Travelers through Alberta's wheat belt have had revealed to them scenes of agricultural productiveness unapproached in any other part of the world. ### REVERENCE OF JESUS FOR HIS FOLLOWERS' HOUSE.

LESSON TEXT-John 2:13-22. GOLDEN TEXT-My house shall be called a house of prayer .- Matt. 21:13.

Skipping the details of genealogy, birth and boyhood, John plunges into the work and ministry of our Lord. Our previous lessons have taken up the matter of his eternal Godhead, the word made flesh, the witness of John, Jesus and John the Baptist, his first disciples and the wedding at Cannan. Some of these events have been skipped over without much consideration, yet the teacher should review them briefly. The wedding at Canaan probably occurred in March, A. D. 27, and the events of this lesson in April of the Passover week of that year, both events occurring early in the first year solitary redeeming quality." of the ministry of our Lord. to take care of the crop in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. One of the problems which Western Canada has to face every year is the securing of an adequate supply of labor to handle the harvesting and threshing of its big crops. This probem, indeed, is always present in any country that has a big agricultural proluction; in the case of Western Canada it is enhanced by the comparative sparsity of population and the long distance from industrial districts, which can be expected to offer a surplus of labor. In Western Canada the present difficultles are increased by the war. A very large number of Western Canada's small population have enlisted for serv-Ice with the Canadian forces in Europe, and at the present time there is generally speaking no surplus of labor for the ordinary channels of industry, to say nothing of the abnormal demands of harvest time. The situation, however, has to some extent been met by the action of the Canadian militia department, who have released all such men who are still in training in the western military camps and who desire to engage in harvest work for a period of generally one month. The actual number of men engaged in 1916 in harvest work was between forty and fifty thousand. Wages were ligher than usual, running from $2.50 to $4.00 a day with board, and from $35 to $60 a month.-Advertisement.

Paul says, "Know ye not that knew they were in the wrong. He emthey which run in a race run all, but bodled in himself, as prophet, the one receiveth the prize?" In other moral sentiment of the nation, and exwords, all Christians are running in erted his authority. It looked like high-this race, but all will not win the prize. That does not mean that all real Christians are not saved or that all such will not go to heaven. But it means that it is one thing to be saved and go to heaven and another thing to get the prize Paul talks about. Just what that prize is he touches on a little later, but here he simply says, "So run, that ye may obtain.' Is not that what we want to do? Do we not want to run successfully? Do we not want to obtain all that God has so lovingly promised us in his Son? How may we do it? Here is a hint. 'And every man which striveth for the mastery," says Paul, "is temperate in all things." You know how it is if you want to be a good all-round athlete. You must take good care of yourself. You must eat the right kind of food, and sleep well, and exercise regularly and practice hard, and all that kind of thing. You cannot afford to be careless in anything if you would win the prize. And so it is in the Christian race. To be "temperate in all things" means that as Christians we must keep a watch upon ourselves.

We must guard our eyes, and ears, and tongue, and hands, and feet and all our thoughts from sin. We must seek every day to do the will of God in all things. And that means that we must read his Holy Word and ask him to help us understand it by his Holy Spirit, so that we may know his will and love to do it, just as Jesus did. And this is worth while, for Paul says: "They do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible."

The winner in the Grecian game felt it reward enough if he had a crown of laurel placed on his head in the presence of the applauding throng. Such a crown would soon wither away, however, but not so the crown which God gives to the victorious soul. That is an incorruptible crown, there is no de cay in it and it lasts forever.

What is the nature of that crown? It is hard to express it in human language. Paul was once caught up into Paradise, he tells us, "and heard unspeakable words which it is not possible for man to utter." And this illustrates why we cannot understand much that we accept by faith of "the things God hath prepared for them that love him." They are impossible to utter.

Some folks like to say that Mr. Booze Business is a sort of indirect tax collector for Uncle Sam & Co. He is, and he makes money at it, too. For every $1,000 in "Indirect" taxes which he turns into the treasury of the national firm, he also collects another $5,250, which he keeps for his trouble, probably as a commission or reward for his services. You know the kind of people who charge 86 per cent of the gross amount of their collections for a commission. Do you want that kind of a collector in your employ?
