How They Bid It.

Public Opinion, of Chambersburg, recently published the folowing form of draft used during the Civil War.

In view of the war agitation that is now prevailing throughout the country, the following "scrap of paper" found by A. C. Hug of East Queen street, in looking over some relics at his home, may prove of interest: it was issued by the commissioner appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania for the County of Franklin and it reads as follows: "You will hereby take notice that you have been drafted into the military service of the United States, and you are ordered to report yourself for duty to the undersigned at Chambersburg on or before the 21st day of October.

"It is further recommended by the War Department that you bring with you a good stout woolen blanket, a tin cup, knife and fork and plate.

"D. K. WUNDERLICH, Commissioner."

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Aitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opind that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. There we propose that your oposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one or the other of the ling methods: 1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunich, by reason of its accumulated information hearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue olailways, is in a posi-tion to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to be additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Gasion to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Casion to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebing, when strength is declin-ing, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tireiness, dreamful aleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. ### A Question For the Public to Decid

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant age preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid aconstituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from ablic tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the s.

The single issue before the country is whether this controvers to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.
