Dr. F. K. Stevens will be at Needmore September 25th.

Grover Peck, near Knobsville, recently rented the Coldsmith farm, near Williamson, Franklin county, and will remove thereto next spring.

FOR SALE.—Fifteen 20-foot apple pickers' ladders made of best material. A bargain at $2.50 each. C. H. STENGER, McConnellsburg, Pa.

Ladies who shop in Chambersburg will do well to note the advertisements in this paper from that town. Some of the big stores are calling for your attention.

Mrs. H. H. Clevenger left last Saturday to join her husband in their new home near Wilmington, Delaware. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Emma Lodge.

HIDES.—Frank B. Sipes pays the highest market price for beef hides at their butcher shop in McConnellsburg, also highest price paid for calf skins sheepskins and tallow.

The bunch of keys advertised in the News last week was claimed next morning by Jacob Motter of Thomastown, who lost them on the Peach Orchard road. Mail carrier Wilson Fields found them and left them at this office.

Do not forget that after the first entertainment of the Chautauqua on October 3rd, season tickets will be withdrawn and 50 cents admission will be charged to each entertainment. This would make the six admissions cost $3.00. A season ticket costs but $1.25.

The following young people of the County left for Shippensburg State Normal School this week: Dorothy Kirk, Maudie Stevens, Dorothy Hamill, Olive Lodge and Esther Kendall—all of McConnellsburg and Big Cove. Vernon Wink, Olitipa Keebaugh, and Crystabel Lamberson—all of Hustontown, and Katherine Hoop, near Harrisonville.

One speed and noise maniac in a town may call down the wrath of a community in such manner that the enforcement of law injures otherwise innocent people. In the halcyon days of the bicycle, the Cumberland Valley railroad company stopped all riding on their ideal cinder paths because one crank made himself a nuisance to the Company.

The farmers of Franklin county had a big show at Red Bridge recently, in connection with their annual Harvest Home Picnic. Some fine cattle were shown, and much interest was awakened in stock raising. Chambersburg people offered prizes which were eagerly competed for. Again we ask, Why not have the Sloan's woods picnic featured in this manner?

"Fussy," the Misses Dickson's Water Spaniel, is no more. Last Saturday the faithful old companion was trying in his enfeebled condition to take his accustomed trip between his two homes—Will Sloan's and the Dickson home—when an auto caught him on the crossing between the Fulton County Bank and Seylar's corner and broke his back. Mr. Seylar mercifully ended the dog's sufferings with a bullet.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life. If your work is tiring; if your nerves are exhausted; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength. Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Killed Fish.

What is said to have been "furnace water" killed thousands of fish in the Raystown Branch last week. A fish warden investigated and found that people living along the stream and near Everett collected great strings of the stupefied fish, one string having 160 on it. Practically all the little fish were killed as well as the large ones. No wonder our fishermen return from that stream with empty creels. But one under-size fish caught by hook and line would cost a fisherman $10.

Do You

Maintain a polluted well and then complain about the undertaker's bill? Think screening is too expensive and then blame your malaria on the climate? Insist on sanitary cigar factories and then use a public cigar cutter? Carry a fine handkerchief and then forget to cover your mouth when you cough?

New Game Preserve.

There are sixteen game preserves in the state, each of sufficient size to harbor game of all kinds where it may breed and scatter out over other grounds, but it must not be disturbed at any time inside the boundaries of the preserves. A new preserve is about to be established in Potter county. Size, 3,000 acres.
