

WOODROW WILSON THOM. R. MARSHALL

Elected President and Vice-President on the Face of the Latest Returns

PRESIDENT HAS 276 VOTES

New York.—With the certified returns of New Hampshire as having given President Wilson a plurality of 63 and the almost certain conclusion that California's 13 electors are Democrats, the President has, presumably, 276 votes in the Electoral College.

Woodrow Wilson.

New York.—Woodrow Wilson, President, and Thomas R. Marshall, Vice-President, have been chosen for four years more on the face of the latest returns. There was only the barest of possibilities that recounts and possible court contests predicted by unyielding Republicans would change the situation.

Chairman Willcox announced that he would not be on hand again except for conferences.

The Democratic National Committee apparently regards the campaign as closed.

Chairman Willcox, following a conference of the campaign managers, refused to concede the election of President Wilson.

In a formal statement he declared that the result still depends on the vote of close States, and that the returns from these were so far unofficial and might be changed by the official count.

Returns continued to filter in from States which had been close, but they made no change in the figures which gave President Wilson 276 electoral votes and Mr. Hughes 243.

Fifty hours after the polls closed in California Republican Chairman Rowell conceded the State to the President.

Democratic Chairman Willcox, when informed that the President had carried California, only replied: "I have nothing to say."

THE DECIDING STATE.

Barring some wholly unexpected turnover in the incomplete States leaning toward Wilson, or a change on a recount, California's acquisition to the Democratic column gave the President 272 electoral votes.

RECOUNTS TO BE DEMANDED.

Chairman Willcox included California, New Mexico, North Dakota, New Hampshire and Minnesota in his list of States where recounts undoubtedly would be demanded.

Democratic headquarters was not behind the Republicans in preparing for legal developments.

Thomas R. Marshall.

CASES OF THREE OR FOUR SHIPS ADMITTED TO LOOK SERIOUS.

Washington.—Secretary Lansing authorized the statement that while Vice-Consul Westcott at London had transmitted a Lloyd's dispatch saying the British liner Arabia had been torpedoed without warning, no details of the case had been received in official dispatches.

RUSSIA IS A LARGE PRODUCER OF ASBESTOS.

So far as can be learned no reply has been received to the request that Germany furnish information concerning the sinking of the British steamer Marina, on which six American horse-tenders lost their lives.

HUGHES GETS STATE BY BIG LEAD

Snyder and Kephart Chosen Auditor General and State Treasurer

KNOX AN EASY VICTOR

Harrisburg.—Pennsylvania rolled up an old-time Republican majority when Charles E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President, carried the State by a plurality not below 200,000, according to best estimates.

Philander C. Knox was elected United States Senator by a vote approximating that given to Mr. Hughes, and the four Republican nominees for Congressmen-at-large were returned winners by heavy pluralities.

In the district contests for Congress the Republicans have at least held their own. They retain thirty of the thirty-six seats in the delegation.

The heavy vote for the heads of the ticket carried along Charles A. Snyder and Harmon M. Kephart, Republican nominees for Auditor General and State Treasurer, respectively, and Snyder has been re-elected to the State Senate from Schuylkill County, Texas.

Both branches of the State Legislature will be strongly Republican, as many of the 25 Senators elected from the old numbered districts were Republicans seeking reelection.

Wide interest was taken in the non-partisan contest for Supreme Court Justice, in which Justice Emory A. Walling, of Erie, was opposed by Charles Palmer, of Delaware.

STATE SENATORS ELECTED.

The following State Senators were elected: First District—Edwin H. Vore, R. Third—James P. McNichol, R. Fifth—David Martin, R. Sixth—George P. Darrow, R. Seventh—A. F. Daix, Jr., R. Eighth—Henry W. Texas—James E. Ferguson, Democrat. Utah—Simon Bamberger, Democrat. Vermont—Horace F. Graham, Republican.

NO DETAILS ABOUT ARABIA.

Lancaster county has anchored again in the Republican column with a majority of fully 12,000, and Congressman W. W. Grist goes through with the same majority. The Republicans make a clean sweep of the county, and in Lancaster carry every ward but the Eighth, the old Democratic stronghold, which gives Wilson a small majority.

John G. Homsher is re-elected State Senator in the Thirteenth district, Southern Lancaster county, and Colonel Horace L. Haldeman is elected in the Seventeenth Senatorial district. The Representatives elected are A. B. Hess, George Hishman, M. R. Hoffman, Quinlan O. Reitzel and Harry Rhoads.

It will be 50 per cent. greater than in 1915, and double that of 1914.

WILSON URGES ALL TO PULL TOGETHER

President's First Speeches Since the Election.

NO PARTISAN FEELING NOW

President Serves As One Of the God-fathers For Mrs. Sayre's Baby and Makes An Address To the Students of Williams College.

Williamstown, Mass.—"Now that the campaign is over we may all address ourselves to the welfare of the nation without thought of partisan feeling," declared President Wilson in his first public speech since the national election, delivered before a delegation of Williamstown residents and Williams College students.

The President was welcomed by the students and townspeople after the christening of Eleanor Axson Sayre, the second child of his daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, and for whom he stood as godfather.

Students Cheer Him. Soon after his arrival at the home of his son-in-law, assistant to the president of Williams College, the delegation, headed by President H. A. Garfield, of the college, marched to the Sayre home. The President spoke from the porch of the house and was cheered enthusiastically by the students.

"I came here to forget the field of politics and for a brief rest. I came simply to visit my daughter and to attend a simple ceremony here today," he said. "Now that the campaign is over we may all address ourselves to the welfare of the nation without thought of partisan feeling."

The President referred to his service as chief executive of Princeton University, saying he knew from experience there was politics even in the running of a college.

Politics As a Means. "Politics," he continued, "is after all a means of getting something done, of putting forward ideas. It is a fight, but the man who does not love the fight has no red blood in his veins."

Mr. Wilson told a story of a man having a vision in which he was offered a horn and a sword and chose the horn. Immediately the vision vanished and the man was cursed for taking the horn before the sword. He told the story to illustrate the necessity for fighting.

URGES UNITED SERVICE.

A second speech was delivered by the President at night before several thousand persons who came from nearby towns to congratulate him on his reelection. He said: "I want to say that now the campaign is over we must think of one thing, and that is not of parties, but of the interest of the great country we all love. Let us forget all our differences and unite for common service. Only in that way can we work for the great nation that has given us liberty and peace."

JAPAN YIELDS TO U. S.

Will Not Try To Hold the Islands in South Sea. Tokio.—Japan has agreed not to make a part of her peace conference demands the right to hold permanently the South Sea islands which were wrested from Germany at the outbreak of the war. Several of these islands which belong to the Caroline and Marianne groups lie not far from the American island of Guam, the American terminus of the Pacific cable.

It is understood the United States has informally expressed a desire that these islands should not become the permanent property of the Japanese Empire.

Inasmuch as they were captured through the joint operations of the British and Japanese fleets it is understood the United States first took up the question with Great Britain and that a joint suggestion was made by Great Britain and the United States that Japan should not insist upon the permanent maintenance of the islands.

In view of Japan's promise to accede to the joint request it is believed likely that Japan at the peace conference will seek compensation in some other direction, perhaps in the affirmation of her rights in the Chinese peninsula of Shantung, of which Kiau Chau is the great naval base.

The islands in question are now administered by the Japanese Government.
