Queer Accident.

A queer accident happened on the Cumberland Valley Railroad one day last week. There was an excursion to Atlantic City, and as the train was nearing Mechanicsburg, Walter Diehl, of Shippensburg, received a severe cut between the eyes by bits of flying glass. Investigation followed and it was found that three passengers from Chambersburg had just emptied a whiskey bottle, throwing the flask out of a window of a car in advance of the one in which Diehl was riding. Pieces of the bottle rebounded, cutting Diehl as stated. The man's wounds were dressed at Harrisburg, the railroad company holding the train for that purpose. Treatment was again given at Atlantic City.

Many Sheep Wanted.

Chairman of Farmers' Institutes, Mr. Frank Ranck, of Bethel township, told a NEWS reporter at the Harvest Home Picnic last Friday that enough farmers in the lower end of the County had applied for the free sheep mentioned by the NEWS to insure a car load—as more than that many have been asked for. Read David A. Nelson's report of his experience with five sheep since last August and you will wonder why so many have quit the sheep business—dogs or no dogs. If you fail to get a consignment of free sheep, buy a few of the same breed offered by the textile manufacturers and be your own "boss."

Wednesday evening of last week the horses were turned out to pasture as usual, and on Thursday morning, the mare was found dead in the field. There is not a mark or clue of any kind to indicate the cause of death. There was no lightning during the night, and as there were no marks on the ground indicating a struggle, it is thought that she died suddenly from some mysterious cause.

The King's Highway.

The Mission Pageant given in the Reformed church last Sunday evening by the Missionary Society of that congregation was greeted by a full house—and then some. After all the standing room had been occupied, many tried to get into the building, but they found it an impossibility. The young people rendered the "King's Highway" in a pleasing manner, illustrating the entrance of the Christian religion into former heathen countries. The silver collection amounted to $19.01.

Miss Minnie E. Mock, a former Fulton County teacher, but now teaching in the Public Schools in Pittsburgh, is spending part of her summer vacation with her home folks in this county.

His Sheep Made Money.

August 10, 1915, David A. Nelson bought five ewes for which he paid a lump sum of $25. This summer, he sold five lambs when they were 4 months old, and the five netted him over $53, he having received $8.75 per hundred pounds for them. He sold 37½ pounds of wool at 37 cents per pound, netting him $12.87, or a total of a little more than $66. He retained one lamb—the best one—so that he now has six sheep in the flock. He not only cleared the original investment of $25, but he has six nice sheep and $41 in bank. The cost to keep the sheep was small. Sheep will pick the best grass if permitted on it, but they will also pick a good living from waste places, eating many weeds that other stock will not touch. We venture the opinion that Mr. Nelson's sheep cost him next to nothing to keep. A little grain last winter was about all the extra.

District Conventions.

The attention of District Sabbath School Presidents and Secretaries of Fulton county is called to the fact that the season is at hand for holding the annual S. S. Conventions. These conventions are necessary for keeping up the County Organization, meeting the County pledges and increasing interest in the work of the schools. September 3rd, September 10th, and September 16th. The attention of all the Schools is called to the need of organizing Teacher Training Classes if we would qualify as a Front Line County in the State organization. Pastors will greatly oblige if they push this matter in conjunction with the Teacher Training Superintendent.
