Washington .- Full responsibility for the attack on the American troopers by Mexican forces at Carrizal has been assumed by the Carranza Government.

Demand for the immediate release of the American troopers captured in the engagement has been made by the American Government, with a further demand for an early statement from Carranza as to the course of action he has determined upon.

These are the outstanding features of communications exchanged between the two governments and made public Sunday afternoon by Secretary of State Lansing.

To Meet Force With Force.

The Mexican communication is construed, Secretary Lansing states in the note sent to Carranza, "as a formal avowal of deliberately hostile action against the forces of the United States now in Mexico, and of the purpose to attack without provocation whenever they move from their present position," despite the friendly mission on which they are engaged and which is reaffirmed in the American rejoinder.

General Carranza is required to place himself on record formally, and the plain intimation lies behind the restrained language of Mr. Lansing's communication that force will be met with force. Apparently, however, the Washington Government is determined that the de facto Government shall not evade responsibility before the world if war is forced upon the United States.

The note and the military situation of the United States were talked over at the White House by the President with Chairman Stone, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Senator Lodge, ranking Republican member, aud Chairman Flood, of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. Representative Cooper, ranking minority member of the House committee, was out of the city.

After the conference, which lasted more than an hour, Senator Stone said the situation was "exceedingly acute." President Wilson had felt it necessary to acquaint Congress with the state of affairs and the action taken, through the Foreign Affairs Committee, It was indicated that he might desire to address a joint session of the House and Senate in a day or two, but would not take this final step until the Mexican Government had been given an opportunity to reply.

Pershing Has No Word Of Two Battaliona Sent To Rescue Remnants Of Captain Boyd's Expedition.

San Antonio, Tex .- The two troops of the Tenth Cavalry, under Capt. Chas. T. Boyd, practically were wiped out by the attack of Mexican forces under General Gomez, at Carrizal, June 21, according to indications given in a fragmentary report received by General Funston from General Pershing. General Pershing's message stated that seven survivors in all have reached the main column. All were enlisted men, but the report did not say whether there were non-commissioned officers among them.

Caught In Trap.

Captain Boyd had ordered his men to dismount as the machine gun opened fire, and the combined effect of the Mexican charge, the machine gun fire and the rifle fire from the Mexican garrison of Carrizal, which had almost surrounded the little American force under cover of the parley sought by General Gomez to discuss whether Captain Boyd should be allowed to pass through the town, stampeded the horses. No details were made known to General Pershing as to whether the Mexican charge was checked.

Official reports from many quarters show that a flame of popular feeling against the United States is being kindled throughout Mexico. Apparently it is being done with the sanction of General Carranza, for the acts in many cases are those of his authorized military or civil agents.

From Juarez to the west coast of Mexico posters have appeared calling the people to arms and asserting that the United States is preparing to hurl its armies into Mexico. Chaotic conditions prevail everywhere, it is said. Clashes such as that between Mexican troops and American bluejackets at Mazatian show that relations are strained to the breaking point.
