Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

This back has many farmer patrons. Farmers are conducting their business along modern lines these days, the same as other business men. They are the solid, reliable men of the community and every bank has reason to feel proud of its farmer friends. The accemmodations of our bank are always at the disposal of the farmers. You are invited to make our bank your headquarters when in town. Our interests are mutual, and we will be glad to serve.
