

FOR HAGUE MEETING BEFORE WAR ENDS

World's Court League Considering Calling of Conference.

MIGHT TRY PEACE MAKING

Plan to Organize An International Council - League Would Be Clearing-House Of Peace Movements.

New York. - The world's Court League announced here the inauguration of a movement to organize an international council with a view to calling a third Hague conference...

To constructive statesmen and leading thinkers of all nations invitations will be mailed this week, it was stated, inviting them to accept appointments as members of the board of governors of the proposed international council.

The league, in purposing to establish itself as a clearing house of peace movements, plans to go before the world "not as a sheriff assigned to enforce peace," it was explained, but as a permanent body which would be sustained by public opinion.

The league's announcement was made in connection with making public a new set of principles and program of action adopted at a recent meeting it held in this city.

Under the plans the International Council of Conciliation would be associated with an international court of justice representing all nations. This court, "subject to the limitations of treaties," would be empowered to assume jurisdiction over international questions in dispute that are justifiable in character and that are not settled by negotiation.

The league intends its program to "afford the common ground" upon which all peace workers may meet and co-operate.

GERMANS GIVE UP FORT VAUX

All Ground They Took East of the Meuse Lost.

PORTIONS OF FORT BLOWN UP

German Crown Prince's Army Unable Longer To Hold Positions He Captured Last Spring.

Berlin. - The German Crown Prince's army has evacuated Fort Vaux and has now retired from nearly all the important positions taken along the eastern bank of the Meuse River in this year's campaign.

Fort Vaux was evacuated on the night of November 12, in accordance with pre-arranged plans, according to the German military leaders, who indicate that they considered the sacrifice involved in its retention out of proportion to its value in the present German strategic scheme.

Did Not Justify Losses. Forts Douaumont and Vaux, it was explained, formed such a material element in the defense of Verdun as long as they remained with unimpaired armament in French hands that they had to be put out of action in order to cripple the fortress, and once this was accomplished the ruins of the forts, with the armaments removed, possessed no such importance to the Germans and served chiefly as targets for the French artillery.

Now that Fort Douaumont had passed again into French possession, Fort Vaux no longer, in the opinion of the German leaders, justified the heavy sacrifice necessary to retain the ground about the fort, which is ill-adapted to defense against attacks from the south and west.

The German statement regarding the western front follows: "Western Front: Army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht. In the district north of the Somme artillery activity was renewed locally. An advance of English forces north of Courcellette was easily repulsed.

"French attacks in the sector of Lebaeufs and Rancourt brought small advantages for the enemy northeast of Merval and in the northwest edge of St. Pierre Vaast Wood. They were, however, in general repulsed sanguinously. Our troops, in spite of tenacious French resistance, made advances in the northern part of Sully.

"Army group of the German Crown Prince: An artillery engagement on the right bank of the River Meuse repeatedly increased to great intensity. "The French up to the present have directed an especially heavy and destructive fire against Fort Vaux, which had been evacuated already in the night time by our troops, following a given order and without being disturbed by the enemy.

DEUTSCHLAND BACK TO U. S.

Undersea Merchantman Turns Up at New London, Conn.

PRACTICALLY THE SAME CREW

Cargo Of Dyestuffs and Chemicals. Vessel Had Cleared For 'Baltimore Or Any Atlantic Port.'

New London, Conn. - Ten million dollars' worth of dyestuffs and drugs and, it was said, "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones," comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement by Capt. Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

The Deutschland is in this port, after having succeeded in making a second voyage from a German port to the American coast, despite the watchfulness of British and French war vessels.

Under Capt. Paul Koenig, who was in command during her first trip to Baltimore, the Deutschland left Bremen on October 10. "The submarine entered the lower harbor shortly after midnight, coming in by the Race at the entrance to Long Island Sound. For several weeks the Eastern Forwarding Company, agents for her owners, had a tug each night off Montauk Point ready to meet the Bremen, but the tug was withdrawn some time ago. It was evident that the Forwarding Company had some warning of the Deutschland's arrival, however, for a tug was engaged, and Capt. E. Hirsch of the Company, accompanied by the health officer, steamed out to meet the submarine.

"The North German Lloyd steamer Willehad, which had been at her dock here for several weeks awaiting the arrival of a German submarine freighter, let her searchlight play on the water marking the path by which the Deutschland traveled to her wharf.

Delayed By Collision. Captain Koenig said that he had expected to leave Bremen on October 1, but that his boat was injured in a collision and forced to put back for repairs, which delayed her sailing for 10 days.

The captain and the crew of 25 men were in excellent health and high spirits over the success of their second venture. The Deutschland carried clearance papers for "Baltimore or any Atlantic port."

The boat was no sooner moored than she was screened from sight by a pontoon carrying a high fence. Her crew went on board the Willehad, where quarters were awaiting them.

Since October 10 the Austrians and Germans have captured more than 10,000 Roumanians. The announcement follows: "Army group of Archduke Charles Francis: Quiet prevails on the Transylvanian eastern front. In the southern frontier mountains fighting goes on in spite of heavy fog and snow-storms. North of Campulung, near Boerzeny and north of Orsova the Roumanians attempted in vain to take back heights captured from them.

"Since October 10 General von Falkenhayn's army has captured 151 Roumanian officers, 9,920 men and much war material, including 27 cannon, 47 machine guns and one flag.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The situation in Dobruja is unchanged. Berlin claims the failure of Roumanian efforts to recapture heights north of Campulung where the Austro-German advance had pressed a considerable distance into Roumanian territory southwest of Kronstadt.

Russian troops attacked the German lines near Krasnin, in the Shara district, but met with a sanguinary repulse, according to army headquarters announcement. AMERICANS ARE LOST

Washington, Awaiting Full Particulars, Admits Supposed Act Of German Submarine Has Caused Serious Situation.

London. - The American Embassy received a report from Wesley Frost, American Consul at Queenstown, that the British steamship Marina had been torpedoed without warning.

Only 24 members of the crew of 104 have been picked up and landed at Crookhaven, Ireland. A telegram received at the American consulate from Crookhaven says that a number of Americans were drowned.

In reply to an inquiry from the American Embassy the Admiralty said that there were 49 Americans in the crew of the Marina.

The Admiralty informed the embassy that the Marina was torpedoed, but that it had not been ascertained whether any warning was given. No official information is available whether any Americans were drowned. The Marina, which was outward bound, was torpedoed twice and broke in two. It is reported that men were drowned while attempting to lower boats.

The Admiralty says the Marina was not under Government charter. Mr. Frost is now procuring affidavits from survivors.

A report on the sinking on October 25 of the British steamship Rowanmore also was made to the American Embassy by Mr. Frost, who states that the vessel was torpedoed. Seven Americans, including five Filipinos, were on board the Rowanmore. Several of them have given Mr. Frost affidavits stating that a submarine shelled lifeboats while they were being lowered and after they were clear of the ship without causing loss of life.

Serious, Says Lansing.

Washington. - Preliminary reports of the sinking by German submarines of the British steamers Marina and Rowanmore, partly manned by Americans, are too incomplete to enable officials at the State Department to form an opinion as to whether there had been a violation of neutral rights or of pledges given the United States by Germany. Secretary Lansing declined to comment further than to admit that the reports appeared more serious than the usual routine dispatches announcing the destruction of belligerent merchantment, and that full information would be awaited with interest.

On its face, the case of the Marina, reported by Consul Frost at Queenstown, presents the gravest situation that has arisen since the sinking of the Channel liner Sussex, which brought the American and German Governments to the verge of a break. Although he cautioned that his information was purely "provisional," the Consul cabled that the Marina, a "horse transport with a mixed crew of British and Americans," was reported sunk without warning by German submarine gunfire 100 miles west of Cape Clear, and that 70 of the crew of 104 were missing.
