. It was said. Tucked away in each man's shirt was a small package, wrapped in buckskin, containing a pair of moccasins. Ekanahstia, better known as "Chicken," the ranking officer of the band explained that once on the trail of Villa among forests and cliffs of Guerrero the scouts will discard their uniforms and continue the search as did their forefathers before the civilization of the white man enveloped them.

Not To Withdraw Troops.
Washington.—Categorical denial by Secretary Lansing was the official answer to persistent reports that the American troops might be withdrawn from Mexico shortly regardless of development in the hunt for Villa. Both Mr. Lansing and Secretary Baker of the War Department indicated that there was no present intention of changing the original orders given General Funston.

HAS NO IDEA OF INVADING AMERICA

Germany's Chancellor Says it is Absolutely Silly.

FIGHTING FOR EXISTENCE

Von Bethmann-Hollweg Makes An Impassioned Address In Reichstag. Contemplates No Violation Of the Monroe Doctrine.

Berlin.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg protested vigorously in the Reichstag against the report that Germany, now or in the future, contemplated aggression against the United States. The Chancellor said: "The latest offspring of the calumniating campaign directed against us is a report that we, after the end of this war, shall rush against the American continent and that we shall attempt to conquer Canada.

"This is the silliest of all the imputations invented against us. Equally silly are the reports that we contemplate the acquisition of any territory on American soil, as in Brazil, or in any American country whatsoever.

"We fight for our existence and for our future. For Germany, and not for space in a foreign country, are Germany's sons bleeding and dying on the battlefield.

"Every one among us knows this and it makes our hearts and nerves strong. This moral force strengthens our will in order not only to weather the storm, but also to achieve final victory."

Von Bethmann-Hollweg killed all hopes in the minds of his hearers that the war may be brought to an early end. The Allies' response to his offer to discuss terms of peace was a demand that Germany's military power be crushed.

"To these peace conditions only one answer is left, and this answer our sword must give," declares the Chancellor. "If our adversaries want to continue the slaughter of human beings and the devastation of Europe, their will be the guilt, and we will have to face it like men."

Continue U-Boat Campaign.
The Chancellor covered every conceivable angle of the military and diplomatic situation. Among his most striking declarations were these:

Germany contemplates no violation of the Monroe Doctrine after the war, either by conquest of Canada or by obtaining a foothold in South America.

Germany will continue to carry on her submarine warfare, meeting England's attempts to starve her out, though with consideration for the legitimate rights of neutrals.

Germany will never willingly consent to the return of Poland and conquered Russian provinces to the Czar at the conclusion of peace.
