enpacity. Instead of the farmer producer producing, he has become a consumer, making the strain upon those who have been left to do the farming a very diffcult one. There may be agitation as to the high cost of living, and doubtless there is reason for it in many cases. The middleman may boost the prices, combines may organize to elevate the cost, but one cannot get away from the fact that the demand regulates the supply, and the supply regulates the price. The price of wheat-in fact, all grains-as well as cattle, will remain high for some time, and the low prices that have prevailed will not come again for some time.

After the war the demand for cattle, not alone for beef, but for stock purposes, to replenish the exhausted herds tests of Europe, will be keen. Farm educators and advisers are telling you to prepare for this emergency. How much better it can be done on the low-priced lands of today, on lands that cost from ten to twenty dollars per acre, than it can on two and three hundred-dollaran-acre land. The lands of Western Canada meet all the requirements. They are productive in every sense of the word. The best of grasses can be grown with abundant yields and the grain can be produced from these soils that beats the world, and the same may be said of cattle and horses. The climate is all that is required.

TEXT-And beside this, giving all dili-gence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godiness; and to godiness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.-II Peter 1:5-7.

seems to be out of harmony with the gospel of salvation by grace, yet our text appears to favor it.

It will clear up matters considerably to note the change of translation in the Revised Version which instead of saying, "add to your faith," reads, "in your faith supply virtue," etc. In other words, faith is the root from which all these graces blossom forth. They are not entities to be added but flowers which will bloom if we care for the root of faith. We shall notice these graces in order.

First comes "virtue." The root idea of this word in both Greek and English is manliness, vigor, firmness, strength of will. The thought is embodied in a hymn Mr. Sankey used to sing with great effect.

Dare to be a Daniel! Dare to stand alone! Dare to have a purpose true-Dare to make it known!

Such firmness is the fruit of faith. Men who have tried other cures for ensiaving habits, but in vain, have found help here.

After virtue comes "knowledge." How appropriate that this should follow virtue, for no man is more dangerous than he who has a strong will but is not instructed in the use of it. He is related to the mule rather than to the ideal man. But the new spirit which comes through faith in Christ brings light as to our duties and the word of God is found a lamp to our feet. (The knowledge referred to here is practical rather than speculative; we may not be told the dimensions of heaven, but the way to get there is made plain.)

"Temperance," or self-control, comes next. What a commentary on our national sin that the word suggests abstinence from drink! But its meaning must be conducted on the same omniis much broader, for our judgments, artisan lines. our tastes, our speech must be controlled, (Here is found one of the secrets of greatness of character; great hearts of the busy toilers are cheered and upheld by the enthusiasm such an men impress us by their reserve, while effort creates. #### CHALLENGE OF A BIG TASK.

A few paragraphs from the address of Miss Anna A. Gordon, president National W. C. T. U., at Indianapolis, Ind., November 17, 1916:

"Exultant praise fills our hearts as we neet in our forty-third annual convention. These are glorious fruition days. indorsers, lately said, "There will be a new wind blowing through England when this war is done.' This same prohibition wind has blown the liquor traffic out of nine of Canada's ten provinces, from far northern Newfoundland, from the vast areas of Russia and its near neighbor Roumania; it is whistling over the banks and bracs of bonnie Scotland; it is driving before it the liquor makers and liquor sellers of sunny France; it is felt in the restriction of the traffic in Germany, Italy and other European countries. It bids fair to reach the proportions of a prohibition cyclone that in the present generation shall drive the commercialized drink evil from the entire world. "Many members of the W. C. T. U.

who at the recent general election were 'first voters' cast their ballots for the presidential candidate on the prohibition party ticket. Yet as an organization we are not partisan. We rejoice that one of the chief citizens of our hostess city, ex-Gov. J. Frank Hanly, presidential condidate on the Prohibition party ticket, received 350,-000 votes. We thank Mr. Hanly and Doctor Landrith for their intense campaign to help focus the attention of our nation on the paramount question of prohibition for our republic. We also heartily thank the voters of all parties who at the ballot box in state or national elections registered their convictions in favor of a prohibitory lnw and its strict enforcement. We are all one in a supreme effort to secure a federal amendment for prohibition. State-wide prohibition victories have been secured only when people of all political faiths have united. This is looked for in Western Canada, where lands are decidedly cheap today, and those who are fortunate enough to secure now will realize wonderfully by means of such an investment. The land that the Dominion Government is giving away as free homesteads in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are of a high class; they are abundant in every constituent that goes to make the most productive soils. The yields of wheat, onts and barley that have been grown on these lands gives the best evidence of their productiveness, and when backed up by the experience of the thousands of settlers from the United States who have worked them and become wealthy upon them, little more should be required to convince those who are seeking a home, even with limited means, that nowhere can they secure anything that will better equip them to become one of the army of industry to assist In taking care of the problem of feeding the world. These lands are free; but to those who desire larger holdings than 160 acres there are the railroad companies and land corporations from whom purchase can be made at reasonable prices, and information can be secured from the Canadian government agent, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in this paper .--- Advertisement.
