Prepared for Real Life

The course at Indiana Normal equips one to earn a good living by teaching. This practical school inspires true American ambition; it builds character, self-reliance, strength. Actual teaching experience is a part of the course.

Pennsylvania State of Normal School Indiana, Pa.
A School of Ambition and Success.

Life at Indiana is healthful and happy. The air is clear and crisp; the home life is exceptional in comfort and cheer; the days are filled with interesting work and brightened by the company of congenial teachers and fellow-students. $200 covers all expenses for one year—excepting books—for those preparing to teach. Others pay $260.

In connection with the Normal School are—The Indiana School of Business, John E. Smith, Principal, and The Indiana Conservatory of Music—Rexford D. Colburn, Director,—two of the best equipped schools of their kind in this country.

42nd Year Opens September 12th, 1916. For the new catalog—a beautifully illustrated book of 128 pages—address the Principal DR. JAMES E. AMENT, Indiana, Pa.

Although it is thirteen years since Mr. Jacob Myers went to Ohio, he and his good wife love to read the NEWS. A few days ago Mrs. Myers sent us a "bouquet" guaranteed to keep the paper going to them until this time next year. A baby, two months old, is demanding a share of her time just now.

Investments Bought from Resident Salesmen

The difference between a salesman who resides permanently in his own territory and one who travels from place to place, is purely a moral difference, upon which it would be impossible to place a value in dollars and cents. Yet there is a difference, and it is one which tends to strengthen the position of the investor who purchases preferred stock from a resident salesman as well as the investment broker who markets securities through him.

For more than 12 years our preferred stocks have been marketed through resident salesmen, and the reason why these men (150 of them in all) stand so well among their friends and neighbors is because no one who acted on their advice has ever lost a dollar of principal or income on funds invested in our preferred stocks. At the same time these gentlemen know more about us than any individual investor ever has time to find out. They remain loyal through thick and thin because their own funds are invested in securities we have recommended, and they know by experience what to expect from us in the way of protection.

If you have $100 or more to invest, or if you are a responsible person who should be able to discuss investments and other matters intelligently, we will send you a copy of our 1916 "Portfolio of Anniversary Reports." Send us your name and address at once, before you forget.

Ben is a son of Mrs. Sadie Fisher, of McConnellsburg.

Commencement at C. V. S. N. S.

The NEWS has received an invitation to attend the Commencement of the Shippensburg Normal School, to be held June 25-28. On June 27, p. m., there will be a meeting of the Alumni. The commencement program promises very interesting features. Among the members of the graduating class are the following students from Fulton county: Helen K. Edwards, Waterfall; Jean Johnston, McConnellsburg; Ada L. Lehman, Lashley; Clyde L. Barnhart, Buck Valley; Glenn A. Lehman, Lashley.

To Fill Three Barrels.

Last Sunday was Children's day at the Lutheran church in town. There was a large crowd which completely filled the room. Among the features of the evening was an agreement that the Orphans' School at Loysville be asked to send three barrels of empty jars to be filled with preserved berries and fruits by the Sunday school during the summer. Three barrels is a large consignment, and it means that our youngsters will have to get a hustle. In addition, $15.50 were given in the collection for the Loysville school.

AMARANTH

Arrangements have been made to hold a picnic at Amaranth on July 1st. Good speakers, fine music, and other entertainment will be provided. Come—everybody.

Mrs. J. C. Hixson returned home last Sunday after having spent a week with relatives in Everett and Bush Creek Valley. She reports a pleasant visit.

George Miller, E-q., recently began laying the concrete foundation for a new barn.

See account of the fire, at McKee's store, elsewhere in this paper. Sent by Myrtle Mellott.—[Editor.]

KNOBVILLE.

Since it has become fashionable to be taken from home on one's birthday, to be surprised on returning to find a houseful of friends, Adda Cunningham took Hulda Shade to Fort Littleton a few days ago, and she experienced same results, including the big feast which followed. (The Editor is sorry that time and space forbid printing the names of all present, but we congratulate Miss Hulda for having had such a fine time.)

Among the auto visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sheffield last Sunday were their three daughters, namely, Mrs. T. Kelso, of Knobsville; Mrs. L. C. Miller, of Altoona, and Mrs. A. V. Woodcock, of Mt. Union. Mrs. Sheffield and Mrs. Kelso were accompanied by their daughters, and Mrs. Woodcock by Miss Rodgers. Mrs. Miller left for Ohio to which point she has been transferred by the Salvation Army.
