COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a McConnellsburg Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary troubles, is well enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who had suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of McConnellsburg readers.

F. M. Taylor, civil engineer, Water St., McConnellsburg, says "I suffered from severe pains in my back and loins. I had weak kidneys, the action being irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me great relief. I always take them with me when I go out of town, because if I catch cold, I get a slight attack of the trouble. When this occurs, I can always depend on Doan's Kidney Pills for relief."

ROOSTER WOULD FIGHT ARMY

At Least That is Oregon Man's Opinion of Fowl That Attacked and Disabled Him.

Down on a farm near the Furnish dam there is a rooster that L. A. McClintock, local implement dealer, thinks should be on the fighting front over in Europe or down in Mexico. "The blankety blank would fight an army by himself," he says, and he speaks from a painful experience that put him on the hospital list.

In company with Sam Paine, W. C. E. Pruitt and Elbert Sticker, he went down to the Furnish dam the other day in quest of good fishing. As the anglers were walking through the barnyard at the ranch there a big Buff Cochon rooster strutted out with ruffled feathers. Evidently he was in a belligerent mood as a result of the trespass upon his preserves.

Coming up behind McClintock, he delivered a sturdy peck at the implement man's calf, which was protected by a knee boot. The rooster was not to be denied by any such defense. Walking around in front of McClintock, he leaped into the air and drove his sharp spurs home just above the knee, one on either side, delivering at the same time a stout blow from his beak.

The spurs entered the flesh and struck the tendons of the leg. McClintock had to be helped to an automobile, so effectively had the old rooster crippled him. By the time he reached home his leg was swollen and stiff, and he could not use it for some days.—Pendleton (Ore.) Dispatch to Portland Oregonian.

"Yes."

Auto Wheel Afire.

A touring party from Bedford had a peculiar experience Monday not far from Chambersburg, on the Lincoln Highway. When descending the Tuscarora mountain the break on one of the rear wheels became overheated and set the wheel afire. The trouble was not discovered until all the spokes were badly charred, and practically burned off.

After the blaze had been extinguished the party believed that they could still reach Chambersburg on the damaged wheel. Near the home of S. S. Reisher, the spokes gave way and the machine crashed to the ground. The National automobile company took the machine to Chambersburg and the party continued its journey by rail. The wheel was refilled and Tuesday afternoon the machine started on its homeward journey.

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

That section eight of article nine of the Constitution be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein, and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven per centum of the assessed value of the taxable property therein, but the debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased to such amount that the total city debt of said city shall not exceed ten per centum (10) upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law. The method of determining such amount, so to be deducted, may be prescribed by the General Assembly, in incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may incur its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity, the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of construction or improvement of public works of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city, or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for, and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction, and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work.
