Mr. and Mrs. Riley Hess and their little daughter Nellie and son Willard, were pleasant callers at the NEWS office last Saturday morning. Riley has just finished the burning of a nice lime-kiln on his farm.

George F. Mellott, formerly of the Cove, now owns three good farms in Franklin county. One of the secrets of Mr. Mellott's success is that he does not let anything go to waste about his farm. In order to work up the odds and ends in the way of feed he has sixty-nine steers that are now about ready for the market, that will add about sixty-five hundred dollars to his bank account in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Johnson and children Cloyd, Ralph and Clarence were in town last Saturday doing some spring shopping. They live in the Fulton County Rod and Gun Club house on Siding Hill. Among other members of the club there now are Dick Frey, of Altoona, and Tom Patch, of Pittsburgh, who are having splendid luck whishing the speckled beauties from their hiding places in those beautiful mountain streams.

County Surveyor and Mrs. Frank P. Plessinger, and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Layton—all of Whips Cove, motored to McConnellsburg last Thursday in Mr. Layton's Ford, and were all very pleasant callers at the NEWS office. Mr. Layton was just getting possession of the title to the Locust grove farm and mill property, which he recently purchased from Henry Sharpe. Mr. and Mrs. Layton have lived upon the property as tenants during the past six years—Mrs. Layton being the postmaster at Locust Grove.

Congress

Williamson's record, political, personal, and financial is an open book. Always he has stood four square.

He can be relied on. His word never has been questioned. His financial integrity none better.

To send him to Congress would be to send there a representative of the Seventeenth District who would be a credit to district and nation.
