NOTABLES TESTIFYING IN "LEAK" CASE

The central portion of this picture shows Thomas W. Lawson, seated at the table, testifying before the house committee on rules, on the "leak" of the president's peace message. The insert on the right shows Secretary Tumulty testifying, and the panel on the left shows Secretary of State Lansing as he appeared before the committee.

HOLLAND'S ARMY EQUIPPED WITH MOST MODERN APPLIANCES

A Dutch soldier wearing gas mask and steel helmet, which are part of his equipment now. The trooper is ready for action. As the most modern inventions prove their usefulness in actual warfare, the Dutch equip their army with them. They are ready for any eventualities.

WAR'S DEVASTATION IN NORTH FRANCE

British official photograph taken on the western front, showing a road flanked by ghastly stumps and shattered remains of what were once trees. The fields on all sides are covered with heaps and mounds of wrecked houses, torn fences, and debris of all sorts.

AT GATEWAY TO NEW HOME

The most interesting travelers among the 965 who arrived on the liner Nieuwe Amsterdam recently were the Belgian children sent to this country by Father John de Ville. They will make their homes with relatives or friends in the middle West. They wore the warm clothes sent down the bay to the steamship for them by the American Red Cross, and tugged along bundles of the thin and worn apparel in which they crossed the ocean.

THEIR LAST TRENCH

German dead found in a captured trench at Wagram. The mutilated and mangled bodies were strewn over the bottom of the trench, a horrible sight. Note the mucky, raked-over appearance of the trench, shattered by innumerable shells. This photograph should be vivid enough to describe the real horrors of war and enough to make the movements for peace increase more rapidly. The man in the foreground has fallen into a sleeping posture—the sleep from which none waken.

Loss of British Shipping.
The Liverpool Journal of Commerce points out that British mercantile marine has suffered a loss equivalent to 4,000,000 tons of shipping, as follows: War losses, 1,520,000; hindrance of new construction, 1,700,000; excessive depreciation, 1,000,000 tons. The paper charges waste in British shipbuilding yards and asserts that increasing amount of red tape is seriously hampering ship construction. It advocates appointment of a shipping dictator.

Fortune's Favorite.
"Don't tell me that luck doesn't play a big part in the acquisition of wealth."
"I guess that's so."
"Of course it is. Look at the fellows who happen to own jitney buses in a town where there is a street-car strike."

GRAVES OF BRITISH ON WESTERN FRONT

This British official photograph taken on the western front shows graves that may be found all along the western front of British soldiers killed in action. Each cross has the name and address of the soldier, with the words "Killed in action," and the address.

WHAT ZEPPELIN DID IN BUCHAREST

"BIG BERTHA" SHELL DIDN'T EXPLODE

A huge shell fired by one of the German "Big Berthas," which indeed unexploded in a trench on the Somme front. Had the shell exploded the two soldiers would be a mangled mass and the ground would look as if shaken by an earthquake.

QUESTIONING A SPY SUSPECT

A Galician peasant suspected of being a Russian spy being closely questioned by German officers in Poland.

MRS. ROBERT N. HARPER

Mrs. Robert N. Harper, wife of the chairman of the inaugural committee, will be at the head of the many social activities of the inauguration. At the inaugural ball accompanying former inaugurations the wife of the chairman received with the first lady of the land, but President Wilson has abolished the ball. The occasion this year will be more political than social.

LAST OF GREAT SCOUTS

Last picture of William F. Cody "Buffalo Bill," who died recently in Denver.

OPPORTUNITIES THAT ARE MISSED

Why Wait? Why Not Go to Western Canada Now?

The writer has frequently heard the remark that "after the war we will go to Western Canada." It does not occur to those making the remark that if they wish to secure lands in Western Canada, whether by homestead or purchase, the best time to go is now. After the war the welcome will be just as hearty as ever, but the chances are that land values will increase and today homesteads are plentiful and land is reasonable in price. There is no question about what the land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will do, what it will give under proper cultivation.

Farmers in Western Canada are paying for their land holdings with the proceeds of last year's crop. That this is no idle statement may be gleaned from the three following items, which are picked out at random:

"In the spring of 1916 a half-section of land was offered for sale at $17.00 per acre. There were 105 acres of summer-fallow, which because the owner could not at the time find a buyer, were seeded to wheat. A yield of 40 bushels per acre, 4,200 bushels all told, grading No. 1, was obtained. The price the day the grain was sold (which was very early in the season, before grain prices advanced to round about $2.00) was $1.00, which brought the handsome total of $6,720.00. Three hundred and twenty acres at $17.00 equals $5,440.00, so that a buyer, by placing less than half of the whole under crop, would have made a profit of $1,280.00."—Robson Messenger, Robson, Sask.

"That the Indiana Boys' farm this year raised sufficient crop to pay for the land, all the machinery and all overhead expenses as well as make a handsome profit, is the information given by N. B. Davis, the manager. The wheat yield was over 22,000 bushels. Of twelve cars already sold, nine graded No. 1, and Mr. Davis has sold over 2,000 bushels locally for seed at $2.00. Naturally, when he gets to Indiana he will be a big booster for Alberta."—Bassano Mail, Bassano, Alta.

"Oscar Castalar, who bought land at Blusson after the crop had been put in last spring, for $3,800.00, has threshed 3,900 bushels of wheat, which is worth at present prices about $7,500.00. He refused an offer of $5,000.00 for the land after the crop had been taken off."—Lethbridge Herald, Lethbridge, Alta.

Reports from the wheat fields are highly encouraging and show that the wheat crop of many farmers in Western Canada was highly satisfactory.

Coblenz, Sask.—W. A. Rose has threshed an average of 33 bushels per acre and 83 bushels of oats.

Gleichen, Alberta.—Up to date 237,312 bushels of grain have been received by local elevators, of which nearly 180,000 bushels were wheat. Seventy-one cars of grain have already been shipped.

Stoop Creek, Sask.—James McRae has threshed 5,400 bushels of grain, 2,000 bushels of which were wheat, grading No. 1 Northern. One field averaged 44 bushels per acre, and a large field of oats averaged 83 bushels.

If information as to the best location is required, it will be gladly furnished by any Canadian Government Agent, whose advertisement appears elsewhere.—Advertisement.

Obviously, "Smithers dressed up that story he told."
"I suppose that is why he took it to a swallow-tale party."

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

No Hope. "You are not foolish enough, are you, to think you can drown your sorrows in drink?"
"Of course not. My wife can swim."
