The Quietness of God

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace.—I Cor. 14:33.

Within the last two and a half years, many have had their faith shaken in the teachings of the Christian religion generally, and some have had their faith in God shaken. They ask insistently, "Is the God that we were taught to believe in, what we were taught? If there is a God, is he not just what other men are—swayed and controlled by what is transpiring in the world, or the universe, and governing his words thereby?"

A distinguished Christian nobleman of England has recently written a book entitled "The Silence of God," and after discussing the proposition, whether God, who is holy, infinitely powerful and unchangeable, can permit the present world-wide care to exist or not, he comes to the conclusion that God is the same as he was yesterday, and will be the same God forevermore.

Our topic is "The Quietness, or the Tranquillity of God." Is that justified? Is he just as quiet in the tribulations of the nations of the earth as he was when peace ruled supreme? We strongly believe so. Our text says, "God is not the God of confusion, but of peace;" that is, he is an orderly God. His character is brought into contrast with the turbulent religious assemblies of emotional orientals. Never for a moment does God become excited, lose his head, or act hastily, or under passionate impulse. When David came to his best self, he saw that the steadfastness of Zion was secured by the fact that God dwelt in her, and therefore she could not be moved. That was what steadied Martin Luther and Melancthon in the stormy days of the Reformation, as they sang, "God is Our Refuge and Strength," especially as they heard God speaking to their very souls, "Be still, and know that I am God."

A Vivid Contrast.

In the second Psalm, the raging nations are brought into vivid contrast with the quiet of God. God is sitting on the circle of the heavens and laughing, as though utterly indifferent, unconcerned by the earthly commotion. At one of the crucial moments in our national history, when the beloved Lincoln was stricken down, James A. Garfield, then a congressman, spoke in New York as to the dire event, and said: "The Lord reigneth; he is clothed with majesty, the government at Washington still lives."

This quiet of God is based on his infinite character. Nothing is more needed in these trying days of the shaking of nations, than the thought that God is sovereign, that he has majesty, is infinite in his power, holiness, goodness and truth; before him the nations are but as the small dust of the balance; he sets up kings and casts them down. The pariahs of Egypt, Nebuchadnezzar the Great, Cyrus the Persian, were but individual pawns in the hands of the Great Player, and precisely so is it today. Emperors and kings and presidents are but instruments in God's hands, for accomplishing the purposes formed in eternity, and working out with the utmost precision. While absolutely speaking, it is impossible to divorce thought from the claims of the Son of God as the Saviour of the world, in this day possibly it is well to let the thought come to the God of the Israelites now, the one God beside whom there is no other. In the beginning God; now God.

Can Man Attain This Quality?

Can this characteristic quality of God be transmitted to men? Can man be tranquil and quiet in the midst of human commotion, contention and battle? The days in which we are living are described by the Lord as those in which "men's hearts shall be falling from fear and looking for those things which are coming on the earth." Three years ago, men were predicting the entering in of the day of universal brotherhood, of amity, of altruism, and as a consequence material prosperity, the wise diffusion of wealth and realizing millennial conditions, but now they are so overwhelmed with the facts that stare them in the face, that they are in consternation and confusion and fall into rage when asked to think about these things.

It is natural that the children of God should partake of his nature; consequently they may be quiet, if the link of faith is strong. Is it not true that God will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on him? The voice of wisdom is the voice of God; and wisdom says, "Whoso harkens unto me shall dwell safely and shall be quiet from fear of evil."

Many of the children of God have testified to this quiet that comes from believing in his Word. The patient going to the operating table, or the soldier going into the battle, or the merchant seeing his property all being swept away from him, can remember that God is his friend and be quiet. The early Christians as they were thrown into the arena to be torn into pieces by the lions were quiet, and sang together to the honor of their Lord.

Today God is not excited. The wrath of the world is not confusing him, and he is just as really interested in the fall of the sparrow as he is in the adjusting of relationships of empires, kingdoms and republics. Be this my joy that evermore Thou rulest all things at thy will, Thy sovereign wisdom, Thy Adore And calmly, sweetly, thus shall.

PAINS SHARP AND STABBING

Woman Thought She Would Die. Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ogdensburg, Wis.—"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. ERRA DORON, Ogdensburg, Wis. Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

LESSON FOR APRIL 8

JESUS RAISED LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD—EASTER LESSON.

LESSON TEXT—John 11:37-47, 48, 49. (Read 17 to 40.)
GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life.—John 11:25.

This lesson occurred about two months before the crucifixion, Jesus being in Bethabara at the time of this call (See John 10:40; 1:28). There are four recorded cases of resurrection from the dead: Jairus' daughter (Matt. 9), the son of the widow of Nain (Luke 7), Lazarus, and also Jesus after his crucifixion (John 20).

I. The Lesson of Unbelief. Bethany, the home of Lazarus, is on the southeastern slope of Mt. Olivet, two miles from Jerusalem. Christ and his disciples were on the east side of the Jordan, having been driven there by the hostility of the Jews (John 10:31). He purposely delays his stay in that place that this event might give an opportunity for the manifestation of his wonder-working power. This delay was in face of his supernatural knowledge that Lazarus' sickness had been fatal, for he said plainly to his disciples, "Lazarus is dead." Philosophers have often called death a sleep, but always one from which there was no awakening; hence the skepticism of these sisters is not surprising. (1) They limited the power of Jesus to a certain place, "If thou hadst been here" (v. 21). (2) They also limited his power to a certain time, "at the last day" (v. 24), and (4) they limited his power to natural law. "He stinketh" (v. 39); therefore his power could not be exercised.

II. The Lesson of Pain. The suffering of these sisters produced sacrifice and self-devotion. Suffering brings blessing to others. It is also a means of self-culture. Suffering drives us to the Christ, and reveals to us the unrealized side of Christ's character (v. 25). Jesus is often never more kind than when he seems to be least kind. In the midst of her skepticism and pain Jesus gave Martha a new and glorious thought about the resurrection. "I am the resurrection and the life." If we desire that, all we have to do is to get Jesus himself (I John 5:12). Resurrection has to do with the body, and life has to do with the spirit (John 17:3). All will ultimately experience resurrection, but only those who believe on him receive life (John 3:36). There is a resurrection of life and there is a resurrection of damnation (John 5:29). Martha answered, "Yea, Lord, I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God." It is all-important that we should really believe that (John 20:31; I John 5:1-5).

III. The Lesson of Love. Love always manifests itself in deeds. Martha secretly and quickly arose and left the waiting friends to go and meet the waiting Master. "The Master is come." He still comes, and calls to us, and, if, like Martha, we spring up gladly to meet him, he will fill our lives with blessing and joy. Jesus came to these sisters individually (vv. 21, 28). He had entered the danger zone in order to be there (v. 8), and it was Thomas, the doubter, who wanted to accompany him (v. 16). "Jesus wept," not with the weeping of professional mourners, but with the silent, grief-stricken sobs. The sight of their sorrow troubles him (v. 23), the evidence of his love was communicated to the Jews (v. 36), but his grief was not over the death of his loved friend, but over the unbelief of those with whom he was dealing (vv. 37, 38).

IV. The Lesson of Power. Jesus had let natural causes work to their fullest extent. Coming to the tomb, Jesus said (v. 39), "Take ye away the stone." It was four days after the death of Lazarus before he came forth. Jesus was soon to die and rise in three days after his entombment. The stone had to be removed from the tomb of Lazarus; it rolled itself away from the tomb of Christ. The restrictions which Christ placed upon his exercise of power, viz., that he allowed Lazarus to die, to be buried, and his body to reach the point of putrefaction, and not to come forth until Jesus himself, in his body, was present at the tomb, emphasizes the lesson of the restraint of power for the glory of God. Out of such "strange circumstances of seeming impossibility" God manifested his glory (Rom. 8:35). John Bunyan, writing "Pilgrim's Progress" in Bedford jail, is a modern illustration of the use of privation and discouragement to the glory of God. Notice, also, that in the exercise of his power Jesus uses human agencies (v. 41, 44). God has the ability but we have responsibility, e. g., we are to respond according to our ability, and he gives enabling power. Jesus knew that his prayer on behalf of his friend had been answered before it was uttered (v. 42), and his friend at once recognizes his voice (v. 44). This record is a plain, calm, unadorned statement of a wonderful fact. It bears upon its face the marks of its genuineness. Those present saw the glory of God (v. 40). In his shroud, Lazarus came forth, the death bandages still clinging to hand and foot. Not a word is said about his experience in the grave, nor do we have any authentic record regarding his subsequent life.

Browning has given us a wonderfully imaginative picture of his renewed life on earth:
And oft the man's soul springs into his face
As if he saw again and heard again
His sage that bade him rise,
And he did rise.
The effect of the miracle was two fold. Many who were present believed on Jesus, others did not.

Children Often Suffer From Bladder Weakness

Some six months ago my daughter began taking Swamp-Root. She is a child twelve years of age. Ever since infancy she has been suffering with bladder weakness. I cannot say just all that it has cost us in the purchase of various remedies, none of which seemed to do her much good; as a last resort I was induced to try Swamp-Root. I feel so well pleased with the results obtained that I want every mother to know that Swamp-Root can be relied upon to cure weakness of the kidneys and bladder in cases of this kind. Yours very truly,

A Blow From the Bench.

"Your honor," informed the policeman as he pointed to the prisoner, "he refused to rise while the band played the 'Star-Spangled Banner.'"

"I did not recognize the tune," explained the culprit hastily.

"Now, my dear man," said the judge sympathetically, "let me whistle it for you, so that hereafter you may distinguish it."

The judge whistled the melody and the prisoner listened intently. When his honor had finished the defendant exclaimed generously:

"Your honor, if the band had played the tune as you whistled it, I would not be here today."

"Discharged!" interrupted the well-pleased judge.

"But the band would," concluded the man in an undertone as he hastily retired from the courtroom.—Christian Herald.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER

Few persons can be sick who use Green's August Flower. It has been used for all ailments that are caused by a disordered stomach and inactive liver, such as sick headache, constipation, sour stomach, nervous indigestion, fermentation of food, palpitation of the heart from gases created in the stomach, pains in the stomach, and many other organic disturbances.

August Flower is a gentle laxative, regulates digestion, both in the stomach and intestines, cleans and sweetens the stomach and whole alimentary canal, and stimulates the liver to secrete the bile and impurities from the blood. Try it. Two doses will relieve you. Used for fifty years in every town and hamlet in the United States and in all civilized countries.—Adv.

To Prevent Old Age Coming Too Soon!

"Toxic poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Anuric," says the world-famed Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Anuric (double strength) from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it many times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.

Canada Offers 160 Acres Free to Farm Hands

Bonus of Western Canada Land to Men Assisting in Maintaining Needed Grain Production

The demand for farm labor in Canada is great. As an inducement to secure the necessary help at once, Canada will give ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY ACRES OF LAND FREE AS A HOMESTEAD and allow the time of the farm laborer, who has filed on the land, to apply as residence duties, the same as if he actually had lived on it. This special concession is the reduction of one year in the time to complete duties. Two years' residence instead of three as heretofore, but only to men working on the farms for at least six months in 1917. This appeal for farm help is in no way connected with enlistment for military service but solely to increase agricultural output. A wonderful opportunity to secure a farm and draw good wages at the same time. Canadian Government will pay all fare over one cent per mile from St. Paul or Duluth to Canadian destination.
