PROHIBITION IN BOISE. The city of Boise, Idaho, is well sat lafied with prohibition and is not worrying about saloon substitutes. Three wholesale liquor houses are all being remodeled for other purposes. Three or four former saloons are now soft drink places. One saloon is turned into a music store, and two into barber shops. One of the former wholesale liquor stores is to be a variety store.

Adjutant Burnett says the transformation in the soldiers' home since the first of the year was wonderful. "If the state only went dry for the benefit of the soldiers' home, it is worth while."

Sheriff Pfost says: "Never have there been so few prisoners at the county jail as at the present time. The former average was from 8 to 22. Since the state went dry the number has grown less and less until at the present time there are but four county prisoners and one held on a federal charge."

The Boise (Idaho) Statesman says: "January was a record breaker for the Carnegie library. Never in any previous month have there been so many readers, the attendance almost doubling that of other months. This is thought to be due to the closing of the saloons. An unusual number of foreigners are now noticed in the library and it is possible foreign papers or magazines will be subscribed tor, if the attendance keeps up enough to warrant it.

"Men who have never before been in the library now appear almost daily. "Sunday there was not a seat to spare in the municipal reading room, which is open until midnight, and each night up to about eleven o'clock it is filled with readers. More games are wanted, particularly chess and checkers, and more magazines. There are many in the room, but most of the men have gone over them all, and fresh supplies are necessary."

LABOR UNIONS, ATTENTION!

Speaking of the saloon as the enemy of organized labor, Major Dan Morgan Smith (once an attorney for the liquor interests) points out that when a union bartender is driven out of his job by prohibition "It prevents that bartender from selling liquor that will, in the course of a year, drive over thirty other union men out of their jobs."

"In this connection," continues Mafor Smith, "I would call the attention of labor union to the fact that it is a cardinal rule of unionism that a union workman shall not handle, buy or sell nonunion goods. Who ever heard of a union bartender looking for a union label on a whisky bottle? Who ever heard of a union bartender throwing a case of beer into the alley because it was made by nonunion labor? If they did this they would have to throw the most of it in the alley. A large percentage of the breweries throughout the whole United States are not unionized. The union bartender sells

Step by step God has widened the sphere of activities of those who accepted the gospel, and with every step the stamp of divine approval was seen. (11:21). II. A Great Commission (13:1-3). The separation which took place after Barnabas and Saul had resided in the city for a year's time (11:26), and while they were meeting with such outward success reminds us of the way the spirit separates Philip from Holy Spirit knew what was best for demonstrated. Among the great leaders the Spirit separated two for this particular task, and the quietness with which it was done as suggested by the text, is in marked contrast with most of our modern plans for "advanced steps." No "dollar dinner" or committee luncheons and meetings. This duty was presented: (1) While in the discharge of their regular duties, "as they ministered" (v. 2), Just the form of this ministry is not accurately stated, but it included fasting and prayer (v. 3): and it "was to the Lord." There are plenty today who can do "church work." but far too few who can minister to the Lord (not to people) and who can by fasting and prayer know what the mind of the Spirit is relative to any advance steps needful in the church. (2) Under the Spirit's direction. Just how the Spirit spoke to this people we do not know nor much care, but his message was unmistakable, whether audible or in the deep recesses of their hearts. (3) It came while they prayed. An overly-filled stomach is apt to divert a Spirit-filled mind. But an attitude of prayer is the only one which can render us susceptible to the Spirit's voice. He is ever ready to speak and if we supply the open heart and the ready mind there will be no vague, uncertain impulse such as men often call "the Spirit's voice"; rather a definite task. (4) It brought a united blessing. The whole body of believers had a part in the fruits of this journey. III. A Glorious Conquest (v. 4-12). (1) The journey (v. 4). It was but natural for the leader of this expedition to direct his steps first to his home (4:36). If our testimony will not receive a hearing at home it is not of any great value. (2) The work (v. 5). They followed the same plan as before, entered the synagogues where teaching and discussion was the order of service and, to the Jews, gave the word of God" (Matt. 5.17). Are we able to thus teach the word, how Jesus "fulfilled" and what the result is in that he did fulfill "all righteousness"? (3) The resistance (v. 6-8). Bar-Jesus, or "Elymas the sorcerer," must not be confused with our modern necromancers or sleight-of-hand artists. He was a leading scientist of his time and his position in the Roman deputy's household is significant. He readily saw that for the deputy to hear the gospel would destroy his power and influence (v. 8). Paul, now first so-called (v. 9), know the blight of blindness, physical and spiritual, and caused this man, temporarily (v. 11) to be smitten even as he had been (9:8, 17, 18). The deputy had desired to "hear" (v. 7) the Word. Now he "saw" (v. 2) a manifestation of the power of the Spirit and as a result he "believed" (v. New hatpins have heads of straw, 12). Thus the punishment meted out upon Elymns worked out for good to the deputy (Rom. 8:28).

this city from the home of Judeaism at the outset, however, spake to Gentile Greeks. (a) They "spake the word" (v. 19), as travelers and fugitives they carried the message wherever they journeyed. (b) "They preached Jesus," the only message that will reach and stir an entire city. (c) They did it in a conversational way (v. 20 R. V.). (2) The workers (3:1). It is an amazing array of names mentioned as one of the results of this Antioch revival.

REMARKABLE ANOMALY.

A London banker-not a temperance man-is quoted by the Review of Revlews as saving: "The drink question has been just about the worst handled of any of the domestic problems which have confronted England since the outbreak of the war. The savings, direct and indirect, from the putting through of Lloyd-George's total prohibition scheme last spring would have gone a mighty long way towards paying the cost of the war. We have the remarkable anomaly of a people sacrificing rivers of blood for their country, and yet unwilling to give up the use of a beverage which not only wastes money but lowers their industrial and military efficiency as well. . . . It will probably take another year or so of war to bring the country to its senses."

BOOSTING PROHIBITION.

The South Dakota State Boosters and Builders in convention assembled announced themselves in favor of prohibition as one of the best ways to promote the prosperity of the state. The convention represented the State Corn Growers' association. State Association of Commercial Clubs, State Press association, State Live Stock association and prominent real estate dealers.
